The Sentinel

Invites contributions by readers to its personal columns. Let us know the names of your visitors. Also other news items always welcome

Phone 55-41

The Carleton

VOL. 73 No. 39 WOODSTOCK, N. B., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30,

BLACK FRONT JEWELRY STORE

Jewelry

Watches

Clocks

Fountain Pens

Unusual Jewelry

Exquisite trinkets for personal adornment. Tiny-linked la vallieres and fine necklaces. Sparkling jewels set in rings, pins and bracelets. These, and a hundred more needfuls for maid or matron—and for "mere man."

And for your table we have the famous

1847 ROGERS BROS.
"Silver Plate that Wears"

OLD COLONY

Optical Goods

Cut Glass

Silverware

Eversharp Pencils

Special Attention To Watch Repairs

Marriage Licenses and Wedding Rings

H. V. DALLING

WOODSTOCK, N. B.

Jeweler and Optician

We have a splendid line of STAFFORD INK, in all colors Green, Red, Blue and Black
ALSO
what everyone needs for their typewriter to clean the type. If you once try it and find how wonderfully it cleans, you will always want a bottle on hand
It only costs 50c. per bottle.

Showing the Best in Photoplays VOGUE Theatre Matinee 2.30 Even. 7.15, 8.45

Friday--Saturday, Sept. 30 Oct. 1

Guy Brothers Minstrels

25 People 25

The Best Minstrel Show that ever Visited Woodstock

BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE ACTS

Dancers, Singers, Acrobatic Comedians
Splendid Band and Orchestra
See the Grand Street Parade
Bring all the Children

Monday--Tuesday

Lila Lee, Lois Wilson and Jack Holt in a scene from William DeMille's Production "Midsummer Madness" A Paramount Picture

A Big Wm. DeMille Special

"Midsummer Madness"

With an All Star Cast

Pathe News Pathe Review Six Piece Orchestra

Wednesday--Thursday

An All British Production with Violet Hopson and Stewart Rome in

"Her Son"

ALSO

Charlie Chaplin in "THE CHAMPION"

THE LIBERAL CHIEFTAIN ADDRESSED 4,00[illegible] MONDAY N[illegible]

Return of the Liberals to P[illegible]
High Cost of Living--D[illegible]
stored to Canada—Bring [illegible]

HON. Ma[illegible]
The next P[illegible]

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 26.—Addr[illegible] Mackenzie King, and people in the curlers' rink he[illegible] leade. of the Liberal party, declar[illegible] return of the Liberal administration could there be in C[illegible]tion in taxation and national expenditures and a consequent reduction of the living cost.

Hon. Mr. King

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, introduced by Premier Murray as the coming premier of Canada, said he had never addressed a more inspiring audience in Canada. The name of Hon. G. H. Murray, said Mr. King, was a household word as one of the leaders of Liberalism. Mr. King paid tribute to each of the Nova Scotia members who were on the platform with him. Mr. King said the people of Canada had been denied a full voice in the management of their country for ten or eleven years. The 1917 election had been fought on a war basis and such matters as the tariff were forgotten in the stress of greater problems overseas.

"Mr. Meighen asks your confidence," said Mr. King. "Mr. Meighen has shown no confidence in you or your judgment since he became prime minister. We have been denied a general election when allied, neutral and even enemy countries have held general elections. Only Russia and Canada refused that right to their people.

"Mr. Meighen has been driven to the country by the force of public opinion," the Liberal leader declared. "He goes to the people and because he was afraid to fac defeat in another session of the house. The Meighen government has not a friend in this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

"The prime minister owes to the people to give them the date which he has chosen for the election so that contracts may be closed and steps taken to bring about a revival of trade and business in Canada.

Railway Matters

Speaking of railway matters, Mr. King said that Canada had 22,000 miles of road taken over without consultation of the people. On these roads and the canals, $165,000,000 was to be spent this year. This again was more than all government departments required ten years ago. The expenditure of the government at Ottawa in a year reached $650,000,000. That meant $310 per family of five persons; one dollar out of every person's pay envelope for each work day. Taxes were not on the rich alone. When the landlord was taxed he passed the tax to his tenants and the merchant's tax passed along to the buyer and consumer.

"Big–bugs have little bugs who have to grind their axes," quoted Mr King

Invest Bring Down Expenses

The sum of $310 per year often meant the difference between a home and no home, or between giving to loved ones the food or education they needed or not, said Mr. King. Taxation is not a class matter. All the families of this country have a vital interest in what our taxes are to be.

We are putting in candidates from the Atlantic to the Pacific today, said the Liberal chief, because we believe that combined efforts is necessary to bring down expenses of government and taxation.

You will never get any economy through Premier Meighen and such colleagues as the minister of militia and the minister of marine and naval affairs. Money has been spent in millions and new developments opened with consequent additions of many new employes. You'll never get any economy until you get a new government at Ottawa and secure a careful audit of books

Wages and Deficits

The government blamed high wages for the railway deficits, said Mr. King. If wages were to be made public then details of contracts should also be made public. The Liberal party stood for publicity and honesty in public affairs and would continue to fight for this when it was returned to power.

Dealing with the tariff, Mr. King said, if returned to power, it would be his aim to follow the policy laid down by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which had brought prosperity. "We are not for free trade," declared Mr. King. "We are, however, for a revenue which is built up according to the revenue necessary; no legitimate industry need fear tariff revision by us."

Mr. King declared "but if there are any big combines or monopolies founded on a protective tariff these will be the only ones crushed."

The tariff, said Mr. King, should be framed to develop the basic industries of the country. It would be our aim, he said, to develop these industries and bring them to a proper success.

King Sound on Labor Question

Hon. Mr. King said to the labor men there was no doubt where he stood on labor matters. His work as deputy ministeri and minister of labor was known to all. There were four parts in industry, capital, management, labor and the public community, said Mr. King, and all these were entitled to some voice in the management of industries. Instead of monopoly there should be joint control by these four interests, said Mr. King.

Mr. King closed with an appeal to all his hearers to join Liberals in "their march to win," which victory he predicted was certain.

Mrs Guy Gabel received for the first time since her marriage on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gabel. Mrs Gabel received her guests in a gown of taupe silk and georgette and was assisted both afternoons in receiving by Mrs Raymond Gabel, who wore blue silk with coral trimmings. On Wednesday, in the tea room, Mrs. M G McLean presided over the tea cups and was assisted by Miss Gladys Gildden and Miss Marion McPhail. On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. H. W. Lowney poured, assisted by Miss Gladys Smith, Miss Rowena Ketchum and Miss Marion McPhail. Little Miss Charline McLaughlin opened the door for the guests. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and potted plants.

DR. GRIFFIN TURNS TABLES

W. A. Jolly, of Quebec province, showed his trim herd of Brown Swiss at the Woodstock exhibition. His only competitor was Dr. Griffin of Woodstock, who purchased a pair of calves from Mr. Jolly a couple of years ago, and who, as Mr. Jolly jokingly remarked, came back with them this year to the fair and trimmed him to the peak, and then knocked the peak off by winning first and male championship on his aged bull and first on his cow, 2 years old. Dr. Griffin, we understand, has added five head to his herd by purchase at Woodstock from the Jolly herd.—Maritime Farmer.

POOR COPY

windshield.

Refused

His companion a[illegible] situation and ran a[illegible] stopped, begging [illegible] come to her assist[illegible] men reached out [illegible] roughly by the sho[illegible] able to break away [illegible] the car started at hig[illegible] direction of Houlton. M[illegible] able to get two of the [illegible] the license plate and is [illegible] was a Maine car. She a[illegible] the officers to the scene [illegible] and gave them in detail the[illegible] of the cars and other importa[illegible] ents.

Badly Injured

The victim of the shooting [illegible] bleeding profusely from the woun[illegible] his face and realizing his serious [illegible] dition put Miss Smith at the whe[illegible] and directed her how to operate the car. The affair occurred a few minutes after ten o'clock and some delay was made in getting started, Mr Slipp losing quantities of blood and growing weaker. Arriving at Dr. Rankin's, he at once rushed the patient to the hospital where everything is being done to save his life.

The Injury

The bullet was of large calibre and [illegible] in a[illegible] that [illegible] protect[illegible] violence. [illegible] have been [illegible] well meaning [illegible] the whole pu[illegible] taken zeal."

NEWMAN CLARK AGAIN ON TRIAL

The trial of Newman Clark, convicted last December of shooting and killing Phoebe Bell, at Grand Falls, commenced for the second time at Andover on Tuesday. Though sentenced to be hung on the first of March, his counsel obtained permission for a second trial by application to the Supreme Court of Canada, on the grounds that the trial judge had wrongly charged the jury

When the court opened, counsel for the prisoner, Hon. W P Jones, K. C., took the ground that the prisoner was now insane and therefore incapable of standing trial, and asked the judge, His Honor Mr Justice Crocket, that his sanity be at once questioned before proceeding to the trial. The Attorney-General, Hon. J. P. Byrne K C, asked that the prisoner be arraigned. When Clark was brought into the court room, he acted as a man in a dream. He seemed unable to comprehend anything of the situation, and it was finally necessary to stand him directly before the clerk of the court to draw his attention to the challenge, "Guilty or not guilty?" When at length he did reply it was in an uncertain voice with: "I don't know." The constables returned him to his seat where he continued to attract attention by his queer actions and mumbling incoherently.

He was soon afterwards removed from the court and the attorney-general acquiesced that the issue of the prisoner's insanity should be first tried.

His conduct during his time in jail would indicate that his mind had given away.

Andover, N B., Sept. 28.—Dr. J V Anglin, superintendent of the Provincial Hospital at Fairville, arrived here last evening and this morning, before Mr Justice Crocket in the Circuit Court the trial before a special jury of twelve men to determine whether or not Newman Clark, charged with the murder of Phoebe Bell at Grand Falls, in March, 1920, is now insane and unfit to plea dand be tried, was commenced this morning.

LIBERALS WILL SWEEP THE EAST

East of the Ottawa River nearly all constituencies, French and English alike are expected to return Liberal members. With this solid assurance cause in gaining ground daily, Liberal leaders and organizers at Ottawa feel that the flowing tide is with them, and that the next government of Canada will be a Liberal administration. Prince Edward Island will be solidly Liberal members. Local Nova Scotia Liberals even express confidence that that province will be swept clean by a wave of Liberal enthusiasm, but the most reliable reports speak of at least fourteen out of the sixteen seats being gained. In New Brunswick there is no doubt in the minds of Liberals at Ottawa but that six Liberal members at least will be elected and the farmers will get some of the five remaining.

In Quebec province, sixty-three seats are expected by the Liberals, and an old conservative from Montreal told your correspondent that he would not be greatly surprised if Quebec went solidly against the government, the English-speaking constituencies as well as the others.

At any rate, it is believed here the Liberals will have eighty-seven seats east of Ottawa.

The Liberal leader, the Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, has been especially active in trying to promote cordial co-operation among farmers, soldiers, women, labor organizations and the Liberal party, as their programmes in the big things are much alike.

Government members are down at the mouth. The prospects of return grow rapidly less. The financial support expected from the interests is failing to materialize. It turns out that many wealthy firms declare that the government has governed badly for the classes as well as for the masses. In any case, the usual subscribers to Tory Funds are too thrifty to throw money away on a sure loser.