

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies—Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."—Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring, St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope. No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

return to Woodstock, in consequence of the serious illness of Mrs. Nicholson. Mrs. Nicholson's health is improving.

Albert Fields was awakened about 1.30 Sunday morning, by the roaring of fire, and sprang from his bed to find the entire ell of his house in flames. After assisting Mrs. Fields in getting the children to a place of safety, he mounted his wheel and rode to Supt. Munro's residence, crying the alarm as he went. The firemen speedily responded, but the flames had made such havoc with the entire range of the buildings, that when squelched, nothing but the mere shell of a portion of the main house remained. A large portion of furniture in the upper flat, was burned. Total loss about $1,600 or $1,800; buildings insured for $1000; furniture, $200. Mr. Gideon Fields had his valuable collection of carpenter's tools, stored in the building, and they were all destroyed.

More Shameful Revelations

since he resigned his seat in the local house and twelve years ago he was collector of the port of Bathurst with nothing to do in local affairs.

The appearance of Martin Robichaud, M.P.P., again as the man who made up the account and knew every item and then swore the supervisor could not but be remarked upon. One item Robichaud swore was added to the account because Clement Lantique swore he had done some work the year before and had not been paid for it. The cook was on the stand and swore that he hired with Robichaud and not with the government and that Robichaud had paid him in goods from his store.

Joseph Guignard, his step-father, was not present though served with a subpoena. He drove the horse and cart of the supervisor and made more revenue for the latter. There was much evidence to show that the men on the work went to the Tory convention and did not lose any time by so doing.

THE CROWN LAND CASE.

When the witnesses in connection with the roads were through, although there are many more to come, Commissioner Chandler surprised Mr. Veniot by asking William Halden, government scaler, to give his evidence respecting the charge that no stumpage had been paid for the lumber cut upon the Crown Land Lot 29, for 1913 and 1914. Hayden discovered that he did not know anything about the matter. He said he did not scale any lumber that year or the year before from that lot, but there might have been lumber cut and he did not know it. It is expected that Mr. Veniot's witnesses will prove that more than 300,000 feet of lumber were cut and no stumpage paid, and that the land was under lease to A. J. H. Stewart, M.P.P., at the time. This case will be taken up again August 17, to which date Mr. Halden adjourned his court. In not one single case before him is the evidence all in.

A. J. H. Stewart, M.P.P., announced that he would give evidence at the close of the inquiry.

Commissioner Chandler today said he had decided not to take up the matter of liquor men's payments.

"I will have to get my investigation, then, in another manner," replied Mr. Carter. If there were any doubts in the minds of those interested in such an investigation they have been dispelled since Thursday last. The evidence, Mr. Carter said, was such that it would only have been necessary to call three or four witnesses. The facts were common knowledge to very many of those in the liquor trade and temperance men had strong suspicions as to what was going on.

The activities in the interests of the liquor dealers, and of the delegation that went to Ottawa to see that a bargain made some time ago was carried out, were all matters of common knowledge. Only recently the sources of large subscriptions to the number of them, the reasons given for the levy upon licensees of the government have come to the cut in place of Warden Thomas Mott Osborne, who does not believe in the death penalty, the one time police lieutenant gave his fountain pen as a gift.

"It is the last thing that I have to give away, and I want you to have it. I want you to give this statement to the newspaper men."

Becker's message, given out just before he went to his death, read:

"Gentlemen—I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no one on earth can save me from the grave that is to receive me. In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemned me, and in the presence of my God and your God, I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die. You are now about to witness my destruction, by the State, which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent.

"May Almighty God pardon every one who has contributed in any degree to my untimely death, and now, on the brink of my grave, I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the fairest noblest woman that ever lived, Helen Becker. This acknowledgment is the only legacy I can leave her. I bid you all good bye. Father, I am ready to go. Amen."

"Signed) CHARLES BECKER."
