FRESH FROM MARITIME PLANT

"Grow old along with me.
The best is yet to be,
The last of life for which
The first was made".

Twenty five Years Ago, From the Carleton Sentinel Files, Dec. 23, 1917:

Christmas, while not a day of great rejoicing this year, has many features of cheer and gladness. The weather was fine and many family reunions were in evidence. That wonderful being, Santa Claus, was among the little ones as usual and showered many gifts. Services were held in some of the churches and special music was rendered. Good shows were put on at the theatres and they were packed at every performance.

Rev. John C. Bertha celebrated his 78th birthday Christmas. At Centenary Church, Saint John, the minister, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, paid a tribute to Mr. Bertha. Mr. Bertha has many friends in this county who will congratulate him on his birthday.

The staff of the Carleton County schools wish to thank The Sentinel for the manner in which the staff printed the Christmas number of the school paper. It was framed in such a manner as to have been pronounced by a journalist to be one of the best in the province.

All the cases of smallpox in Carleton county are past the danger stage and Dr. Curtis, chairman of the County Board of Health, whose tireless energy is accountable for the stamping out of what with less care would have been an epidemic, in forms The Sentinel that the danger is practically over. There have been six cases in the county. George Britton, Charles and Bert Dyer, of Bristol, W. R. Trafford, of East Florenceville, Clifford Biggar, of Biggar Ridge and Ray and Basil Linder, of Knoxville.

Miss Mariel Smith, Miss Dorothy Dickinson and Vernon Holyoke, who are students at the Provincial Normal School, arrived home last week for their vacation.

Master Orville Felling, of Orono, Maine, is spending his holidays with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Dalling.
