BUY CONTINUED PROSPERITY

Before our last Victory Loan financial experts were dubious as to the outlook for Canada. She could not borrow abroad. It was necessary that she have a large available capital to finance credits for British and foreign war orders. Canada was thrown on her own resources and appealed to her citizens.

The remarkable over-subscription of the 1917 Victory Loan completely changed the uncertain outlook which prevailed. It gave a new impetus to agriculture, commerce and prosperity. It invigorated our efforts in the war. It allowed our provincial Governments, municipal and other borrowers to finance their requirements at home. In short, it gave another lease of life to the activities of the Dominion.

The Victory Loan of 1918 will accomplish the same purposes. UPON THE READY RESPONSE OF THE LARGE

AND SMALL INVESTOR, DEPENDS THE IMMEDIATE ECONOMIC FUTURE OF CANADA. Everyone's prosperity is involved.

Prepare to buy continued Prosperity in Victory Bonds.

THE LAUGH OF JOHN BARLEYCORN.

Between the war and the epidemic, only the most hopelessly cheerful are doing any laughing these days.

And we must not be too severe on old John Barleycorn if he is splitting his sides, just now.

We had him all bowled out. He had departed with no one to mourn him. Even the politicians who voted for prohibition could hardly ever find a smile to take on the quiet. John was pronounced no good in sickness or health.

As for being an aid by which good sick people could get well, he was a humbug.

So, John went and our drastic reformers were getting on headway to assault tobacco hill.

Alas! Grippe came. Call it Russian or Spanish or German, as you like—it came. And a tremendous cry went up all over the continent, where is John Barleycorn? Bring him back at all costs.

And John was unearthed. Remains of him were found in unlooked for places. Even the good deacons began asking for him, and wanted to know if they could not have just the smallest wee drop of him without having to get those give-away prescriptions.

John will hardly ever come back as a regular beverage. He has been a bad old rascal, but when influenza is raging medical science which is the court of last resort in such visitations, finds him a very useful ally. And the most prohibitionate will not throw him over the shoulder, where symptoms of gripe turn up.

John! You sure have the laugh on us godly old hypocrites.

BROADMINDEDNESS

(Brockville Recorder.) An exchange has the following article that speaks in eloquent terms of the fine spirit of broadmindedness of the Presbyterian clergyman concerned:

"Of a crowd of soldiers gathered one evening in an American hut in England, the Rev. G. W. Russell of Bethelhem Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, now an army chaplain, asked: 'How many of you are Roman Catholics?' More than half of them raised their hands. 'Men,' then said Mr. Russell, 'I have arranged for Father Gile, an English chaplain, to come tomorrow night to receive your confessions. He will use my office. He will celebrate mass on Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock, in this hut. Want you come? I am a Protestant, but you men have escaped the perils of the submarine. Attend mass and then write home to your mothers, or wives, or sweethearts, that one of the first things you did upon landing was to make your confession, attend mass and thank God for your safety.'

"As a result, we are told, nearly every man of them heard mass and received the sacraments, and many of them called upon Mr. Russell to thank him for giving them the opportunity of doing so. For his kindly and considerate act this Presbyterian pastor will be thanked far beyond the limits of the army. The example he has set is certainly worthy of emulation. As an adjunct the reader will not fail to note that in a crowd of mixed men, enlisted under their country's banner, more than half of them were Catholics."

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Upper Kintore, N. B.—A memorial service for the late James Arthur Gordon, who was killed in action on September 2nd, was held in the Upper Kintore 'kirk' on Sunday morning, October 6th.

Many of his friends gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to the lad who had made the supreme sacrifice for his King and Country. Rev. G. C. Pringle spoke very feelingly of the fallen hero, taking for his text, Romans, 13th chapter, 7th verse. A letter from the chaplain of his battalion, telling of his burial was also read.

The following hymns were sung: "Lead Kindly Light," "Thy Will Be Done," "Will the Circle Be Unbroken," and "The Beautiful City of Gold." Mr. and Miss Nevers also sang very nicely, as a duet, "There's a Beautiful Land on High."

The church was decorated in a fitting way with autumn leaves and flags.

Pte. J. A. Gordon was twenty-four years of age, and was born at Island Falls, coming, when a mere infant, with his parents, to this place, then going west in 1906, but the ties of his childhood home were the stronger and he returned in about six years, here he remained until he enlisted in the spring of 1915, going overseas that fall where he saw active service until the time of his death having been wounded twice before.

He leaves to mourn their loss, one sister, Mrs. Fred Smith, of Red Rapids, one brother, Donald, besides his step-father, Thos. Brown.

THE OLD MAN.

Backward, turn backward, O Time, in thy flight; Make me a boy again, So, I can fight. Make me a boy again, Just twenty-one, So I can shoulder A knapsack and gun.

Give me the muscles I had years ago, Give me a step that's Not wobbly and slow. Give me the strength that I may play my part, All that I have; now for War is the heart.

Give me the vim and The vigor of youth, I'll fight till doomsday, and That is the truth. Turn back the decades and Give me a chance To sail with the legions for Far-away France.

What a chastisement it Is to be told: "Back to the fireside, You're no good—too old." Time, your a criminal, That's plain to see, You've made a confounded Old slacker of me.
