WHAT HAS HAPPENED

A Concise Outline of the Trend of Events That Have Transpired in the War Zone

Russians charge the Germans with using bombs containing prussic acid. The Welsh coal strike has been settled on the basis of increased pay for the men.

France has arranged for the annual importation of 120,000 tons of refrigerated meat while the war continues.

Antwerp was fined $50,000 for a popular demonstration on the Belgian fete day.

William H. Taft, ex-President of the U. S., is pleased with President Wilson's latest note to Germany.

Six hundred shells were fired in four hours during a bombardment of Rheims by the Germans.

Premier Botha received an ovation on visiting Cape Town. Ten thousand children sang the National Anthem.

France has refused to recognize American passports for German-born citizens of the U. S.

The allied nations are purchasing 20,000 portable houses in which to house refugees driven out of Belgium and Northern France.

Although Italy is at war with Austria she is still nominally at peace with Germany and Turkey, Austria's allies.

Britain has allowed Sweden 55,000 bales of cotton now lying in British ports on a guarantee that no re-export of the cotton will take place. Baron Michelham has offered $10,000 each for the first ten dirigible balloons destroyed by British airmen while the Zepps. are on the wing.

A thousand ship workers on the Clyde defied the government by refusing to work on a day following a holiday.

The Italian occupation of Goritz is said to be near, as the invader's guns command all the city's defenses. The city is said to be short both of food and water.

The Maharaja of Gwalior, an Indian Prince, gave Lloyd George $2,000 to buy munitions, and along with other rulers has offered his workshops to make munitions. The Indians are very generous.

The Russians are holding their own at Warsaw against the German forces, but the climax has not yet been reached. The taking of the city is not thought to be the real object of the fighting, but rather the symbol of it.

The people of Macedonia, who suffered directly by the two Balkan wars, and are suffering indirectly by the present one, are dying like flies of disease and the harvests are being neglected.

I bought a horse with a supposed incurable ringbone for $30.00. Cured him with $1.00 worth of MINARD'S LINIMENT and sold him for $85.00. Profit on Liniment, $54.

A German report says that over 2,000,000 tons of copper is to be found in utensils and roofing in Germany and that this is sufficient to supply that country with one of the raw materials for shell making for many years to come.

More than 30,000 foreigners, Americans, Poles, Greeks, Spaniards and even Turks, have enlisted in the French army since the beginning of the hostilities. These 30,000 men form in themselves an entire army corps, and still new enlistments are reported daily.

LUCY JANE VENESS.
Mention was made in our last issue of the death of Lucy Jane Veness, at Index, Washington, by accidental drowning. She was playing on the banks of the Skykomish river June 30, when in some manner she fell into the river. Desperate efforts were made to rescue her by those who saw her fall, but owing to the turbulency of the stream she could not be located until 25 minutes after the fatal plunge, when the body was found by George Roman of Index, who dived for it.

The body was taken to Winlock for burial where the funeral was held Friday, June 2, in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. The officiating clergyman was Dr. Philip Graff of the Baptist church.

She is survived by her father, Geo. W. Veness of Index; three sisters, Mrs. T. B. Lyda of Clatskanie, Ore., Mrs. M. W. O'Neill and Miss Bertha Veness of Heybrook; and one brother, Jack Veness of Heybrook. Among those from other points who were here for the funeral were Mrs. F. M. Jarnor of Kelso, grandmother of Lucy Veness, Mrs. T. B. Lyda of Clatskanie, Ore., also all other near relatives.

Lucy was born here on August 27, 1902, and resided here until about four years ago, when her father left here with his family. She is well remembered by many in Winlock.—Winlock News, Wash.

"SO LONG" DISCUSSES THE GLOUCESTER REVELATIONS

No Wonder We Have Poor Roads— Is There a Conspiracy to Profit By The Needs of the Province—Mr. Baxter, His Understudies and the Liquor Dealers

(Mail.)

St. John, N.B., July 27—So many things have happened since I wrote you, Mr. Editor, that I am at loss where and how to begin.

You, in Fredericton, seem to be in the storm centre. Commissioners Chandler has evidently overlooked the summer vacation and those industrious associates of his, Messrs. Carter and Veniot, are always upon his right and left hand. In spite of Baxter's manoeuvres and his letters and telephone messages to Robichaud and the visits of his new clerk, Mr. LeBlanc, to the Gloucester county witnesses, the most of the facts trickled out. And what a disagreeable, maledorous exposure it was!

A SORDID STORY.

What a revelation as to how the money of the people in this province is spent! No wonder we have poor roads, no wonder the cost of our bridges have advanced beyond all reason! To find that the members play the patronage game (is one thing but to learn also that they make up the accounts of the foreman or superintendents, put in additional accounts for men and material that these officials know nothing of and then make their solemn affidavit that it is all correct and right.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-fish in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from any harmful drugs. Try it.

Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont.

why the story is almost unbelievable!

And yet I am told that Kent and Gloucester counties are not the only ones in which the members do these things. In Kings county I learned a few days ago that the accounts of Superintendent Erb are made out, or I should say, were made out, in the office of Jones Bros., of which firm George B. Jones, a member for Kings county, is the senior and leading member. And Mr. Erb swore to these accounts before a member of the same firm!

LOOKS LIKE A CONSPIRACY.

What is the meaning of it all? Is there a wide conspiracy to profit by the needs of the province? Can no public work be done without graft? Must there always be suspicion? Are our public men all the time attempting to repay themselves for the money they spent in being elected?

There must be a remedy for this sort of thing for it cannot go on forever. I believe that public sentiment will be behind the man who honestly tries to remedy these matters, who will faithfully try to prevent public corruption at its source—the polls—and who will be fearless enough to place a law upon the statute book that will deprive not only the man who bribes but the man who is bribed from exercising their franchise for a long period.

The man who does this must be fearless enough to say to the people that while the right to vote is a privilege that was won by a tremendous struggle, it is not one to be ignored or trafficked in; that it must be exercised or lost and that the men who do not care enough about the affairs of their country to express a wish at the polls how they shall be directed shall for a time be deprived of their franchise. All of which should be subject of course, to reasonable excuses of illness or absence. An elector who felt that he must vote or lose his right to vote should not sit on the fence and wait to be paid or if he succeeded in selling his franchise, find himself before a public prosecutor who would fine and jail him and then strike his name from the lists.

That is the remedy and the man who is fearless enough to apply it will be a real leader of the people. Where is he and who is he?

CHARGES PROVEN

The charges of Mr. Veniot in connection with the outside expenditure of the Public Works Department have been proven, apparently, as completely as charges could be. Veniot deserves credit for his persistence, for the immense amount of work and time he has devoted to the inquiry. His was an unpleasant task but many public duties are unpleasant. To expose wrongdoing, to judge the guilty and to assist in their punishment are tasks that many men would avoid and I know Veniot has no liking for them, but it is necessary for some one to do the work, to clear the air and to help purify the political atmosphere. For one short year, in 1898-9, Veniot was in the legislature. Then his physician persuaded him he must choose between health and politics. He resigned his seat sixteen years ago and since that time, up to 1911, was in the customs service. He is back into harness again and his energy, ability and honesty mark him for bigger stations in the public life of this province. Today, he is reviled by his opponent, abused personally, held up to all manner of ridicule but he goes on the way quietly but surely.

If abuse would daunt men Mr. Veniot's associate in organization, E. S. Carter, would have quit long ago. But that apparently is not his measure. He is not a quitter. His recent request of Mr. Chandler to investigate the collection of money from the liquor trade in St. John last spring while the legislation was in session and considering liquor legislation is proof of that. No doubt he has his evidence but Commissioner Chandler has decided that he cannot inquire into his allegations as he is not authorized to do so. The government could soon remedy that but the government won't do so—while John B. M. Baxter is attorney general.

BAXTER'S CONNECTIONS.

There is no doubt about the truth of Mr. Carter's charges in St. John. Here most men know how closely associated Mr. Baxter was with the liquor association for many years. He was its solicitor and counsel. He advised about legislation. He was in the swim. When he was a member of the House and not of the government he was still the lawyer who advised the liquor dealers. Of course, when he became attorney general he could not officially be connected with the liquor association but he had his underlings. His legal associate, Earle Logan, whom Mr. Baxter has called by many names but who is known as one of the firm of Baxter & Logan, was one of these. Mr. Logan admits, I understand, that he was paid by the liquor dealers to look after their interests. There was another, John A. Barry, whom Mr. Baxter has made a sort of protégé. We in St. John know for what reason. They are united in the bonds of a common antipathy—not to use a stronger word—for Police Magistrate Ritchie. So Messrs. Barry and Logan went to Fredericton last spring and remained there most of the session in the interests of their new clients, the liquor dealers. They were so fortunate in having a strong friend in the government in the person of the attorney general that they placed a high value upon their services. And the people laugh and understand why.

How much do you suppose any one would value Earle Logan's services at if he were not associated with Hon. Attorney General Baxter? In the same office, a sharer of the firm's name, Baxter & Logan, his county organizer and a brother Orangeman.

Answer the question yourself, don't expect me to.

At the same time, the people of St. John are not fools and Mr. Chandler's refusal to investigate adds proof to Mr. Carter's charges.

SO LONG.
P.S.—Did you hear that the new president of the Tory party here, L. P. D. Tilley, was thinking of investigating patronage profits and that Tom Bell and Fred McNeill think such matters should be private. However, new rulers make new laws so whatever happens don't faint away.
