

Concerning Motor Car Shortage for the Season of 1919

Although we have anticipated a heavy curtailment in the 1919 production of passenger Motor Cars for the past six months, until recently we entertained some hope of being able to obtain at least twenty-five per cent of our normal turnover. We have been advised by the McLaughlin Motor Car Co, under date of October 30th, last, that our allotment of their 1919 production will amount to one seventh of our past season's supply. As the McLaughlin Motor Car, is one of the oldest and strongest corporations in Canada manufacturing automobiles, it can be accepted as very good indication of conditions generally. The entire production of the McLaughlin Motor Car Co., for the season of 1919, is already sold to dealers and will be finished up and distributed within the next few months.

Our object in making this announcement is in order to give everybody an equal chance to secure a McLaughlin Car.

We will book orders for the various Models until our allotment is disposed of, at prices prevailing date goods are shipped. Prices will no doubt keep advancing until the last of the stock is disposed of.

We will have as full a stock as possible to secure, on hand at our show room, until the supply is exhausted.

Kindly call, inspect them and have a demonstration.

armistice were observed. The enemy vessels will be interned in Scapa Flow. Part of the crew will remain for maintenance work, for the remainder will be returned to Germany soon.

King George visited the American flag ship, New York yesterday. It was a notable occasion throughout.

British destroyers were steaming out of the harbor to take up advanced positions to act as a screen for the grand fleet today, and the portentousness of their mission gave a note of solemnity to the gala scene on the New York. As soon as the royal party stepped aboard, the royal ensign was hoisted to the mast-head.

This was the first time since the United States entered the war that any ceremonial function has been observed. King George was touched by the sight of his standard snapping in the breeze above the stars and stripes, and expressed his appreciation.

King George, the Prince of Wales, Admiral Beatty and other members of the visiting party were received by Admirals Sims and Rodman and other officers of the fleet. Formalities were abandoned. Admirals Beatty, Sims and Rodman were in high spirits and their good-natured bantering kept the whole party laughing. During his call King George voiced the brotherly feelings of the two navies with a suggestion that arrangements might well be made for joint manoeuvres every year by the American and British fleets. His proposal was heartily seconded by the American officers.

As the King entered the royal barge the order came from the officers on the bridge to the sailors and marines—"Three cheers for the King of England." Cheers were given with such a will that they brought an answering cheer from the men on the distant

Admiral Beatty's historic signal after the German fleet had been moored at the appointed place was:—

"The German flag is to be hauled down at 3.57, and is not to be hoisted again without permission."

SINK HYGIENE—One night a month pour a cupful of kerosene down the sink. The next morning pour down two gallons of boiling water. The kerosene cuts any possible grease from the sides of the exhaust pipe and the boiling water dissolves and washes it down, thus preventing the pipe from being stopped up.

KITCHEN KINKS.

A double boiler should have a good large base so that the water will not boil away too quickly.

When making sauces put the flavoring extract in last and less extract will be necessary.

When baking cooking grease the pan then rinse with cold water, and the cookies will not stick.

Chestnut for turkey stuffing should be blanched, cooked till tender and put through a ricer.

AID FOR MRS. NEWLYWED

A genius is a man who is able to get along without work.

"How can I keep my saucepans and kettles from being blackened from the fire?" asked Mrs. Newlywed. "When I have occasion to use a bright new saucepan or kettle over a smoky fire I always rub a little grease over the bright part. Then I wash it in hot water and the pan is as bright as ever," replied Mrs. Neighbor.

ADMIRAL BEATTY TOOK NO CHANCES

The main Allied fleet, extending over a line fourteen miles long in the Firth of Forth, began to weigh anchor at one o'clock in the morning. The Scotch mist which for days had obscured the harbor, was swept away by a stiff breeze, and the moon shone brilliantly out of a clear sky. The ships quickly took their stations in the long double line they held throughout the day. British battle cruisers led the way, followed by dreadnoughts. Admiral Beatty's flagship, the Queen Elizabeth, led the squadron in the northern column. The American warships fell into line behind Admiral Beatty's craft, balancing a British squadron similar in power in the opposite file. The rendezvous was approximately fifty miles distant and the ships gauged their speed to arrive at the appointed place at eight o'clock. Inspection parties from the grand fleet boarded the German ships to make sure that all conditions of the
