

A CLEAN WIN

the Opposition executive would know how to meet the emergency and would not fail to do so. No matter what Mr. Smith and his friends did, the Opposition course would be the same as outlined, money and no rum. A clean fight, victory with honor or no victory.

Regards to The Standard.
"And now," said Mr. Carter, "a word or two to the Standard newspaper, which for the time being is adopting a threatening attitude as to what it may do if I and other Opposition critics persist in making charges against the government and its supporters."

"The chairman, it does not scare me one bit. Let the Standard say what it pleases; my action will be the same. They cannot deter me from fighting against the forces of graft. The Standard was started to a great extent with graft money—with $14,000 provided out of the funds raised by the guarantee of New Brunswick to build the Northern New Brunswick and Seaboard Railway, and the Gloucester Iron Mines proposition. Since then many of its directors have been prominent as politicians and otherwise."

"A few days ago I had an opportunity to say a few words about five of these directors, Messrs. Jones, Baxter, Tennant, Nagle and Bell. I am prepared to repeat that statement in enlarged form with added particulars and with undoubted proof at any time and at any place. I want the Standard to understand this, and that in this campaign public men and their friends who have pillaged this province will be exposed, and some other transactions of Mr. Smith's with respect to the very department of which he is now the minister, will be exposed.
"The Standard refers to my 'slandering misrepresentations.' Now, no one knows any better than the Standard that there is a remedy for anyone who thinks he is slandered. What I had to say about the Standard directors I can prove—so come on."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gentlemen,—Ever since coming home from the Boer war I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. Two bottles completely cured me and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH.

GENTLEMEN:—
Replying to your inquiry, beg to state that I used $60.00 worth of your Prepared Bordeaux Mixture last season on 18 acres of potatoes. I sprayed 4 times, using 10 pounds of Prepared Bordeaux to 50 gallons of water per acre. My average yield was 125 barrels per acre of merchantable potatoes with less than one bushel of rot in the whole field. I also left a small portion of the field not sprayed. These unsprayed potatoes died down three weeks earlier and only gave me an average yield of 90 barrels per acre. I therefore consider that I got an increase of 35 barrels per acre by using Prepared Bordeaux Mixture and figuring at the rate of $1.00 per barrel I made a net saving of $570.00 by spraying.

Yours truly,
H. LEE BEDELL.
