U. S. IMPOSES DUTY OF $1 PER THOUSAND ON PULPWOOD CUT ON NEW BRUNSWICK CROWN LANDS

Retaliatory provisions of the new tariff act were invoked yesterday by the United States treasury against imports of pulpwood cut from the crown lands in the province of New Brunswick and customs collectors were instructed to impose a duty of $1 per 1,000 feet on such imports until further notice. This announcement was received last night from Washington in a Canadian Press despatch, which continues as follows: "Logs cut from private lands in that province will be admitted free. The treasury's action was taken under paragraph 401 of the act, which provides for the prescribed duty on logs of fir, spruce, cedar or western hemlock, where there is evidence that there has been a restriction on their export during the thirteen months preceding their import into the United States. "Quoting the law of New Brunswick, that all wood suitable for the manufacture of pulp or paper cut from the crown lands shall be manufactured in Canada, the instructions read: "The department is of the opinion that this provision constitutes a restriction on the export of logs of fir, spruce, cedar or western hemlock cut from the ungranted crown lands in the province of New Brunswick. Collectors are, therefore, hereby instructed to assess duty under paragraph 401 of the tariff act of 1922 on such logs when imported from that province until otherwise advised."

Appetite Ann, with a smiling face, opened her stand in the market place. The children came, and they ate her bread. "We'll have these rolls at home," they said. "What kind of flour should our mamas use?" "FIVE ROSES," she said, "is the kind to choose!"
