A MORIBUND PARTY.

In commenting on the almost complete annihilation of the Conservative party in the Nova Scotia elections the Moncton Transcript makes the prediction that the same thing will happen in New Brunswick whenever the present administration appeals to the people. In this connection it says: "When Premier Foster calls an election the prospects are that the Conservative party in New Brunswick will suffer an annihilation almost as complete as that of the Opposition in Nova Scotia. The action of the St John Convention in re-instating Leader Murray at the dictation of Messrs Baxter, Smith and Jones has caused anything but enthusiasm among the rank and file of the party, and the feud between the Big Four and the Tilley, Campbell, Potts, Peck, and Crockett factions has produced no notable harmony. Apparently Leader Murray and his three companions in censure have come to the conclusion that their political future and that of the party will be bound in shallows and miseries. It is reported that the St John organ, which the Big Four have controlled in the past, has been sold, and they would hardly relinquish control of a faithful organ if they did not have good reason to believe that their political careers had ended, and the prospects of the party become rather dark and dubious."

LIBERAL TRIUMPH.

In commenting editorially on the great victory won by the Liberals of Nova Scotia, in Tuesday's election the Halifax Chronicle, the chief organ of the government, says: "The Historic Liberal party of Nova Scotia, with its proud traditions of nearly half a century of ascendancy in the Government of the province, has won a splendid victory. Its great leader, Hon. George H. Murray, appealed to the electors for an honest verdict, taken all in all, may be regarded as the greatest of his long career at the head of the government. "It is a signal personal tribute to Premier Murray that after twenty-four years in office and on his sixth appeal to the people in a general election, he has not only been returned with an overwhelming majority, the party in opposition to him during the whole of this period, the historic Conservative Party of Nova Scotia, as Mr. Fielding said last night, has been almost annihilated."

IMPOSSIBLE TO REGULATE.

The endless discussion on what constitutes proper and improper dress for women was given a new impetus recently by the action of a New Orleans priest, in sending a bride, whom he considered too scantily attired, home to put on more clothes before he would go on with the marriage ceremony. Naturally this priest's course has been both praised and condemned. There is a natural division of opinion about how the women should dress. Man has been struggling with the problem throughout the ages. And it is a problem that has never been solved. We may have to refer to the League of Nations before it can be disposed of.

At times man has stood up in his might and decreed just what and how much a woman might take off before she could consider herself dressed up. Of late it has to be admitted that the female tendency has been toward the theory that the more you leave off the better dressed you are. This school of thought became increasingly prominent since the day when Kitty Gordon began turning her back on the public. And despite the fact that there are few Kitty Gordons around, hundreds of women have had face enough to make up for their lack of back-and have done as Kitty has done.

Were our Puritan fathers to come back to earth today it is almost certain that they would have convulsions were they to attend a social function or walk up and down the beach during the bathing hour at any of our popular resorts. The feminine charms which in their day had to be surmised because of their concealment are now so much in evidence as to have lost their novelty—which was a great part of their charm.

Which goes to show that much of this whole business is mental. Uncertainty is a great exciter, and today one can not be uncertain about very many things. There has been many a rude disillusionment when Nancy and Jane appeared in either evening dress or bathing suit.

But why does man seek to dictate how the women shall dress? In this day of self-determination, what's the use? Man should have learned by this time that the more they try to have 'em put on, the more they will take off and the thinner will become the material they use for their scanty protection. Man should accept his defeat philosophically.—Ex.

New Brunswick last year produced for sale 40,000 barrels of apples while Nova Scotia produced 1,600,000 barrels. And yet New Brunswick can raise as good apples as Nova Scotia. Why is there still so great a difference in the production?

Some ministers are apt to wake up wiser men if they seek to bring about reforms by extreme measures.

When will this county be freed from the indecent assault cases that occupy so much of the time of the courts? What would the men and men who are going to live a thousand years from now think of our civilization if they were to read the mess of filth and corruption that has been served up during the past three or four years?

From the reports that appeared in the Fredericton papers, the defeat of Oro Fino and the "deep gloom of the Woodstock delegation" were the principal and most pleasing features of the Fredericton races.

The estimable critics of the Woodstock Driving Club might well be advised to temper their criticisms with moderation. Assaults from certain quarters make one question the sincerity of the motives of these "horse experts."

THE STORY OF JENNIE HAL.

Formerly Mary Caroline—Sold as a Common Plug.

Down in the Maritime provinces there is a little bay pacing mare named Jennie Hal causing a sensation with her remarkable track achievements. This mare was raised in Burgess by Mr. Stephen White who sold her as a foal seven years ago to Mr. John A. Kerr, of this town, and she was then known as Mary Caroline. It will be remembered she figured in a runaway accident some years ago owing to a fright she got and her driver and owner were severely injured. After that incident she was sold to Mr. Frank McLaughlin who in turn disposed of her to Mr. T. J. Devlin and she was afterwards sold as a common plug to Mr. Sullivan, of Fredericton, N. B., and shipped to that province in a carload of other horses. Her racing qualities were soon discovered and in her first race she won with a mark of 2:24. At Woodstock, N. B., the other day she won second money in the 2:25 trot and pace and in the heats she won, the best time was 2:23.14. Word has been received in Perth this week that her winnings have been protested as it is alleged she is a "ringer" and her identification is awaited. Her present owner will not have the least difficulty in proving her identity. Jennie Hal has before her a promising future.—Central Canadian, Ontario.

FREDERICTON LED WHEN RAIN STOPPED PLAY.

Saturday afternoon's heavy shower put an untimely end to the tennis match between Woodstock and Fredericton clubs which was being played here. Only eleven out of the twenty-seven sets were played before the rain came and put an end to the sport. Thirty-two sets were to have been played but owing to the shortage of the fair sex on the visiting team, twenty-seven were all that were possible.

DO YOUR FEET BURN?

Then use Zam-Buk. There is nothing so soothing for tender, aching or blistered feet. It will end the burning, draw out the soreness, prevent blistering and give you perfect foot comfort. ZAM-BUK
IS SOOTHING!

WHY SUBSCRIBERS ARE ASKED TO PAY UP.

The price of newspaper was increased forty per cent by the paper mills in Canada on July 1st. To prevent news paper offices stocking up, the paper mills and jobbers for months past have refused to supply any customer beyond the average amount. Since 1915 the price of printing paper has increased seven-fold, and another jump is announced before the snow flies.

MEMORIAL TABLET DEDICATED.

At the morning service in St. Luke's church, Sunday, a memorial tablet to the memory of James C. Ketchum who fell at Vimy on May 4th, 1917, was dedicated by the rector, Rev. H. F. Rigby. The ceremonial though brief was very impressive, and was followed with close and sympathetic attention by the congregation. With the family particularly interested in the dedication was W. Q. Ketchum, jr., of Ottawa, himself a returned soldier and who was able to so time his holidays as to be present. The Tablet which is very beautifully designed bears this inscription:

In loving memory of James Carleton Ketchum, who fell at Vimy, May 4th, 1917.
"His body rests in Aux Roites, France. They will go from Strength to Strength."

SALVATION ARMY SERVICES.

The services at the Salvation Army, on Sunday, Aug. 8th, will be led by Ensign and Mrs. Davis. Holiness meeting at 11 a. m. Don't forget the Family gathering at 3:30 p. m. Everybody is invited to this service, from Grandpa and Grandma down to little baby brother and sister. Lots of good singing and music. Interesting Bible talks. At 7:30 p. m., a great Salvation meeting, Ensign Davis will speak on "Life's Greatest Question". Come and bring your friends.

MERCHANT IS OUT WITH THE FACTS.

Feels It His Duty To Tell Others. How Well Tanlac Made Him Feel.

"I feel that I am only doing my duty when I recommend Tanlac for it is the direct cause of my being in better health today than I have been for years," said Elijah N. Thomas, Lower Sackville, Halifax, N. S., who is well known in that locality, having been in the general merchandise business for the past eighteen years.

"For the past six years I had suffered from a bad form of stomach trouble and although I had tried many different treatments and medicines I never found anything to help me until I started taking Tanlac. My appetite was so poor that many times I would get up from the table without touching a bite and when I did eat a little something I would have a terrible distressing feeling in my stomach, gas would begin to form and press against my heart causing it to palpitate dreadfully, and I had great difficulty in breathing. I was constantly belching up sour undigested food, suffered with heart-burn nearly all the time, and there was always a bad taste in my mouth. Then too, I would have terrible ble cramping pains which at times were so bad I could not straighten up when walking and would have to go around all humped over. I got up almost every morning with a dull, mean headache which would stay with me all day. I felt tired and worn out all the time and often was in such misery and felt so badly I just had to leave the store and go home and lie down. I was losing weight all the time, gradually getting weaker, could get but little sleep, and when I started taking Tanlac was in such a miserable, run-down condition it is impossible for me to describe it.

"I saw so many statements from persons who had been benefited by Tanlac I decided to try it. I will have to say, however, I was rather disappointed with the results of the first bottle, and was on the verge of giving it up, but my wife persuaded me to try another bottle, reminding me of the fact that my case was of long standing. I am now certainly glad I did, for while I have only taken five bottles, my stomach is in good condition, I can eat just anything I want without having the slightest discomfort afterwards. I am never troubled with that distressed feeling in my stomach, gas or heart-burn and am entirely rid of those terrible cramping pains. I sleep fine, never have a headache and that tired, worn-out feeling is all gone. Yes, sir, I think Tanlac is a grand medicine and I would advise anyone to give it a trial."

Tanlac is sold in Woodstock by E. W. Mair, in Bloomfield by E. L. Field, and by all the leading druggists in every town.
