GOVERNOR OF PROVINCE DEAD

Hon. G. W. Ganong Has Passed Away.

St. Stephen, N. B., Oct. 31. —Governor Ganong passed away at his home, Lonicera Hall, this morning at 2.30 o'clock, after an illness of more than two weeks. He was seized with illness on Sunday, the 14th instant, and Dr. Deinstadt was called in. As his patient did not improve, he called in Dr. Hamilton, of Montreal. The disease was pronounced intestinal excoerema with kidney complications.

Governor Ganong made a brave struggle, some days with marked improvement, and other times his case seemed critical. Last evening about six o'clock he was seized with a sinking spasm and did not rally.

He leaves his wife, who was Miss Maria Robinson, daughter of the late John B. Robinson, of this town, and a sister, Mrs. Perkins, of Ottawa. J. E. Ganong, of Toronto; Professor W. F. Ganong, A. D. Ganong, of this town, and W. K. Ganong, of St. John, are nephews.

THE HONORED DEAD

Memorial Service for Arthur M. Fisher—Rev. A. S. Hazel Pays High Tribute to Brave Young Man—"Life Held Out For Him the Fairest of Promises."

A touching memorial service in honor of Dr. Arthur M. Fisher was held in St. Luke's Church Sunday evening. A very large number of friends of the brave young soldier, many returned soldiers and 65th Field Battery were in attendance. Kindly hands had decorated the church with a wealth of beautiful flowers. The Rev. A. S. Hazel, in his sermon said in part: Rev. III. 21. "To him that overcometh I will grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also over come."

What mean you by this service? You have come here tonight (1) in order that as a congregation you may pay honor to the dead who richly deserves that honor—and an honour considerably greater than we can show by our presence here tonight. You come to bear your witness and your tribute to characteristics which are the most glorious of all humanity.

You have come here (2) in order that you might show your sympathy for his relations who have been called upon to suffer so deeply, so deeply that the kindest sympathy you can display, can only make the load a little easier to bear.

It is in no spirit of idle curiosity, for many of us are treading the same way of sorrows and most of us have daily that awful anxiety of knowing that a similar blow may at any time fall upon us and the faithful news come that one whom we love has made the supreme sacrifice.

And yet this service is something more than an opportunity of paying honour and of showing sympathy. We come here into the presence of God, with all our sorrow and our anxiety, as to a loving Father who knows all our griefs and we pray that His hand will be extended in blessing over us so that our load may be borne if not more easily at least more understandingly.

We do not come to solve the riddle of death, but we come to learn the reason of life, and how that is to be lived in all our sorrows and perplexities.

Time lightens all our griefs. It is by a merciful dispensation of God, and as time soothes, while it does not cure so we learn by the help of God and the inspiration of these lives to take up the broken threads of life to weave of them the material intended by God and like that woven by those who have gone before through the gateway of suffering and sacrifice. We do not try to find a reason for death but we do try to know the reason and incentive for life.

Of those for whom we have prayed, Sunday by Sunday, during the weary weeks of the war, another one has given up his life, representing another branch of the service to those other four. That branch which is perhaps the most self-sacrificing of all, wherein a man goes into the valley of the shadow of death, in order that he might rescue others. There is no thrill or excitement in that, just the plain determination and courage of those who go unflinchingly into scenes of carnage, with quiet and unobtrusive heroism in order that they may alleviate the sufferings of the stricken. That the heroism of the A. M. C. is unsurpassed amongst armies of brave men is shown by the facts that the only winner of two Victoria Crosses in this war was a doctor and the only man living who has twice won that coveted decoration is a doctor too. Do they not reflect the characteristics of

HIGH TONE TO CARVELL SPEECH AT NOMINATION OF F. F. PARDEE

Vigorous Pronouncement By New Brunswick's Minister—Why He Is In Cabinet—Liberal Principles Firm as Ever But Felt His Course Was Proper One to Help in Winning War—One Matter Insisted on, the Wiping Out of Graft.

Sarnia, Ont., Oct. 24.—"I am a Liberal by faith and conviction, Liberal to the core. But I believe the momentary fate of political parties matters little in comparison to the supreme obligations of the struggle between humanity and the Hun at the front and the people and the profiteers at home. I propose to put these issues first whether in parliament or out of it. It is my purpose to advocate and aid every measure calculated to defeat Germany and wipe out the profiteers."

"On this occasion I ask your mandate as a Canadian till the war is won. I return to you the nomination you gave me two years ago; I leave myself entirely in your hands, but let me say this if you renominate me I am resolved to do nothing that will not allow me to look the returning soldier in the face and say to him to the best of my ability I stood by you."—Fred F. Pardee, chief Liberal whip in the house of commons.

"The Canadian war government is formed of Liberals and Conservatives united for a definite purpose. That purpose my friend Pardee has defined. I am just as strong a Liberal, just as intense a Liberal, yes, and just as much of a radical as I ever was. My principles are unchanged, my convictions unaltered; the war must be won; that comes first; profiteering must go. I said that a year ago, I say it now, I say more. I will not remain in this government if it does not see to it that profiteering ceases and if it permits such things to happen as ought not to happen."

"This government is formed for a definite purpose and for a definite period. I am in it as a Liberal for that purpose and for that period. I intend to give the best that is in me."—Hon. Frank B. Carvell, minister of public works.

PARDEE NOMINATED.

Liberalism in western Ontario flocked to Sarnia today and thronged to capacity the big auditorium. It was an open Liberal convention called by Chief Whip Fred O. Pardee, who differed from his leader on the question of conscription, to obtain an expression from his electors in West Lambton and to hear Hon. F. B. Carvell, the new minister of public works. Mr. Pardee, who was formally nominated more than two years ago, in a telling speech at times was cheered to the echo, but at times met with sharp and pertinent questioning. He placed his position definitely and unequivocally before his electors, gave an account of his stewardship, and stated his stand for the wartime future. "I am," he declared, "for a union government. I have been since war was declared; war time is not the time for playing party patronage with all their attendant evils. I promise to support the platform of the union government so long as it is characterized by propriety, efficiency, honesty and true Canadianism and devotes itself earnestly to the prosecution of winning the war."

He then handed back to the convention the nomination of two years ago. John Dewar, of Plumpton township, renominated Mr. Pardee. "We want a man to represent us and we've got one," he said. "When we don't want the servile tool of any party or any individual." Jas. Smith, of Moore township, seconded the nomination. "Fred Pardee has shown that he is sincere," he observed, "and while there may be differences of opinion, I for one am pleased that he proved Liberal enough to stand by his convictions for what he believed to be right. We want to be represented by a man like that."

"They'll make him a Tory," vigorously complained a white-haired Scot in the audience. Hon. F. B. Carvell stepped forward
