J. E. COGGER

TAILOR and CLOTHIER

Queen Street, Woodstock, N. B.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

June 20th, 1896
From the Sentinel

J. R. Murphy on Wednesday, drove Judson Briggs' four-year old colt, by Lord Dufferin, 1/2 mile in 1:13. He did it easily and can without doubt do the 1/2 mile in 1:10.

The school at McAdam Junction, of which Henry Harvey Stewart of Fredericton is the principal, and Miss Susie C. Pass of Harvey, York county, is the primary teacher, was visited on the 16th instant, by Judge Stevens of the Charlotte County Court, and Hon. A. G. Blair. Judge Stevens expressed himself highly satisfied with the conduct of the school and efficiency of the teachers. Likewise the Attorney General also expressed himself very much pleased with what he saw.

LAKEVILLE

very pretty entertainment was given by the members of the Lakeville Union S. S., in observance of "Children's Day." The Methodist church of that place was made even more attractive than usual, both by the floral decorations and costumes of those who took part in the exercises.

The building was filled to overflowing by an attentive audience. The collection amounted to eight dollars. Mrs. Geo. Smith presided at the organ. After prayer by the pastor Rev. J. S. Sells, the following program was well rendered and reflected much credit on those who assisted in making the concert a success.

Doxology, Processional Song by the School; Speeches of Welcome, by Beatrice Williams and Ruby Carvell; Recitation, "Daisy's Plea," by Miss Nettie Bearisto; Rainbow Exercise by seven little girls, Pearl Wilson, Lena Watters, Edna Gillis, Ruby Carvell, Bessie Armstrong, Cassie Annet, and Annie Lindsay; The Children's Day Chaplets, by about twenty pupils. Recitations, A Cheerful Giver, by Myrtle Anderson and Zella Tracey; Duet, by Mr. and Mrs. Sells; Recitation, Miss Rhoda Corbet; Chorus, "Softly Fades the Twilight," by the School; Recitation by Miss Bertie Wiggins; Temperance Dialogue, by Masters Burns and Murray Wilson, Kilburn and Wilmot Annet, George Fowler, Frank Armstrong, Kenneth Tracey, Willie Watters and Gerald Bearisto. Recitation by Miss Marion Watters; Chorus "Sweet Sabbath Eve," by School; Hearts of Gold, a floral exercise.

NORTH RICHMOND

Mr. John Watson who with his wife went to Idaho, about four years ago, after burying his wife on the side of the Rocky Mountains, has come back accompanied by his son, Bertram. They have bought Jas. Watson's old homestead and commenced farming again. They keep bachelor's hall.

Mr. James Watson, councillor, has quit farming and bought the store at the boundary line formerly owned by W. Strong, an accomplished storekeeper, where farmers can get all kinds of goods on credit, as cheap as any other place for cash; he is doing a big business.

Mr. Geo. A. McBride, who came from Montana some time ago, has bought E. J. Briggs' store at the Red Bridge, with nearly all its contents; he says he is making about twenty-five dollars per month clear of all expenses. This young man took to him self a wife a few weeks ago, by marrying Mr. Ephraim Wilson's daughter Annie.

Mr. Wesley McGillan, who sold his farm to Mr. George McGillan for $2,400, and bought in Caribou, paying about $3,500, was here a short time ago, digging for gold. His mother, who died last fall, told him, a few weeks before she died, that she had buried a pot of gold containing about seven hundred dollars in the cellar; she told him the very spot where he would find it, so with that information he came down this spring and borrowed a pick and shovel and with some help went to work, but as the gold did not pan out good he left after working a few days, but he said he would be back after cropping to try his luck again.

Mr. Charles G. Brown, formerly of this place, who has been in Lynn for the last few years, working at the painting business, is coming home in a few weeks on a bicycle.

BATH

The coming election is the topic of the day; each party thinks their candidate will win in the contest; the 23rd will tell who is victor.

J. R. Tracey has had the finish put on the outside of his hotel, which greatly improves its appearance.

J. C. Green has put a new front in his store, making a change for the better in its looks.

Rev. G. A. Giberson has the frame of a barn up and nearly enclosed.

J. McCready is building a carriage house.

Our popular station agent, A. W. Rockwell, who has been spending a few weeks with friends in York County, returned last Monday, bringing his bride with him, having been married that morning to Miss Jennie L. Tomlinson of St. Mary's. They received a hearty welcome in the evening from the boys in the form of a serenade, which was quite lively for a time. Upon Mr. Rockwell coming to the door with his bride, and treating the company to cigars, they said good night and retired. Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell are boarding for a short time at J. McCready's, after which time they will keep house in the one that Mr. McCready is getting ready for their use.

Dr. McManus and family, Washburn Me., are visiting relatives in the village. Mrs. B. Minard and daughters, Lewiston, Me., are the guests of Mrs. Minard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Milbury.

John Cogger, Woodstock, was the guest of his cousin, Mrs. J. McCready last Saturday.
