APPRECIATION

of The Late Dr. N. P. GRANT

There lived a man in our town So beloved by great and small, Whose life was a woven tapestry Entwined in the hearts of all.

Like wind to the sagging sail, And rain to the drooping flower, To the stricken with pain and grief His presence gave comfort and power.

Through the drifts and winter storms

When few would venture to dare, If someone needed The Doctor He managed somehow to get there.

With a kind and assuring smile And comforting words of cheer, His skillful hands worked miracles That banished the suffering and fear.

From cottage to mansion he made His daily round—hour by hour, Like Radium—comfort he gave But lessened never his power.

A character molded by toil, Sacrifice, mercy and strain; Lifting mankind o'er rough places, Helpfulness ever his aim.

The threads he had chosen with care To weave in the major part, Were unselfishness, kindness and cheer, In this masterpiece of art.

A great soul dwelt within This man, beloved by all; His tapestry was finished As he answered the Last Call.

And now his work is ended, In many a lonely heart The memory of this kindly man Will live, and play a part.

The above poem was contributed by a patient of the doctor's.

Jacksonville

Harold Harvey of the R. C. A. F., Ont., is spending leave with his sister Mrs. Edna Marsten.

Miss Constance Stevens and Miss Arwilda Paterson have returned to their teaching duties at the Jacksonville school after spending the holiday at their home in St. Stephen and Canterbury.

This community was stricken with sorrow when it was learned that Dr. N. P. Grant had passed away Thursday night. A large number of persons attended the funeral in Woodstock Sunday afternoon.

A CLOSE GAME

Mount Allison C. O. T. C. Cadets beat Woodstock in a game of Softball played on Island Park Monday night by the close score of 16 to 15.

The game was close throughout, and looked like a tie, until in the last innings, with two men out, McDonald of Mt. Allison hit a home run to give the college boys a win.

"Tim" Nelson was the outstanding man on the field, and kept the College boys puzzled and amused, as he would bunt, hit, and steal.

bases in big league style.

The local boys would have no trouble beating the College Teams if they could get all their payers together, but as many of the boys work at night, they have difficulty in getting the best players assembled on game nights.

The players: Mount Allison: McDonald, Marshall, McLean, Chalm, Gould, Dobson, Andrews, Grant, Thompson, Woodstock, Ron Lenehan, Rogers, Filmore, Nelson, Morehouse, Stokes, and Sappler.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

The car load of paper shipped last week weighed 13 ton, 300 lbs. and will net the salvage committee approximately $200.00.

On Monday evening the Scouts, with Perry Potter, driving the Town Truck went to Lower Wakefield and Upper Woodstock Schools and brought in two loads of salvage that had been gathered by the school children. The school teacher at "Hay School", seven miles down river phoned this week to say that her students had gathered a load which will be called for, a legions both puzzled and amused, as he would bunt, hit, and steal.

This week, brought in by a resident of that place, Alfred Bulmer of Irving Oil brought in another load of tires on Wednesday of this week and Claude Black of Bloomfield will bring in a load on Saturday.

The "Boys" are continually working at salvage and although the Town is fairly well cleaned up at the present time, residents are requested to co-operate to the fullest and save everything that is salvage material and send nothing to the dump that may help out in the war effort as before long we will be around again.

Several of the Scouts have already been presented with 100 hour War Service Badges while two of the older Scouts are about ready for their 200 hour badges. The War Service Badge is a special war time badge that can only be presented to those who have the required number of hours in on voluntary war service work such as collecting salvage. During the 1st World War it is stated that only two Scouts of Woodstock reached the 100 hour badge so it would appear that the record of the 1st Woodstock Troop in this present war is commendable.
