

GENERAL FOCH A DEVOUT AND PRACTICAL CATHOLIC

An American Boy Tells of Meeting the Generalissimo of the Allied Armies at Close Range—Saw Him Enter a Church, Get on His Knees in Humble Supplication to the Almighty While Thousands of Guns Roared Not Far Away--The Great Marshal a Deeply Religious Man.

The following article appeared in the Los Angeles Daily Times of October 6th. The subject of the article, General Foch, is a most devoted and practical Catholic, whose brother is a Jesuit priest. The article was written, of course, before Germany signed the armistice.

As the tide of battle in the great war turns more and more from doubt and anxiety to the certainty of victory, there looms with startling vividness in the world's imagination the figure of one man whose genius has exceeded that of any other soldier of whom time has made record.

This man is General Ferdinand Foch—the Gray Man of Christ. This has been Christ's war—Christ on one side, and all that stood opposed to Christ on the other side. And the generalissimo in supreme command of all the armies that fought on the side of Christ, is Christ's man.

This may seem a strange statement for a secular newspaper to make, but it is the business of a newspaper to get at facts. If the facts are of a general nature, it is still the business to get at them and to record them.

And the fact is that, owing to the genius of Ferdinand Foch the Hun stands at this hour with his back against the wall—a wall that is soon to crash and crumble upon his head and annihilate him forever from the face of the earth.

If you were to ask Foch "Are you Christ's man?" he would answer "Yes."

Can that kind of a man win a war? Can a man who is a practical soldier be also a practical Christian? And is Foch that kind of a man? Let us see.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Bilioussness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean, stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

If you were to know a man who came home every night with a bag filled with gold nuggets, you would naturally be curious to know where he went to get them.

In the same way, when you see soldiers winning battles you are curious to know from what source comes their genius. Where then, does Foch go for the strength and magical power to bring home the marvelous victories he has won over Prussia and the unholy alliance she has made to crush the world and drive freedom from the earth?

We have the answer close at home. A California boy serving as a soldier in the American expeditionary force in France has recently written a letter to his parents in which he gives, as well as anyone else could give, the answer to the question we ask.

This American boy—Evans by name—tells of meeting General Foch at close range in France.

Evans had gone into an old church to have a look at it, and, as he stood there with bared head, satisfying his respectful curiosity, a gray man with the eagles of a general on the collar of his shabby uniform, also entered the church.

Only one orderly accompanied the quiet gray man. No glittering staff of officers, no entourage of gold-laced aides were with him; nobody but just the orderly.

Evans paid small attention at first to the gray man, but was curious to see him kneel in the church, praying. The minutes passed until fully three-quarters of an hour had gone by before the gray man arose from his knees.

Then Evans followed him down the street and was surprised to see soldiers salute this man in great excitement, and women and children stopping in their tracks with awe-struck faces as he passed.

It was Foch. And now Evans of San Bernardino counts the experience as the greatest in his life.

During the three quarters of an hour that the generalissimo of the Allied armies was on his knees in humble supplication in that quiet church, 10,000 guns were roaring at his word on a hundred hills that rocked with death.

Millions of armed men crouched in trenches or rushed across blood-drenched terraces at his command, generals and field marshals, artillery, cavalry, engineers, tanks, fought and wrought across the map of Europe absolutely as he commanded them to.

do, and in no other manner, as he went into that little church to pray. Nor was it an unusual thing for General Foch to do. There is no day that he does not do the same thing if there be a church that he can reach. He never fails to spend an hour on his knees every morning that he awakes from sleep; and every night it is the same.

Moreover it is not a new thing with him. He has done it his whole life long.

If young Evans could have followed the general on to headquarters, where reports were waiting him and news of victory upon victory was piled high before him, he would doubtless have seen a great gladness on the general's face, but he would have seen no look of surprise there.

Men who do that which Foch does have no doubts. When Premier Clemenceau the old Tiger of France, stood on the battle front with anxious heart one look at the face of Foch stilled all his fears. He returned to Paris with the vision of sure and certain victory.

The facts then in the case are that when the freedom of the world hung in the balance, the world turned to Foch as the one great genius who could save it against the Hun; and that Foch who is perhaps the greatest soldier the world has produced is first of all a Christian.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

STORAGE BATTERY CARE

Your Storage Battery is one of the important features of your automobile. Its proper care during the winter months is very important. To neglect it or have it improperly cared for means that you will have "storage battery trouble" heaped upon you during the summer months, when you need to have your car running in first class condition.

Our Storage Battery Department is in charge of a thoroughly competent man, and our equipment is the very best we could secure.

We take batteries for either dry or wet storage during the winter months.

We recommend dry storage as most advantageous to the owner for the following reasons:—

First: All wear on the plates is stopped. Disintegration of the active material continues as long as they are in acid, whether or not the Battery is used.

Second: When re-assembled with new insulation in the spring the owner is assured service for a satisfactory period without interruption or expense.

Third: If the Battery proves to be so nearly worn out that a new one must be purchased in the spring, the owner saves the cost of wet storage, which can be applied to the purchase of a new battery. No wood insulated battery can be expected to give continuous service for two years without new insulation.

Fourth: Dry storage takes care of re-insulation during the period when the car is not operated or eliminates the cost of a rental battery, which would be necessary if the re-insulation were done during the driving season.

We respectfully solicit your battery business and will guarantee satisfaction.
