MILITARY NOTES

Grand Falls has a record of sixteen casualties in two weeks.

Lieut. W. A. McDougall, Debec, is in Friday's list of wounded.

Word has been received that Lieut. Robert Moores was wounded in the abdomen and was operated upon. The surgeons had hopes of his recovery but he was unable to rally from the shock.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Graham of Canterbury station, have received word that their son, Pte. S. E. Graham, has been wounded in the right leg. Pte. Graham went away with the 115th Battalion.

O. C. Sparks, of Bath, Lieut. R. B. Wilson, Hartford, B. E. Hovey, East Brighton; H. J. Broad, Beechwood; W. E. Densmore, Grafton; E. W. Smith, Summerfield, are among the wounded in the recent casualty lists.

The report in some papers that Randolph Winslow had been killed was unfounded. His mother is in receipt of a telegram from Hon. F. B. Carvell that the militia department has no record to this effect. Mrs. Winslow's official notice said wounded in head.

The following notice appears in the St. John papers:

"The Soldiers' Comfort, Ltd., beg to notify the public that the shipment of Xmas parcels to the men over seas will begin Sept. 15th. Parcels to be securely sewn in cotton, clearly addressed, and not to exceed five pounds in weight."

The heavy casualty lists occasioned by the present offensive of the Allies have given rise to much conversation on the slim chances a man "over there" has of ever returning home. Here are the soldiers' chances as based on the mortality statistics of the Allied armies: Twenty-nine chances of coming home to one of being killed; forty-nine chances of recovering from wounds to one chance of dying from them. In other words, from ten to fifteen men died from disease to one from bullets; in this war one man dies from disease to every ten from bullets.

Mr. Fred Risteen has received from his son Frank, a member of the 4th battalion, a number of interesting souvenirs picked up after his first trip "over the top." Among the lot is a German shoulder strap, with No. 20 marked on it. There are several post cards and a book of stamps. The young soldier in describing his first trip "over" says he will never forget it. They drove the Germans out of a trench, evidently at lunch time, as they left bread, tea, canned meat and jam in profusion. He says the bread was a black coarse mixture which the English soldiers could not eat. The canned meat was fairly good and the supply seemed to be plentiful.
