REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTRANCE TO WOODSTOCK HIGH SCHOOL IN HISTORY, GEOGRAPHY AND LITERATURE

These suggestions are published for the benefit of teachers who are preparing pupils for entrance to High School this year.

HISTORY—Canadian—as in the Course of Instruction—more emphasis to be placed on the Stuart Period to end of text.

GEOGRAPHY—As prescribed in the course of instruction, with the addition of the Continent of Europe. Minor details to be omitted—except as they add interest, but not for examination purposes. More emphasis to be placed on General Geography. Special emphasis should be given the war zones.

LITERATURE—A few general suggestions on the teaching of Canadian Book of Prose and Verse Book 11.

1. Each student should be required to have a general knowledge of the more important selections of each section.

2. I think this book is meant for general reading and enjoyment and not so much for close study.

3. Some of the selections could be read by the students by themselves but the teacher should check to make sure the assignments have been done.

4. The student should be encouraged to see, not only the bare facts but "something beyond." Probably you can best test his ability to see "something more" than facts by having him write the story of a selection.

5. Pupil's should be taught to commit certain selections and passages to memory; those who find it very difficult to memorize might be permitted to learn some of the more difficult memory selections in their own words. ALL students should memorize some of these sections.

6. By the time students reach Grade 8 I think we should be encouraging them to express their own personal opinions about some selections. The teacher must be careful she does not find the pupil giving her back her opinions.

If you are in doubt as to which selections you should teach and which you should leave out, here are some general suggestions:

Part 1. I would teach most of these Number 7 would be taught from the standpoint of enjoyment and maybe "Dafoed's Return" would be memorized.

Part 2. A. Travel Tales of Long Ago—I would omit the first three B. Little Journeys—I would leave out at least one here—probably "The Isles of Greece," and I would have the memorize "Our Island Home" and possibly "The Spirit of Oxford"

C. The World of Wandering Horizons—I would not teach all of these. Probably numbers 2 and 5 would be omitted.

Part 3—The School Theatre—I doubt it I would teach the play at all.

Part 4—A. Adventures of Old and New—Some of these could be omitted, maybe number one, and I think I'd memorize some of numbers 5 and 6.

B. The Comedy of Adventure—One of these could be omitted, possibly number three.

Part V—The Book of High Courage—The Highwayman—number 1—should be taught from the standpoint of enjoyment. Of numbers 2, 3, 6, 8—I probably would teach two. Number "The Soldier," should be memorized and from the poem "The Arsenal" verses 4 and 5 on page 227 might well be committed to memory or learned in pupils' own words. Number 9 could probably be left out.

Part 6—Stories of the Pioneers—This section could be done very quickly I think "Socrates," "Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard" and "The Praise of Famous Men" merit some special attention. Some verses from "The Soldier" and "The Last Message" by King George V should not be overlooked.

A teacher should not omit a whole section of this book. It is immaterial in what order the sections are taught but once a section is started, it should be completed before a new one is started.

The Land We Love—This is easily within the range of Grade 8 pupils' ability and should not be neglected. If you feel you have been skimped on

Avoid Catching Cold

Build up your body resistance by taking Vitamins "A" and "D" in some form. The easiest and perhaps the best is Puretest Halibut Liver Oil Capsules (Insist on Puretest if you want the best)

Be prepared by keeping in the house at all times—
Rexall Cold Tablets, Rexall Nose and Throat Drops, Boots Iodized Throat Tablets and Rexall Bronchial Syrup.

If these do not help at once go to bed and send for your Doctor.

Now is the time to give the kiddies Cod Liver Oil. Make it Puretest Dated Cod Liver Oil Or some Compound such as the pleasant tasting Puretest Malt and Cod Liver Oil ted, maybe number one, and I think I'd memorize some of numbers 5 and 6.

B. The Comedy of Adventure—One of these could be omitted, possibly number three.

Part V—The Book of High Courage—The Highwayman—number 1—should be taught from the standpoint of enjoyment. Of numbers 2, 3, 6, 8—I probably would teach two. Number "The Soldier," should be memorized and from the poem "The Arsenal" verses 4 and 5 on page 227 might well be committed to memory or learned in pupils' own words. The Land We Love—This is easily within the range of Grade 8 pupils' ability and should not be neglected. If you feel you have been skimped on poetry in the Canada Book, you can make up for it here and catch up on the memory work if you think you have done sufficient. This book was certainly meant to be enjoyed and appreciated by the pupils.

Spelling should not be overlooked in Grade 8. It is of vital importance. GRAMMAR AND COMPOSITION

The Copywriting and Marshall Grammar should be taught. The Junior High School English does not give sufficient formal English Grammar to fit pupils for High School. I think the Course of Instruction should be followed as nearly as possible.

For Composition—"Learning to Speak and Write" Book 11 should be the text as prescribed in the course of instruction. Special attention should be given to teaching the fundamentals of composition, e. g., structure of the sentence, essay and story, the simple figures of speech, spelling etc. By this I do not mean to omit the other topics; they should be taught as fully as conditions permit.

SUGGESTED SUPPLEMENTARY BOOKS

1. A Manual in Composition grade 7 and 8 by A. J. Watson, B. A. (In hands of teacher)

2. My Literature Book 8—in hands of teacher
