OBITUARY

ANGUS MACEACHRON

Below will be found an extract taken from the Halifax Herald of Feb. 2:

Railwaymen, and a multitude of other long-time friends learned Tuesday morning of the sudden death of Angus MacEachron, Bible Hill, Truro, with deep regret. He was about Monday as usual, and on the evening of that day was seized with a stroke from which he did not rally, passing away at 9.50 p. m. that date. He was for more than forty years a highly valued lineman of the C. P. R., and only retired from service about two years ago. He was one of God's Noblemen, his word being his bond. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Minnie Smith, of Newnan, Colchester, and by two sons, Earl, and Harry, who saw service in the Great War. Mr. MacEachron's mother was the late Jane McCormick of Fredericton, N. B., and Antigonish, N. S. He was a nephew of the late John McCormick, J. P. of Connell street, Woodstock. (Press Please Copy)

TELLS OF ACTIVITIES

Willie Semple, pianist, Bachelor of Music of the New England Conservatory of Music, formerly of East Florenceville, writes to her Conservatory friends regarding some of her professional activities at Washington, D. C., where her address is 1809 Kaloma Road, N. W. She writes:

"Locally I have made a reputation as an accompanist. For instance, the president of the National Woman's Party introduced me at the Woman's City Club by saying she had heard I was the best and best known accompanist in the city of Washington. Since the lady was a stranger to me I was rather pleased to discover some one had heard of me. At present I am holding down the following jobs: studio accompanist for Mr. Whitney; assistant accompanist for the Lovett Choral Club; accompanist for the Dodge Hotel Sunday evening concerts; accompanist for the Connecticut State and New England Societies; substitute pianist for the Denishawn School of Dance; pianist for the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium and dancing classes. I also do some of the playing for the Phillip Hayden School of Dancing. I have pupils in pianoforte and voice."

Miss Semple appeared recently as soloist before the Friday Morning Music Club of Washington to which she has been admitted as an active member.

FEWER SETTLERS ARRIVE IN 1931

WORKING AGREEMENT WITH BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN SUSPENDED

Fredericton, N. B., March 4.—During the four years in which the British Family Settlement Agreement has been in effect, New Brunswick has received 360 families, says Hon. J. A. Murray, Superintendent of Industry and Immigration and Secretary of the Farm Settlement Board, in the annual report of the Department of Agriculture, tabled in the Legislature this afternoon.

The economic conditions, little thought of when these families were brought to New Brunswick, has tended to make some of them discouraged and the work of satisfactory settlement more difficult, the report points out and at the request of the British Government this agreement has been suspended. These settlers, however, are being encouraged in every way by the provincial and federal land settlement divisions.

With the intention of settling here there came to New Brunswick last year 1263 immigrants, the report states, 537 of this number coming through ocean ports and 726 from the United States. The overseas settlers were British and Scandinavian and the total is the smallest New Brunswick has had for a number of years and emphasizes the measure of restriction in force at the present time.

The report goes on to say that: "One of the most disappointing effects of restricted immigration has been the consequent and necessary reduction of Scandinavian settlers coming to the province; of whom we received only a total of 65 individuals during the year, included in which number were nine families. An arrangement made with the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway, and concurred in by the Department at Ottawa, will, it is hoped, bring us many more of this desirable type of agricultural settler during the coming year. I may say in connection that all our Scandinavian settlers coming to New Brunswick during 1932 will have capital at a cost of $103,000. These were sold with few exceptions to our own New Brunswick people. There was collected from occupants of farms owned by the Board the sum of $23,377. Farm Settlement Board accounts have been unsatisfactorily met during the past year owing to agricultural conditions over which the occupants of our farms have no control. Under normal conditions a very much larger percentage of our payments would have been made. This applies to both our own New Brunswick settlers and British settlers as well. Failure to market farm produce and the abnormally low price obtaining for these products have brought about a condition of affairs in our settlement work which only an improvement of our economic conditions can overcome. Since the Board began operations a total of $22 farms have been purchased of which 257 have been paid in full."
