PROCLAMATION

His Honor the Lieut. Governor, respectfully requests that Sunday, the 23rd day of May, inst., be observed as Patriotic Sunday throughout the province, and that on that day the clergymen of the several churches and others in sermons and addresses impress on their hearers the necessity of further assisting the Motherland in the great struggle in which she is engaged for a better civilization by joining those who have already enlisted and are now so gallantly fighting the battles of the Empire.

WILLIAM CRUIKSHANK,
Prov. Secty., Fredericton, N. B.

BEATEN BY HIS WRONG DOING.

Sir Rodmond Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, for the past fifteen years, does not retire from the citadel of power with the honours of war. He retires, with his callet, a beaten man, beaten by his own wrong doing. For years the Roblin Government has been charged with misuse of official power; but by election methods, applied by a now member of the Borden cabinet, who "knows how to win elections," the Conservative Provincial Government has, on appeal to the country, been sustained, the last time by a narrow majority of seven. That this government, under the inspiration of Hon. Robert Rogers, has been corrupt, is proven by the fact, that it has at last collapsed under its own rottenness, the deciding factor in the resignation of the government being a Royal Commission to investigate a dishonest diversion of nearly 900 thousand dollars in the erection of new parliament buildings. Pressure brought by the Lieut. Governor caused the appointment of a Royal Commission to inquire into charges made by Mr. A. B. Hudson, one of the Liberal members for Winnipeg. Attempts were made by the government to have the courts prevent the commission from proceeding. They were, however, futile; the investigation went on; and in desperate fear of the damning nature of the revelations, the government has resigned. If this resignation does not end the work of the commission, the Roblin Government and the Conservative heeler, evidently expect that they will stand a better chance in the hands of a pliable electorate, than in the hands of a Royal Commission.

A CLEAN TOWN.

A lot of work and good work was the result of clean-up day. The appearance of the town shows that the scheme was an unqualified success. It was work well worth while, but obviously its results will not remain indefinitely. There should be a similar campaign every year, perhaps semi-annually, and in the intervals, an awakened public interest in the creditable appearance of the town ought to result in better efforts for a regular disposal of constantly accumulating rubbish.

People take clean-up week, or day, as a sort of game, and they plunge into it with enthusiasm in some places and get notable results. Of course it occurs to everybody that an easier way out would be to have every individual make every week a clean-up week, thereby improving the appearance of the town and making less work to be done in a mass at the end of some given time. Picking up and cleaning up a little is vastly easier than getting rid of the accumulation of a year at one full swoop. But some people will not follow that plan, and the next best thing is the clean-up day, which has now become a recognized institution in many places, and will be adopted in many others.

It has proven a success in Woodstock.

THE REALIZATION.

We are now beginning to realize that mothers, wives and sweethearts are paying the price of patriotism; although only with tears, and not with life and limb.

We all join in heart-deep sympathy—the only comfort we can give—with the bereaved who are paying a price, which none but those directly stricken can know. We can only sorrow with them and with this sorrow, not as those without hope, if we have regard to the verities of the Christian religion, the only true source of comfort.

With the bravery shown by our friends in action; with the heroic stand they made against great odds, it seems to be inevitable that the mortal casualties should be greater than we have yet heard of. All we can do is to hope and resolutely brave ourselves for what may come. We enlisted in this great fight in deadly earnest, and it cannot be expected that Canadians, fighting the good fight, should be immune from the fatalities that being in the thick of the fight—and holding the fort—are almost sure to bring. We must try to meet these eventualities as bravely as we can—show equal bravery to those brave and gallant Canadian soldiers, who have in the way of duty, laid down their all—their lives.

In a scathing article on the treatment accorded the local detachment of the 55th Battalion of Campbellton, the Graphic says:

"At the station Monday morning, there was not present one Campbellton clergyman to wish them God speed, not one town or municipal official to grasp them by the hand and wish them success, and not enough men to give three cheers as the train pulled out."

Surely this is not the way Campbellton citizens wish to show their appreciation of the volunteers from our midst who are going out to fight upon the blood stained plains of Belgium."

ANOTHER DEATH KNELL.

(Halifax Chronicle)

The Roblin regime has been the most shameful and corrupt which has ever disgraced a British country, and it is to be hoped that Manitoba will be forever rid of the corrupting influence of an Administration which bedevilled the politics and public life of that Province. The passing of Roblinism will sound the death knell of its twin evil, Rogerism.

HEROES.

Queenstown—Over 120 bodies are now here and a large number of them are those of women.

Berlin—The newspapers are praising the bravery of the crew of the German submarine which sent the Lusitania to the bottom.

Fleming in New Brunswick and Roblin in Manitoba. Will Sir Richard McBride be the third Conservative Premier to fall by the wayside within a year?—Toronto Globe.

Having "cleaned-up" it will be reasonably easy to keep that way for the rest of the summer.

The bed of Admiral von Tirpitz and his overload may be made pleasant by night by dreams of the bodies of a mother and her six children being washed ashore from the wreck of the Lusitania, that manly act which surpasses in splendor all the previous accomplishments of the German navy. It was an American mother with her children.

The fact that in the battle of Neuve Chapelle more ammunition was used by the British than in the entire South African war, which lasted for three years, is some indication of the awfulness of the fighting going on in Europe. If war was hell in the sixties it must be something worse than that to-day.

Let a fly set about raising a family in May and by September the progeny will aggregate more than five millions. It is very evident that this is the time to begin the campaign against the fly. Remember that flies are the commonest of all disease carriers. They revel in dirt and filth; they are nothing but flying hogs. Don't keep a fly in your house any more than you would a hog. And if you wouldn't keep a pig pen in the back yard, by the same token you ought not to permit a fly breeding place to exist there. Swat the fly and swat his breeding place.

Friday the 21st of May is Allied for Bright Button Day. The ladies of the Institute have secured five hundred buttons which they mean to get rid of on Empire Day. They realize that the people have responded most generously to the various calls made upon their pocketbooks, but ten cents is a small sum, and the boys at the front are giving their lives that we may pursue our various vocations and that our children may live secure under the folds of the Union Jack. The price of two buttons purchase a pair of stockings or other needed articles for the boys at the front, therefore if a boy or girl calls on you Empire day, have ten cents ready, please.

FINEST CASTLE HALL IN MARITIME PROVINCES

Large Number of Knights and Pythian Sisters Attend "House Warming"—Pleasing Program of Speeches and Music

Ivanhoe Lodge, Knight of Pythias, and Rowena Temple, Pythian Sisters held a house warming at the re-opening of their hall on Wednesday night. Ivanhoe Lodge which has been growing very fast during the past year, found their hall too small to accommodate their number and arranged with Mr. Young to enlarge the premises, taking in all of the upper flat in the Young building, so that they now have one of the finest Castle Halls to be found in the Maritime Provinces. Rowena Temple which has just recently been organized, is a lodge of Pythian sisters, an associate order of the Knights of Pythias, and is managed by the ladies who were responsible for the success of the affair. Invitations had been sent to all of the members and their wives and also a few outside friends. About two hundred gathered at Castle Hall and enjoyed the programme and lunch that had been prepared.

The Chancellor Commander of Ivanhoe Lodge, Brother H. W. King, occupied the chair and was ably assisted by Sister, Mrs. Frank Foster, most Excellent Chief of Rowena Temple, who occupied a seat on the platform with him, while Mrs. F. L. Moore, Most Excellent Junior, occupied the station of the Vice Chancellor. A reception committee composed of Mrs. Strain and Mrs. King and Messrs. Ferguson and Ross greeted the friends on their arrival.
