The new town council held its first meeting on Monday evening. The board is the same as last year except that James Carr occupies the place of Coun. Flemming.

His Worship in his happy inaugural made certain important suggestions which doubtless will receive due attention at the hands of the council. He thought the fire department should have more hose and that an electric striker should be placed on the fire bell or on some of the churches. Asphalt sidewalks from the town hall down Main Street appeared a necessity. The establishment of a sinking fund should be made. He was of the opinion that legislation should be made separating the town from the county. Henry B. Smith was appointed measurer of wood. Zebulon Connor, George Anderson, and James Gallagher assessors. J. C. Gibson, chief of Police and Thomas McCarron, night watch. J. C. Hartley, town clerk and solicitor.

W. T. Whithead, a Woodstock boy for whom the Sentinel has long entertained a kindly feeling is a candidate for mayor of Fredericton.

Rapid Distribution Of Civilian Anti-Gas Respirators Arranged

The Civilian Volunteer Corps administering civilian defence in New Brunswick issued a statement this week at C. V. C. headquarters in Fredericton in connection with the possibilities of chemical warfare in Canada.

H. M. Armstrong, deputy director of civilian defence in the province, who prepared the statement jointly with D. W. Wallace, provincial gas officer, pointed to the growing conviction that the Maritimes were liable to gas attack by the enemy before the war ends. Air Raid Precautions officials were leaving nothing undone to prepare for such action, he declared.

The statement follows: "In view of the fact that publicity has been given as to the anti-gas respirators available in some of the provinces in case chemical warfare should break out, it may be well to clarify the position of New Brunswick in this respect.

"So far civilian respirators have been delivered to the province and distributed at strategic points in sufficient quantities to meet possible needs. Machinery is being set up to ensure rapid distribution if and when it is deemed necessary. The policy as laid down by the Department of Pensions and National Health is that these respirators shall be sold at a cost of $1.25 each to any individual who can pay for same. They will be furnished free to any one making a declaration to the effect that he or she cannot afford to pay for them.

"The number of respirators issued to each person over 16 years of age will be endorsed on the back of his or her National Registration Certificate. While only one respirator will be issued for an individual, in the case of children under 16 years the number issued to such children will be endorsed on the back of the National Registration Certificate of the father or head of the family. Official receipts will be issued for respirators purchased and receipts will be obtained for all respirators issued.

"The Civilian Respirator comes in three sizes—large, medium and small. Generally speaking the large size will fit most men and some women, the medium size most women and large children while the small size fits for children down to about 4-12 years.

"In addition to the above, two types of respirators will be available—the 'Small Child's' and the 'Protective Helmet.'

"The Small Child's Respirator will fit children from about two years to 4-12 years and will sell for $1.25 which is only a portion of the cost.

"The Protective Helmet is for infants up to about two years and will be available on a deposit of $2, which is only a small fraction of the real cost.

"As indicated for Civilian Respirators, the Small Child's Respirator and Protective Helmet will be furnished free for those making a declaration to the effect that they cannot afford to pay for them.

"Criticism may be forthcoming that these respirators should be distributed at once but if this were done there would be a large loss through deterioration or lack of care on the part of those having them. This has been proved by the experience of Great Britain. However, when the machinery has been set up and personnel trained to fit each helmet to the individual using same, there should be no reason why respirators should not be sold or distributed, provided, of course, that the situation should warrant it.

"It may be pointed out that the distribution of respirators is not all the work entailed in anti-gas warfare. There is the organization of decontamination squads, gas identification personnel, cleansing centres, first aid, respirator distribution centres, etc. all of which require trained personnel.

"Not only the anti-gas organization but all phases of civilian defence require additional personnel. Every civilian should be interested in seeing that his or her family is protected in case of enemy attack either by gas or otherwise. All the Department of Pensions and National Health, through the headquarters of the C. V. C. at Fredericton, can do is to furnish the material and information. Municipal councils, through their C. V. C. branches, are responsible that all phases of civilian defence will be properly organized if or when the supreme test comes.

"THIS IS NOT THE TIME TO RELAX. THE WHOLE TEMPO OF WAR IS BEING STEPPED UP AND NO ONE KNOWS WHAT MAY HAPPEN, EVEN IN NEW BRUNSWICK."

and her udders washed with warm soapy water. These precautions are to control round worm infestation in the young pigs. Except for clean fresh water, the sow requires little or no food for twenty-four hours before and about thirty-six hours after farrowing.

By far the greater percentage of fatalities in young pigs occur between birth and weaning time. A little extra care before and after weaning time is necessary. Rickets, posterior paralysis, and other nutritional diseases can be prevented by a well-balanced ration.
