The Carleton Sentinel

I am the oldest business in this town;
Old mills have been abandoned; I persist.
Old houses, old hotels of great renown
Have gone their ways, but I, I still exist;
Upon my inky pages there appears
The story of this place throughout the years.
I told of youth and war, of girls who wed,
Of rich and poor alike, of thief and sage,
And how they lived—though most of them are dead
While ageless I am of the present age;
Man's varied acts have always been my text—
What happened long ago, and what comes next.
Though I am old, in truth I still can say;
Nothing can be so nearly up-to-date;
Both yesterdays and morrows I survey—
Of ne'er-do-wells and those of high estate.
I lived because I served, and still shall live
Because, of all I have, to all I give!

A.R.P. Corps at Ford Plant

SHOULD enemy bombers ever appear over the Detroit-Windsor industrial area, it would be the job of these men to help fight fires in the great Ford of Canada plant. There are nearly 42 acres of roof on the plant so special training is given in the handling of incendiaries. More than 2,000 Ford workers have volunteered for the Air Raid Precaution course which includes first aid work. Above, Sergeant J. Tearne of the company's watch department, who gained wide experience in A.R.P. work in England during the worst of the Blitz, demonstrates the most effective method of handling oil fires with a foam extinguisher. Many Ford employees are active in Windsor's Civilian Defence Corps.

Extra EGGS!

The industrial armies of Britain—yes, and of Canada too—and the fighting forces--need more eggs. Eggs are one of the vital health foods. Every hen should be a No. 1 War Worker--producing to her limit. Every egg possible must be secured this fall and winter. Ensure peak production at minimum cost by feeding a truly balanced laying mash--your own grain mixed with SHUR-GAIN BIG 50 LAYING CONCENTRATE.

LOWER FEED COSTS— MORE EGG PROFITS

Every extra egg your hens lay cuts production costs and lifts profits. By balancing your grains with SHUR-GAIN BIG 50 LAYING CONCENTRATE you will get more eggs. And you save in another way: this balanced ration will help keep your hens healthy right through the winter. Make up your mind to produce more eggs with SHUR-GAIN BIG 50 LAYING CONCENTRATE!

See your SHUR-GAIN dealer without delay!
