Amherst News: Bradshaw & Vallance received today from Dorchester Penitentiary a pig that weighed 725 pounds dressed. The animal measured seven feet from hind hoof to nose. It was two years old. Rev. W. D. Wilson, chief liquor inspector for New Brunswick, when interviewed, said that the inspectors throughout the province were having more than ordinary trouble with essences and patent medicines containing a high percentage of alcohol as a preservative. Wherever the liquor regulations were more than ordinary strict, there the inspectors had the trouble with the essences and medicines which were taken only as a means to intoxication. Inspector Wilson said that in his opinion something must be done immediately if the enactment of the liquor law is to keep the province dry.

MILITARY NOTES

It is rumored in military circles that a considerable shake up is pending in the staff of the Nova Scotia military district at Halifax. Prominent business men, who jumped into uniform at the outbreak of war and who are holding lucrative positions on the staff of that district, while at the same time devoting some of their time to their private business interests, it is reported, are slated to be superseded by men who have already had experience at the front.

The Woodstock War Veterans Association held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening. A large number was present and deep interest taken in the proceedings.

In a letter received this week from a Canadian soldier, who has been on the firing line two years we clip the following extract: "I have met a number of the boys who trained in Woodstock and they all have a good word for the place and the people."

Frank Shaw, son of Mrs. Warren Bull, who left here with a Forestry Battalion, has been in France for some time and was recently made a sergeant. He is in charge of the blacksmith work in connection with the battalion.

"Kelly" Carten has received his discharge from the service and has gone to his home in Pennsylvania. While he has partially recovered from wounds received while at the front, he was pronounced unfit for further active military duty.

Cecil Stewart left for Halifax Thursday where he will report for the aviation service. He expects to leave there for Toronto in a few days to go into active training. The best wishes of the community will follow the young soldier who is entering one of the important branches of the service.
