The Car. Co. Vocational School Winter Term Begins Tuesday, January 10th, 1922

For the convenience of those young men who found it impossible to enroll at the commencement of the course November 1st last, arrangements have been made that they may yet be accepted as students in the First Year Class in the

COURSE IN AGRICULTURE AND FARM MECHANICS

That the necessary preparation for the increased enrollment might be made, it is important that those desirous of enrolling make an early application. If the number justifies it, board will be provided at cost at the school. Make application now to

R. W. MAXWELL, Woodstock.

SCOTT'S SIDING

Our school which has been so successfully taught by Miss Geneva Marchland, closed Friday, Dec. 23rd. Examinations of the different studies were reviewed in the afternoon.

In the evening a concert was given by the children of the school, conducted by the teacher. The concert was held in the school house, and the building was so crowded that there was scarcely standing room. The children did their parts perfectly though many of them were tiny tots.

About thirty persons came from Benton to be present at the entertainment, thus showing their esteem for the young teacher, who is a resident of Benton.

After the program, Santa appeared, to unload the many presents from a prettily decorated tree, which stood in one corner of room.

The program closed with the National Anthem.

LOWER WAKEFIELD

M and Mrs Hal Gray have been visiting Mrs Gray's parents, Mr and Mrs Dan Melvin.

Basil Nodidn, who has been very ill with quinsy, is able to be around again.

Miss Dorothy Shaw has gone to visit relatives in East Windsor.

The concert which was held in our school house Friday evening, Dec. 23, was a grand success, and much credit is due our most excellent teacher, Mrs Joseph Gans, for the way in which he had each scholar drilled in their different parts. The program was mostly along Xmas line, with some very amusing and comic dialogues, which were greatly enjoyed by a large crowd. A very pleasing sight was the huge Xmas tree laden with presents. We are glad to say we have engaged Mrs Gans for next term.

Several of the men are cutting pulp and lath wood.

Mrs Annie Boyer is away visiting relatives at Andover and The Tobique. A Sing was held Xmas night at the home of Daniel Melvin, which was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present.

A most enjoyable time was spent Tuesday evening, at the home of J A Thompson, when about twenty five of the young people were invited to an old time party. Games of all kinds were played, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The party broke up in the small hours of the morning, all thanking the hostess for the pleasant time they had. They are planning to have a party at the home of Mrs Joe Gans, Upper Woodstock sometime in the holidays.
