BIG RAINS CAUSE GREAT DAMAGE

Crops Injured In Many Sections---Feared Potatoes Will be Struck By Rust---Roads and Bridges Washed Out---No Damage From Freshets.

Central and southern New Brunswick have been hit by the heaviest August rainstorm in almost twenty years.

During the week-end there was an almost continuous downpour of rain which reached its height on the Atlantic coast, but which had extended throughout the entire province.

Tuesday it cleared and has been fine weather since.

Crops Damaged

It is feared that potatoes will be greatly injured in many sections of Carleton County, especially on the low lands. The hot sun after the severe rains will work havoc, causing rust. A lot of grain had been cut and in some cases will be a total loss The standing grain will not suffer so much, but much of it will be flattened and will be very difficult to harvest.. There is considerable hay not in and it will be practically ruined. All root crops will be damaged.

Roads and Bridges

Reports of extensive damage to roads and bridges in New Brunswick as a result of the heavy downpour of rain during the week-end are coming in to the Provincial Public Works Department.

Burton M. Hill, chief highway engineer, said that reports received did not indicate that the damage was as great as in the freshets in June, but a different territory had been effected, this storm sweeping over the southern counties especially while the July freshet damage was confined almost entirely to the territory north of Woodstock.

"Reports of washouts which have been received so far", sadi Mr. Hill "have been confined to th secondary roads where there are still the old wooden culverts. Some of these have been partially filled with leaves and dirt and where they have also been in a state of decay the force of the water has been more than they could withstand. Preliminary reports do not indicate that the damage will be as heavy as in June, when the damage amounted to approximately $200,000, but it is yet too early to make an accurate estimate."

Mr. Hill said that the damage in Kings County appeared to be heavier than elsewhere There a number of smaller culverts had been carried out and the one span of twenty feet had been completely carried away by the great rush of water. The rain has also nullified the effect of a great deal of patrol work done upon the the trunk roads throughout the province.

Damage to Roads

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 29—Damage to provincial roads and bridges in New Brunswick as a result of the deludge of rain, was roughly estimated today at not less than $100,000.

Hon. P. J. Veniot arrived here last night from Bathurs and he has been receiving reports all day."Such a situation as the present one is practically unprecedented in the history of the province," he said, "and it is impossible to tell what the full extent of the damage to the roads and bridges will be. We will be lucky, however if we get out of this and the earlier freshets with damage of less than $300,000 or $350,000." The damage in the first freshet was placed at $200,000

CHAUTAUQUA ENTERTAINMENTS WELL ATTENDED

Splendid Programs at Every Entertainment--Four Special Lectures --Many Famous Musicians Take Part--The Juniors Take Prominent Part--The People Who Made Ghautauqua Possible.

The Chautauqua season was brought to a close on Monday night with the usual large audience present. The attendance during the week was good and the night entertainments wer enearly capacity audience

The program was up to the usual high standard and every feature gave evidence of the careful selection in the engagement of the artists, who appeared on the different occasions.

The lectures, by eminent speakers, wers most instructive and the subjects dealt with were of special interest to everybody.

The musical features were perhaps the best heard since Chautauqua first opened here.

The dramatic part of the bill was very enjoyable and showed careful training on the part of the all who furnished this important feature of the program.

Of special interest was the Junior Chautauqua in which the children gave evidence of remarkable talent along different lines in the short training they received. The session dealing with civic affairs was most entertaining and the town officials showed much familiarity with civic duties. Roland Hull who was elected Mayor, n presenting his different officials, gave evidence of the great responsibility that he had assumed. He carried out the duties of his office with becoming dignity. The following comprised the young people who were appointed to bear the burdens of the town government for the ensuing term:

Mayor, Roland Hull; Town Clerk, Muriel Wandless; Law and Order Commissioners, Donald Seely, Jean Brown, George Dunbar; Public Health Commissioners, Tressa Fewer, Russel Watson.

Health Commissioners, Arden Rogers and Doris Cowan.

The reports were read by the chairman of each department.

On Monday night Russell Watson, on behalf of the juniors handed Mayor Mair twenty-three dollars to be used in connection with the Christmas tree. This money was raised by the Juniors who conducted a "tag day". Mayor Mair thanked the young people for their very generous and thoughtful efforts in aiding a worthy cause.

It was announced that the guarantors had a deficiency, and while the amount, when distributed, was not large it is difficult to understand why so many preosns bought single tickets for nearly every performance. It is hardly fair not to support those whose endeavors are solely in the citizens' interests.

The Guarantors:

Fisher Teachers, Daniel Stewart, C J Clark, J C Dalling, C H Clark F. L. Moores, A. W. Maxwell, Mrs. Daniel Stewart, Harrison W. Rogers, Marguerite M. Merriman, Martha Currie Guy,Geo. R. Keef, J. B. MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY, SEPT. 3

Sunday, September 3rd, will be decoration day and will be in charge of the G.W.V.A., who are making arrangements to decorate the graves of all fallen comrades, as well ae the monument.

A special appeal is being made through this paper, asking all ex-service men to attend in uniform, those who are not in possession of same will be issued from stores.

The parade will leave the armories at 2.30 p.m., one detachment going to the lower cemetery, a second to the Catholic cemetery, and the main body to the Methodist cemetery. Each body will be in charge of a chaplain.

After decorating the graves, the parade will march to the monument, where an address wil be given by Rev. Fr. Lochery, Zone Vice-Pres. of G.W.V.A, and wreaths placed by the different orders.

The 67th C.L.I. Band have very kindly offered their services for the occasion.

All ex-service men will kindly report on this special occasion at the Armories at 1.30 p.m., Sunday September 3rd.

SCHOOLS RE-OPENED MONDAY

Large Number Attending---Many From Outside Districts--Vaccination Regulation Strictly Enforced--Few Changes in Staff.

The schools re-opened Monday with a large enrollment. It is impossible at this time to give a correct statement of the attendance as compared with other years, as many will be coming in for the next week It is noticed that there is quite an influx from outside districts. The vaccination regulation has been generall complied with, and very few presented themselves without certificates. There are few changes in the teaching staff. James Trecartin takes the qlace of Miss Friel, of Moncton who has resigned; Miss Evelyn Gallagher will supply for Miss Mary Millmore, who has been granted one year's leave of absence and Miss Ethel McCrea will take the place of Miss Serena True.

Mrs. Walter Hay came home Friday after a very pleasant visit of some weeks with her son in Misardis, Me. and relatives in Houlton, Me.

Home Cooking

The committee in charge of the Home Department at the Woodstock exhibition are especially anxious to work up the home cooking exhibit. Our good cooks are requested to help along our exhibition in this line, most interesting to women, and certainly interesting to men.(You know, —"Feed them.") Entries will be taken through the firstweek in Sept., for Bread, Cakes, Rolls, Biscuits, Pastry, etc. Exhibitors are requested to read carefully Class 80 of the Household Science Department, and along some of the good things of life. Articles to be sent in the day previous to the exhibition.

Attention is also directed to Class 81, 82 and 83—Canned Fruits, Fruit Jellies Pickles. These articles make a most interesting exhibit.

Woodstock's Big Exhibition Sept. 12-13-14-15, is the subject of conversation everywhere. The committees are hard at work and everything points to a success geater than in previons years. Thousands will visit the "Toronto of the East" this year racing in which the pride of all local Agricultural exhibits from all over tracks will compete for supremesy. Canada and Maine.
