Australians on Skates.

The cold weather in England and the consequent revival of skating has proved a great novelty to the soldiers from Australia and New Zealand, many of whom tried to skate on the various safe stretches outside London. One man with one leg and two rubber-shod crutches made quite good progress at Richmond, with occasional lapses from the perpendicular. At Walton-on-Thames, where the New Zealand Hospital is, the men were enjoying the sport greatly.

There were some Canadians who were experts in skating, and at Regent's Park one wounded man from Montreal gave a good exhibition of figure-skating. Afterwards he tried to teach a Queenslander. Both were in full hospital kit, and their "blues" and scarlet ties made an effective note of color. At 1:15 the Queenslander retired baffled, contented to watch the experts, among whom was Princess Patricia of Connaught.

Opened Dry Hotel.

In recognition of the overseas Dominion prohibition policy the opening ceremony of the British Empire non-alcoholic public house, Poplar, was performed by Premier Massey of New Zealand and Colonel Richard Reid, Agent-General of Ontario. The speakers had something to say on the subject of empire schemes after the war. Premier Massey considered nothing more important for the welfare of the Empire than some well considered scheme evolved by Imperial and Dominion Governments. Colonel Reid corrected the fallacy that the Dominions were solely interested in agriculture. He told the audience that Canada meant to become a serious rival of Great Britain in the industrial markets of the world.

Tablet to Poetess.

A memorial tablet to the memory of Miss E. Pauline Johnston, the Indian poetess, will be unveiled here by the Brant Historical Society shortly. The location of the tablet is still to be decided, and an appropriate programme arranged.

True Vigilance.

In a place in New Ontario a town building caught fire, and the extinguishers failed to do their work. A few days later at the town meeting some citizen tried to learn the reason. After they had freely discussed the subject, one of them said: "Mr. Chairman, I make a motion that the fire-extinguishers be examined ten days before every fire."
