The Passing Years

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which
The first was made."

Twenty-Five years ago. From the Sentinel Files August 7th, 1917:

The town fathers looked over plans for the proposed filtration plant at the regular meeting Monday night. A. K. Grimmer, engineer in charge, explained fully all the details of the scheme. It was estimated the plant could be constructed for $40,000 and operated for $3,275. Woodstock has suffered severely from epidemics of typhoid fever which are attributed largely to the impure water supply. A vote on the proposed water system will be taken August 27th.

Sheriff A. R. Foster returned home from Saint John Friday, with a man calling himself Wendell Carter. He is charged with horse stealing and says he comes from Halifax. Monday he hired an outfit worth $350 from Gallagher Bros. left town and has not been seen since until he came back with the Sheriff.

The house on Richmond Street owned and formerly occupied by Miss Lucy Leighton has been sold to the United Baptist congregation and will be occupied by the pastor Rev. Mr. Wilson the first of September.

Fred Boyer, George W. Gibson, J. L. Ross J. R. Brown, returned Monday from a motor trip through Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mair and children left on Wednesday for Digby where they will spend a month.

Mrs. George W. Gibson and Miss Emma Jones spent Sunday at the Lake

OBITUARY

ALONZO McDONALD

Alonzo McDonald, one of the oldest residents of Upper Woodstock died at his home on Friday. Had he lived until next Wednesday he would have been ninety years old. He had been in failing health for the past two years but death came rather suddenly at the last.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Howard and Robert of Upper Woodstock, four daughters Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews of Calais, Maine, Mrs. Lillian Wright of Saint John, Mrs. Roy Stoddard of Lansdowne and Mrs. Roy McCloskey, Upper Woodstock. A number of grandchildren also survive.

The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon from his home, and was very largely attended. Rev. O. W. Shaw, Hartland officiated. Music was furnished by a male quartet. Hymns sung were: "Asleep in Jesus", "Good Night and Good Morning". A solo, "The Church is the Side of the Road" was contributed by Lorne Britton of Hartland. The pallbearers were: Harry, George and Barry London and Norval Clarke. Burial was in the Upper Woodstock cemetery.

MISS ALICE M. TRAVIS

The death of Miss Alice M. Travis occurred at her home in Charlton, Carleton County, N. B., recently. Her death came quite suddenly, although she had been in failing health for several years. She was the youngest daughter of the late Thomas and Lucy Travis, and was born December 18, 1874. She is survived by one sister, Agnes L. Travis, at home, and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, July 26, from St. Bonaventure's Church, Lakeville, N. B. The largely attended service was conducted by Rev. Frederick Carney, and testified to the high esteem in which she was held by the community.

The pallbearers were six nephews, James, Daniel and Harry White; Arthur, James and Claude Fewer. Those attending the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. William Green, Saint John, Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

W. HIRAM BIGGAR

The death of W. Hiram Biggar of Biggar Ridge occurred at the Bath hospital recently following an illness of five weeks.

Mr. Biggar was 83 years of age and until quite recently was active in the affairs of the community. A deacon in the Baptist Church, Mr. Biggar will be missed by members of the congregation.

Surviving are four sons, Clifford, Biggar Ridge; John, Foreston; Guy, Mars Hill, Me.; and George, at home; also four daughters, Mrs. Edwin Colwell, Saint John; Mrs. T. Emery Kelly, Biggar Ridge; Mrs. Raymond F. Ballinger, Chelmsford, Mass.; and Mrs. Clinton Boyd, Biggar Ridge. Mr. Biggar is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Susie Bell, New Westminster, B. C., and by 21 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral service was held from the Biggar Ridge Baptist Church and was largely attended by friends and relatives. The service was conducted by Lic. Harold Mitton, assisted by Rev. H. S. Haslam of Florenceville.

Pallbearers were the four sons and two sons-in-law, Emery Kelley and Clinton Boyd, both of Biggar Ridge, Interment was at the church cemetery.

Jacksontown

The Red Cross met in two groups on Wednesday. One group met with Mrs. Leigh Estey. Those present were Mrs. B. Young, Mrs. E. Bulmer, Mrs. F. Burpee, Mrs. H. Sherwood, Mrs. Harold Gartley, Mrs. Berrie Estey. Mrs. Gartley won the mystery box. A quilt was finished and three boxes were packed for boys overseas. The other group met in the Red Cross rooms. Those present were: Mrs. Elwood Burt, Mrs. Joseph McLean, Mrs. Frank Alexander, Miss Marion Alexander, Mrs. Diblee Smith, Mrs. Jay Dow, Mrs. Albert Chambers, Mrs. Jasper Good, Mrs. Arthur Barrett, Mrs. Eva Everett, Mrs. Guy Good, and Mrs. George Kitchen. Mrs. Burt won the Mystery Box. One large quilt and one small one were quilted, and another large one was put on. Two boxes were packed for boys overseas. Several finished articles were handed in.

The annual roll call and thank offering service was held in the Baptist Church last Sunday morning. The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. W. P. Stiles who gave a sermon in keeping with the occasion. The church clerk Fred Mallory called the roll which was answered with a verse of scripture. A duet was sung by Mrs. Albert Chambers and Mrs. Eva Everett.
