

FELT LIKE A NEW PERSON

After Taking Only One Box of "Fruit-a-tives"

EAST SHIP HARBOR, N. S.
"It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you of the wonderful benefits I have received from taking 'Fruit-a-tives'. For years, I was a dreadful sufferer from Constipation and Headaches, and I was miserable in every way. Nothing in the way of medicines seemed to help me. Then I finally tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and the effect was splendid. After taking one box, I feel like a new person, to have relief from those sickening headaches."

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Sunday School Children in Interesting Program

A Christmas concert for the benefit of the little folk was given by the Sunday School of the United Baptist Church on Wednesday evening. The following program under the direction of Supt. F. L. Atherton was rendered:

Opening Hymn—School.
Devotional Exercises Rev. F. L. Orchard, D.D.

Recitation—In the Manger Cradle—Helen Chapman.

Song—The Message of the Bells—Primary Department Pupils.

Recitation—The Gray Mouse—Graham Simms.

Chorus—The School.

Stocking Drill—The Junior boys.

Recitation—Christmas Bells—Hilda Griffiths.

Dialogue (in costume) The Complaint of Santa Claus—Wilbur Gray, Edward Clark.

A Christmas Offering.

Dedication, Prayer, by the Pastor.

The National Anthem.

The success of the entertainment reflected much credit to the officers, teachers and pupils of the school. The best feature being the representation where Santa Claus complains of the lack of a proper spirit of giving. He is told to be seated and then the teachers and scholars came forward by classes, each member bearing suitable offerings to be distributed among the less fortunate of the Christmas season. A large amount of useful goods were received showing us that the real spirit of the Babe of Bethlehem still survives.

Mrs. E. F. Shaw Dead at Bath

About 9.20 on Saturday evening, Mary, wife of Elijah F. Shaw, J. P. of Bath, succumbed to a stroke of paralysis. She suffered a first stroke last summer but had recovered sufficiently to be around the house. The fatal shock came early in the evening and caused intense suffering until she passed away.

Mrs. Shaw was a daughter of the late Cornelius and Frances Phillips and was born at Somerville 69 years ago. She is survived by one brother, Elisha S. Phillips of St. Thomas, Ont. The late Rev. C. T. Phillips, D.D., was a brother, and H. M. Stevens of Hartland is an uncle. She had no children of her own, but the late Mrs. J. R. H. Simms was an adopted daughter.

FRENCH ENERGY FOR WAR.

No Time to Be Concerned With Mere Industrial Progress.

The important effect on French trade after the war of the new chemical, metallurgical and mechanical industries created in answer to the needs of the army, were emphasized by Albert Thomas, Under-Secretary of War, at a luncheon of the Economic and Financial Association.

"Our war loan of to-day is not only the loan of a victor, but incorporated as it is in all our new creations, it becomes in some ways a great industrial loan which will permit us to prepare fruitful enterprises for the peace of to-morrow," he said. "We shall have made new and fecund creations, and the national savings, almost entirely looked up hitherto in Government securities, will flow into channels where they will be the driving force of the industry of to-morrow. Attempts are being made to revive old industries, to create new ones, and direct new French forces to the conquests of new markets. I wish to give a word of warning. Let us dissociate our pre-occupations of to-day with those of to-morrow, but let us be sure that no force shall be diverted from the essential task of to-day and from the France of the war."

"We depend upon America," he went on, "for parts of our steel and shells. Recently there have been torpedoings, and ships laden with steel have been unable to sail. If these incidents become more frequent and deliveries of American metal become rarer what would our situation be? Our duty to-day is not perhaps to assure the entire production of the raw materials that we may conceive will be wanted to carry out our programme of shell manufacture, but to diminish gradually the gap between our resources and our wants."

MAN WHO WOULDN'T DOWN.

Dismissed for Intemperance, He Enlisted and Regained Commission

An official despatch from Canadian Headquarters contains the following: "The whole Canadian army has learned with sympathy and delight of the reinstatement of Lieut. O. B. Jones to his commissioned rank. Deprived by court-martial of his commission because of an act of intemperance while on duty, Lieut. Jones immediately enlisted as a private in a well-known Montreal battalion. He showed not only strict devotion to duty, but conspicuous gallantry upon several occasions. He became a corporal, then won his sergeant's stripes. He was awarded a D.C.M. for his reckless courage and again a bar for his medal."

On September 15 he was in the thick of the fighting. It was said of him that he was perpetually out killing Germans. His conduct was such as to recommend him for further reward. Later he was so severely wounded that it is improbable he will be again able to serve his country as a soldier, but he is now reinstated as an officer, and he has won back his honor."

The Trench Commandments.

The "Ten Commandments" of the trench are:

1. When on guard, thou shalt challenge all parties approaching thee.

2. Thou shalt not send any engravings nor any likeness of any airship in heaven above, nor any postcard of the earth beneath, nor any submarine in the sea for I, the censor, am a jealous censor, visiting the iniquities of the offenders with three months C. B., but allowing the mercy unto thousands by letting their letters go first who obey my commandments.

3. Thou shalt not use profane language, unless used in extraordinary circumstances, such as seeing the enemy shot, or getting petrol in the tank.

4. Remember the soldier's week consists of seven days. Six days of the week, thou shalt be on duty.

5. Honor thy land and country. Keep thy rifle well oiled and show straight that thy days may be long in the land the enemy & V in the.

6. Thou shalt not steal thy comrade's kit.

7. Thou shalt not kill time.

8. Thou shalt not adulterate the mess tin by using it as a shaving mug.

9. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy comrade, but preserve silence on their outgoing and incoming.

10. Thou shalt not covet thy corporal's post, nor the sergeant-major's but by thy duty and perseverance, thou shalt rise to the position of field marshal.

The Bishop's Story.

Appropos of the fact that although children soon weary of doctrinal or any other teaching they are never tired of tales well told, the following story is related in regard to the Bishop of London. He was once addressing a boys' meeting, and having delighted them with some of his ray illustrations he began to draw to a close by saying: "Now I'm going to point out the moral of all this," when a little fellow from the middle of the hall shouted out: "Never mind the moral, give another story."

Noblewoman Can't Mend Roads.

After nearly four months of heavy farm work Lady Mabel Smith of London, sister of Lord Fitzwilliam, applied to the Wootley rural council for a position as a road laborer. The council has refused to give her a job, saying the work is too hard for a woman.

A Clean Record.

"What makes Jinks so proud of his ancestors? I never heard any of them did anything."

"That's exactly the point. So many persons' ancestors did do things which got them into trouble with the police."

Concise Outline of the Trend of Events That Have Transpired in the War Zone

The British army has been increased by a million men, making the total 5,000,000.

The Globe predicts another large Canadian loan, to be floated in the home market in the coming year.

AIIP aliens in what was Berlin, Ont. are being struck off the voters' list.

There are some hundreds of them.

It is reported that the German merchant submarine Deutschland will shortly make another trip to the United States.

The Danish steamer Olaf was recently held up by a German submarine while crossing the Channel from Rotterdam to the Downs.

The Premier of Rumania is reported to have resigned, and the French Admiral in command of the Allied fleet off Greece has been recalled.

The German casualties, aside from naval and colonial losses, up to the end of November, total almost three even 4,000,000.

Seventeen American medics lost their lives when the British transport Russian was torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

Hon. T. W. Crothers declares the time has arrived to prohibit the export of foodstuffs from Eastern Canada save that shipped to allied countries.

The total of the appropriations of the war made by the British Government up to the end of March are $18,759,240,000.

The chief of Lloyd's Bank says the only way we shall be able to meet the war bill that will be presented for payment after the war is over will be "by everyone working considerably harder." Almost any fool could have told us that.

The French, by a sudden dash on the Verdun front last week, captured German trenches over a front of six and a quarter miles to a depth of two miles, and took nearly 2,000 German prisoners, besides 115 cannon and 107 machine guns in the course of the operation.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Boiger, aged 13 years and 10 months, after an illness of ten days

She was a bright intelligent girl in the highest grade in the Superior school, a nice musician and deeply loved by all. Her death seemed like some public calamity, the schools were closed for two days. She is survived by her mother, two brothers, C. C. Bolger, of the C.P.R. staff, Harry at home, one sister aged twelve years, also her grandmother Mrs. James Bolger, and numerous relatives.

Her aunt, Mrs. John Boyle came home on account of her death. She was comforted by all rites of her Holy religion. Interment in Richmond R. C. burying ground. The funeral was held from St. Lawrence Church at Benton after a most impressive sermon by Rev. C. J. McLaughlin. The family return thanks to the teachers and scholars for the beautiful wreath of flowers, also those sent by friends from Debec and other points, for the beautiful letters of sympathy from many friends and to the friends who came so far to comfort them in their deep trouble, and to the kind and loving friends at Benton who are still comforting them all.

MARRIED

Wednesday evening, December 20, at 5 o'clock, a quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr and Mrs. George Sweet, Lower Bloomfield, N.B., when their niece, Ella M. Kidney, became the bride of Albert J. Harris, Lower Bloomfield.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Fenwick, in the presence of the near relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride party entered the parlor to the strain of the wedding march played by Miss Marion Montague. The bride looked lovely in a gown of white silk and wool crepe de chene with veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair ferns.

Immediately after the ceremony the party retired to the dining room where a bounteous dinner was served. The young couple received some very nice gifts including silver, linen, china and checks. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pendant and chain. The happy pair will reside in Lower Bloomfield and their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

A Qui t, Motherly Woman Says Now's Time for Deeds, Not Words

Toronto, Dec. 20—Are the women of Toronto beginning to give vent to the feeling of scorn which they experience on entering a store and being waited on by able-bodied men who ought to be in khaki?

A lady entered a store and asked to see some ties. She was gentle and quiet, and not at all troublesome to serve, so the young salesman laid himself out to please, displaying tie after tie and pointing out the beauties of each. She chose one and took out her purse to pay.

"Anything else I can do for you today, madam?" the youth asked in his pleasant, business-like way.

"Yes," she replied, equally pleasant and equally business-like. "You might answer one question. Why are you not in khaki serving your country?"

"I don't know," he replied in confusion. "I have been thinking of it for some time."

"This is a time for deeds, not thoughts," she retorted, as she took up the change and her tie and walked away.

A Business Man's Potatoes

Solomon Grudin was in business in New York, in a modest way. In 1907, he lost money. He felt suddenly tired of it, and wanted to get back to the soil. He had $1,500. He went over into New Jersey and bought an old, neglected farm of 95 acres for $3,000. He started by planting five acres of potatoes.

"You can't raise potatoes in that soil," the practical farmers around about told him. "Wait and see," said Grudin cheerfully. He got 175 bushels per acre of the finest potatoes those neighbors had ever seen. Now he's getting 350 bushels an acre on that same land. He has bought from his profits, an adjacent farm of 175 acres, and raises potatoes on part of it. This year he sold $13,300 worth of potatoes making a net profit of $10,000. He feeds his ground plenty of fertilizer," and says that for every $50 worth he gets $150 profit. It's like a merchant using advertising.

Grudin says any business man can succeed in farming, by using business methods.
