In any season—Summer or Winter—there is nothing more enjoyable than a delicious cup of tea. The flavor must be "just right," though, and that's where KING COLE TEA excels.

CARLETON COUNTY POTATO EXCHANGE

Will Stimulate Agricultural Production—Better Shipping Facilities Wanted—Potatoes Will be Sold before Leaving Shipping Points.

For years past potato shippers of this province have been of the opinion that an improvement in conditions was needed. Now and again these opinions have been ventilated, but until the present week no material improvement has been effected.

Most of the large shippers have now united in forming a marketing organization which bids fair to be of lasting benefit not only to the shippers immediately concerned, but also to those not interested in the new organization, and also the buyers at western points.

The new organization is to be known as New Brunswick Potato Exchange, Limited, and a charter is now being applied for, having for its object not only the marketing of potatoes, but also to promote legislation to stimulate agricultural production in the province and to take such action as shall be necessary to secure satisfactory freight rates, better lined ear service and other needed improvements for the betterment of the potato industry.

Already a case has been prepared by a solicitor of the company, W. P. Jones for presentation to the board of railway commissioners complaining of a newly published freight tariff which becomes operative on the 1st of September next, and which advances the freight rate on potatoes from points in New Brunswick to points in Ontario and Quebec from 3 cents to 6 cents per 100 lbs.

Considering that organization arrangements were only completed on Monday last the company is to be complimented on its energy and promptitude in objecting to this attempted advance. A deputation has been appointed to wait on the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal to ask for better lined ear equipment.

A. Mallinson is looking after the details of organization and has used the following arguments in favor of consolidation:

Instead of each shipper having his own broker, both in Montreal and in Toronto, the company will have one expert salesman at each of these points who will devote his whole time to the interests of the company.

Instead of having one caretaker go through with every one or two cars, the new company will be able to bunch shipments so that one caretaker can do as much work as five or six did previously.

Instead of each shipper wiring his broker several times daily, one telegram will now do the work of a dozen under the old conditions.

Instead of cars of potatoes being consigned to western markets unsold, all cars will from now on be sold before leaving shipping point.

During the past few years it has been the growing custom among shippers to consign cars unsold to various markets, and this has often happened that through the different shippers acting without any knowledge of what their competitors were doing, as many as forty cars of potatoes would arrive at either Montreal or Toronto almost every night when the market was not requiring more than half of them.

This indiscriminate distribution has resulted in losses to the potato industry of many thousands of dollars annually. The new company expects to begin operations early in September.

Porter was elected chairman. Mr. Porter is a speaker of much force and before the business of the meeting he received a most attentive hearing upon the question of the day the need for better politics and better government. Dr. Dickinson was elected secretary and then Organizer E. S. Carter directed the selection of delegates by the parishes.

Mr. P. J. Veniot.

Mr. Niles of Andover was chosen chairman of the delegates and while they retired and made their choice. Mr. P. J. Veniot addressed the audience upon provincial questions, dwelling amid shouts of the audience upon J. L. White's motion in the Legislature to whitewash Flemming.

E. S. Carter made a short speech upon organization, but his remarks on the contest in Carleton and the attempt to convert B. F. Smith into a rescuer of a dying government were greeted with applause.

The meeting then adjourned to the Red Cross and Baptist church teas, which benefited splendidly by their patronage. The Grand Falls band came with the delegation from up country and the boys from Andover joined them at the station and played the delegation into the big hall.

Before the afternoon meeting had adjourned F. B. Carvell, M. P., was called upon, and on going to the platform was given a reception such as few public men have ever been accorded. He did not make a speech then, but promised to address the audience at the evening meeting.

Mr. Carter's Stirring Speech.

Andover has seen many public gatherings, but none greater than that of tonight.

The chairman introduced Organizer E. S. Carter and for nearly an hour that gentleman dealt with the situation of the government of the day. The tremendous sums taken from the people who dealt with the government were taken up in detail and the methods employed to relieve provincial licensees for the sake of alleged campaign funds.

The vacancies in the counties of Gloucester, Kent, Albert and St. John city were explained, and then Mr. Carter announced that the Opposition had taken steps, through its members and members-elect, to compel the government under the law to bring on the by-elections.

Amid tremendous applause he stated that the Opposition was fighting in earnest for better government. He had asked Mr. Dystart to serve the notices signed by Messrs. Dugal, Pelletier and Dr. Smith upon Hon. Dr. Landry, and he read a telegram from Mr. Dystart, who is a barrister, stating that he had served the notices upon that member of the government who is the clerk of the crown in chancery.

There was no doubt about the sentiment of that large audience. Every sentence of Mr. Carter's speech about clean fighting, without money or rum, was punctuated with applause.

F. B. Carvell, M. P.

Mr. Veniot had again spoken by Chairman Denning, and James Burgess, F. B. Carvell, M. P., took up the platform of the opposition with respect to crown lands and highways.

"Take them out of politics," was his strong advice in dealing with crown lands. Mr. Carvell told how some lumbermen in the winter of 1912 went to him and Dr. Pugsley in Ottawa and offered the Opposition party in New Brunswick $150,000 to run the elections with, provided they would agree to renew the crown land leases in 1913 without competition.

That offer, said Mr. Carvell, was flatly and firmly refused, and the lumbermen gave their support in the main to the government of which Mr. Flemming was premier, and they all knew what happened.

In plain language he dealt with the road question and the Opposition policy to fund the automobile licenses and to spend the money thus acquired to improve the roads of the province. The present system of road making was all wrong and the Opposition proposed to change it.

Before closing Mr. Carvell talked a few minutes upon Federal matters and the audience listened with eager attention to his description of Dominion affairs.

The meeting closed with cheers for the King and the candidates, and ended one of the greatest conventions ever held in the province.

OPPOSITION NOMINATE WINNERS IN VICTORIA

Messrs. Tweeddale and Burgess
Choice of Big Convention—Stirring Speeches by Messrs. Carvell, Veniot and Carter—Government Will Be Compelled to Bring on Bye-Elections.

Andover, N. B., Aug. 22.—"A regular Victoria county convention" was the remark of many on the platform today in Andover as they gazed upon 500 electors gathered to choose Opposition candidates. It was surely a great convention. There was no doubt of the eagerness and spirit of the people to aid better government and to choose candidates to carry out their wishes. From the outset there was no doubt of the choice of the people. J. Fletcher Tweeddale and James Burgess, the men who represented the county until 1912 were the unanimous selection of thirty-one delegates chosen by the several parishes.

Both men accepted amid great enthusiasm. Mr. Tweeddale made a splendid speech contrasting the pro-
