THE HENDERSON FURNITURE CO. QUEEN STREET

CARLETON CO. CASE IN DIVORCE COURT

Fred Boaker, of Aberdeen, Carleton county, a returned soldier, who went overseas with the 104th Battalion, and returned in the spring of 1918, badly wounded, from France, charged that his wife, Sadie, formerly a Miss Carroll, of Grand Falls, is living with one Walter Briant, 'as his wife, on Holland Street, Lewiston, Maine. The parties were married at Bristol, N.B., on August 22nd, 1904, by Rev. E. C. Turoer. While they were living at Millinocket, Maine, in 1908, she deserted him and went to Lewiston, but shortly after he took her back again at her father's request at Fielding, near Bristol. In 1911, however, they returned to the State of Maine again, and this time took up their residence at Fort Fairfield. They got along alright until Oct. 19, 1915, when, the plaintiff alleged in his libel, he came home unexpectedly late one night and found his wife with one Walter Briant. The plaintiff left following morning for the lumber woods on the Tobique River, in New Brunswick, and remained there until the following spring, when he enlisted in the 104th Battalion for overseas service. While in the Canadian expeditionary forces the plaintiff declares that he assigned a portion of his pay to the defendant, but that she lived with Briant and still does, having become known as Sadie Briant.

An absolute divorce was granted. R. L. Simms was plaintiff's attorney.

One of the largest seizures of liquor ever made at Van Buren (Me.), on the St. John River, has been effected by the United States customs staff there. They found twenty-eight cases of pure alcohol which was shipped from New Brunswick in a car load of mill waste consigned to a man in South Brewer (Me.), near Bangor. The conductor of a freight train became suspicious of the car, when he realized that plenty of mill waste is at Brewer. He inspected the car, but could detect no liquor. The car was ordered unloaded, and then the spirits were found. It is believed that the alcohol was intended for the Bangor illicit liquor traffic.

Miss Lottie Jones, lately of the Observer staff, has joined the force of the N. B. Tel., Co. Miss Bragdon of the Woodstock exchange, has been here during the week as instructor. W. E. Stone, district manager, was also here on Monday.—Hartland Observer.

A MONUMENT IN COMMEMORATION OF THE HEROIC DEAD

Some Extracts From Discussion In County Council—Coun. Stevens To Opponents, "How Can You Hold Up Your Heads."

Coun. Stevens—What are the possibilities of our being here today if these boys had not laid down their lives for us? They went and fought for us and now some object to commemorate their memory in any way. I cannot conceive how any man can refuse to do this small thing asked. We are being closely watched today. How can we hold up our heads and say we will not commemorate the memory of these boys? I would be ashamed to have this staring me in the face. I hope for the credit of the county that this goes through.

Coun. Phillips—We should have a monument for our fallen heroes. I was always in favor of it.

Coun. Gallagher—My only interest is to see a memorial erected to our fallen men and the county lot is the place for it.

Coun. Carvell—I hope to see a monument in every parish. We should have a county monument. Something for ourselves and children's children.

Coun. Fleming—Make it unanimous. This is the opportune time. Opposition is sectional prejudice.

Coun. Tracey—I favor a monument in county lot and would like to see one in every parish.

Coun. Perry—I always favored a war memorial. Deep in my heart I am a strong supporter of a monument.

Coun. Watson—There should be a monument here on the county lot. It is hard to tell what position we would have been in today if these boys had not given their lives for us. They should be honored.

Coun. Bull—A monument should be erected here. It will last for all time. I have a boy in France in an unmarked grave.

Coun. McIntosh—If erected in Woodstock remote sections will not have an opportunity of seeing it.

Coun. Morgan—Not a veteran in Hartland desires a monument in Woodstock. It is not wise to add to the taxes this year. I will oppose monument to be erected in Woodstock.

Coun. Smith—We have heavy bills coming in this year. This is a large amount of money and I am opposed to it. It is not fair to tax the people of surrounding villages to put up monument in Woodstock.

Coun. Keith—I am opposed to a monument. Brighton is opposed to a monument. We want to build something for living soldiers. It's good business to erect an annex to the hospital. I will vote against a monument in Woodstock.

It is rumored that several business concerns will change quarters in the spring. A substantial increase in rents is the reason given.

40, 33, 32, below Sunday night. These figures are all right—a few degrees is immaterial. The "oldest resident" has nothing to say.

The Sanitary Dairy have completed cutting the next season's ice supply. The manager, Mr. Clark, says that the work of gathering the crop this winter was much easier than last year because no scraping was necessary.
