"Hey, Mister! You dropped something." This greeted many men Saturday morning when they emerged from their homes. Most of them started, and looked back, to be jeered at with "April Fool." Only then did they realize that it was the day set apart for practical jokes and the mischievous pranks of the little folks.

Rev. M. T. Murphy held his last service in St. Thomas Church, Canterbury, on Monday morning. A large congregation was present to bid farewell to their beloved pastor. On behalf of the congregation, Miss Cassie McDonald, presented Fr. Murphy with a purse of gold, and W. J. McGillivuddy read an address. Fr. Murphy in reply to the address expressed his deep feeling of gratitude to the people of Canterbury for their kindly remembrance.

The energetic proprietors of the Sanitary Dairy have added to their up-to-date equipment a motor truck of latest design and improved quality. As an illustration of its advantage in the business, milk was gathered from Peabody Bros and others on a trial trip and landed in the dairy in twenty-two minutes from time of starting. In order to handle the business, which is going ahead with leaps and bounds, an immense churn has also been purchased and butter making will be another feature of the concern.

GREGORY RIORDAN PASSED AWAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

THE LAST TRIBUTE

Private Gregory Riordan of the 140th Battalion died at Sussex Sunday morning of pneumonia after a brief illness. None of his relatives or friends knew of his illness and the announcement of his death was a pronounced shock and created universal expressions of sorrow and regret. He enlisted a few months ago and expressed a desire to do his part in defence of the empire and his sudden passing was particularly sad. Deceased was 33 years of age and is survived by his wife and two children Pauline and Willie, his father and mother, four sisters and two brothers.

The burial took place Wednesday morning with full military honors and was one of the most imposing funerals ever witnessed in Woodstock. Co. D. of the 104th turned out in full strength. The firing squad was in charge of Sergt. McMullen. The requiem service at St. Gertrude's church was of the most solemn and imposing character. Rev. Fr. Ryan officiated at the solemn mass and addressing the large congregation made most sympathetic reference to loss sustained by the young wife and family and said he had enlisted in the service of his country for the cause of humanity, which is at least some slight consolation for the bereaved widow and members of the family.

Major H. P. Carvell, quartermaster of the 67th Carleton Light Infantry, passed through Fredericton on his way to Quebec, where he is to join the 224th Forestry Battalion, which will mobilize at Ottawa. Major Carvell applied for an appointment as quartermaster but it is said to be doubtful if the corps will have a quartermaster as it is probable it will be broken up into detachments on arrival in England, the detachments being sent to various parts of the country to cut standing timber. As Major Carvell has had considerable experience in lumbering, he probably will be appointed to one of the companies of the battalion. He is a brother of Mr. F. B. Carvell, M. P.—Fredericton Mail.

The well known Young-A-Jams Stock Company opened a three nights engagement at the Hayden-Gibson Theatre Thursday. The Company is one of the best on the road and will be deserving of liberal patronage.

MILITARY NOTES OF LOCAL INTEREST

The soldier's bakes hall team were co-winners over the Colby College quartette, Thursday evening, by a score of 46 to 13.

Lieut. John H. Evans of Moncton, has received official notification as officer commanding the 65th Field Battery to be mobilized at Woodstock.

The death of Private W. J. West of Grand Falls a member of the 115th battalion, occurred Thursday evening of last week, in the General Public Hospital, St. John, after a short illness of pneumonia. He leaves his father and mother and one brother who is a member of the 52nd. The body was sent to Grand Falls for burial.

The remaining members of the 140th Battalion left for Perth Saturday. In an address a reading room had been opened but did not seem to attract the soldiers. The Y. M. C. A. will open a Soldier's Club in Union Hall, Perth, which will no doubt meet the wishes of the soldiers.

A letter from Pte. J. E. Lynott dated Westernhanger, Eng., March 19th, says: "The Quarter Master Sergeant was just in the hut with a list of names in first draft that will leave very soon for the front, perhaps before you get this letter. I will write the day we leave. Kelley is in the hospital with the pink eye and Dad Sloat is sick, so two of the 'Hungry Seven' will be left behind. Fowler is working in the paymaster's office and Fred Bue is in the orderly room. The quarantine was lifted today after inspection by the Brigadier."

RECRUITING FOR 65TH BATTERY

Capt. J. H. Evans of the 65th Battery arrived here Tuesday evening. It is announced that recruiting for the battery will commence Monday. The men will receive their equipment here and the useless trip to St. John or Sussex, as in case of other recruits, will be avoided. If British People only knew German Crimes in Belgium

The following stirring quotation from a recently published book, "A Surgeon in Belgium," written by Dr. H. S. Souttar, F. R. C. S. "We were always provided with the password, and the whole country was open to us—a privilege we very greatly appreciated; for after a hard morning's work in the wards there are few things more delightful than a motor drive. And it gave us an opportunity of seeing war, as very few but staff officers ever can see it. We learned more about the condition of the country and of the results of German methods in one afternoon than all the literature in the world could ever teach. It only it were possible to bring home to the people of Britain one-hundredth part of what we saw with our own eyes, stringent laws would have to be passed to stop men and women from enlisting. No man who deserved the name of man and no woman who deserved to be the mother of a child, would rest day or night till the earth had been freed from the fiends who have ravaged Belgium and made the name of German vile."

B. V. Estey has returned from Boston and New York and will hold her Millinery Opening, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11th and 12th. Call and see our pattern and trimmed hats.

Did you want your breakfast?

Fully half the people in this town who are over thirty years old don't care for their breakfast—they nibble a bit of toast, eat an egg, drink a cup of coffee and are glad when it is over with. And at noon they are not hungry either. At the evening meal they may feel a little more like eating, yet still not have a genuine appetite.

Of course when you feel that way you can't be strong—vigo out—at your top notch best, so the thing to do is to tempt your appetite back with a real appetizer—

Penstar

Appetizing Tonic being the most reliable one we know of. You have a right to know what is in it. Here it is: In each ounce, 20 minims Finest Gentian, 15 grs. Dandelion; 30 minims Dilute Phosphoric Acid, with Aromatic.

Anyone who knows will tell you that you couldn't find a better formula to tone up the stomach and coax back your old-time appetite. Yet it is so pleasant a child will take it. This Penstar way of putting the exact formula on the label is a mighty sensible way—we know just what we are recommending—you know just what you are getting. Every Penstar label is a certificate of Quality, Purity and Satisfaction. Shall we send you a dollar bottle of Penstar Appetizing Tonic?
