THE REAL VICTORS

The troops of the Allies will soon be marching home again with glorious victory marching on their banners, and every man of them will be glorified and exalted by his share in the conflict. But the real victors will only be seen by the eye of faith and vision. They are they who on Flanders' field and at Gallipoli, as well as in those far lands where once the Master trod, counted it gain to die that others might live. Their brave spirits, filling and firing their comrades and their kin, carried the war on even when the end seemed hopeless. Surely now they may "rest from their labors" and for all time, while this old earth revolves through space, "their works shall follow them."

The World's Emancipation Day has dawned, and high in the sky are writ the names of her Emancipators. It is the New Magna Charta of the world that the Allies are writing, the greatest document yet produced by man, ensuring the liberties not of any favored nations or peoples, but of the whole race of man. We do well to rejoice.

Many places in Canada are getting ready to manufacture small woodenware and toys. This is a class of industry that is susceptible of great development in Carleton and Victoria counties. Where there are lumber mills there is plenty of otherwise nearly worthless waste that might be converted into small wooden utilities. The reason for success of big industries these days is the elimination of waste. Every portion of a felled tree from leaf and bark to sawdust and trimmings could be made marketable. The possibilities of diversity of manufacturers of wood are very great and not yet realized.

Hats off to Coun. Brown and his committee for the manner in which they coped with the influenza situation. Their efforts in equipping and getting ready for service a first class hospital was a record breaker and certainly reflects credit on all concerned. Twenty four hours after they communicated with Hon. F. B. Carvell the military beds and clothing were on the way to Woodstock.

The Spanish influenza ban has been lifted and Woodstock returns to a condition of good health so far as this disease is concerned. This does not mean of course that every last case has been disposed of, or that there will be no more throughout the winter. It does mean that the disease in its epidemic stages has passed. It does not mean that precautions can be thrown to the wind with safety. There will be occasionally cases all through the winter, without a doubt, and individual responsibility to self and to others cannot be escaped.

The work dangerous and self-denying which a few of our women have done, and are still doing, in helping to stamp out the influenza, deserves the thanks of the public. They have been as truly soldiers as the men on the fighting line. They have been splendid.

Newspapers are asked to save paper. Pounds and pounds of government press material, unusable by the average paper, pour weekly into news war on even when the end seemed hopeless. Surely now they may "rest from their labors" and for all time, while this old earth revolves through space, "their works shall follow them."

The recent attacks in the St. John Standard on Hon. Dr. Roberts and the new health regulations only show how small some people can be to want to profiteer politically on the sickness and death that is around us all.

One of the amusing incidents of the celebration was the attempted demonstration of loyalty by the blatant critics, who have indulged in mean sniping practices during the whole four years of war. We all know them.

No, Andrew, water taxes do not mean that persons who have fever will have to pay on their ailment, but it may come to that yet.

In Utah a farmer is credited with raising $25 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Carleton County is not in it with this record.

If you had a murderer on his back and almost out, would you let him up to talk it over?

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen.—In July 1915 I was ing my hip and back badly and was thrown from a road machine, injured to use a crutch for 14 months. In Sept., 1906, Mr. Wm. Outridge of Lachute urged me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I did with the most satisfactory results and today I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours sincerely,

THEIR PATRIOTISM AND COURAGE SHOULD BE COMMEMORATED

Fitting Memorials to Soldier Heroes

The war has come to its end! The Peace Conference of the nations will without doubt formulate overtures of peace which will be accepted by all nations concerned. The Federal, Provincial and Municipal governments by pensions and patriotic funds will be making provision for disabled soldiers and the dependents of those who have died on the fields of battle or in the military hospitals.

There remains to be done by the various communities something which will commemorate for succeeding generations the patriotism, courage and sacrifice of those who have given up their lives in this appalling struggle for deliverance from the dominion of military autocracy. What shall it be?

I propose that in every town and village throughout the land there shall be erected suitable monuments in public places to the memory of these soldier patriots. The little triangular square at Jacksonville Corner should have one inscribed with the names of Judkins, Townsend, True and the Havens. Waterville, Victoria, Graton and Hartland should similarly honor their soldier heroes. And Woodstock should have a monument inscribed with the names of Rankine, McCluskey, Bull, Fisher, Lynott, Harmon, Hull, Sutton, Watson, Wheary, Brewer, and the others. Our citizens should mature plans as soon as possible for such permanent commemoration of the valor and devotion of these young men from our own community.

Of the roads leading to our delightful little town, the one most frequented by tourists and the general public is the one leading from Upper Woodstock and the countryside beyond. As one enters the town by this Main street his attention is attracted to fine residences and the magnificent Fisher Memorial Hospital and there he passes through an unsightly woodyard occupying either side of Main street, disfiguring the whole locality and discounting in the estimation of tourist and travellers, the esthetic taste of our people.

Now there is abundant space for lumber and woodyards a little further north along the railway track in seclusion from the public eye and my second proposal, is that these disfigurements of our town shall be removed, the land purchased from its present owners and the lower portion made into a common lawn on which persons may lounge and rest and children with attendants sport and play with no "keep off the grass" signs. The upper portion between Main and Grover streets should be made into a beauty spot with walks and lawns and settees and in the midst let us erect a noble monument worthy of our hero soldiers gone from us to the other life—without delay movement toward realizing all this should begin, contributions solicited, designers of monuments consulted, cost estimated, etc., etc. The charming view from this section proposed for a lawn common and public rest square is unsurpassed by any other possible site. The flowing river with its islands and bridges, the giant hills and ravines on the opposite side, the hospital and fine residences in other directions—to spend an hour on a summer afternoon or in early evening twilight in such surroundings means soul culture as well as pleasurable pastime. The realization of these things for which I plead would mean the providing of a suitable place for band concerts of which we are in special need, for on the common would be built a commodious band stand. It would mean further a positive beautifying of our town and above all it would mean a memorial to our soldier patriots worthy of them and of ourselves.

Yours respectfully,
B. N. NOBLES,

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Due notice will be given of the date of opening of the Hayden-Gibson Theatre. On account of several new cases of influenza, the local Board of Health deemed it advisable to postpone the opening of the theatres and schools.

The polymorphous feature in Tuesday's parade was a credit to the young ladies who took part. It was a most original stunt and caused much laughter and merriment.

S. C. Hurley representing Mr. F. G. Spencer, the well-known amusement promoter, who has a circuit of fourteen theatres in the Maritime Provinces, arrived in Campbellton last Thursday to take over the management of the Opera House. Mr. Hurley, has lately been in charge of the Hayden-Gibson Theatre, Woodstock, and has been acting manager at different periods in every house on the Spencer Circuit. He is a lecturer of note, and an elocutionist of marked ability, and doubtless his management of the local amusement resort will enhance its entertaining value greatly.—Campbellton Graphic.
