"The best protection a young woman can have in New York," said a big policeman on the Broadway squad, "is one of those little silver crosses the the King's Daughters wear. I've noticed that nowaday the professional masher will look first at the bosoms of a woman's dress, and if that little cross is dangling from a button hole passes her by without even a stare. It's the same way on the street cars as on the street. The young woman who wears

His observations lead him to the conclusion that if given fresh, in doses of from one ounce and a half to six ounces a day, mixed with a little marsh-mallow syrup, regularly for at least two weeks, it is practically a specific. Given at once, the symptoms vanish in two or three days. and in a fortnight the disease is expelled. Its simplicity and comparative harmlessness, combined with the fact that it is a remedy within the means of the poorest is a strong recommendation.

Poker Playing.

Worcester, Sept 10.—The local police are working on a very mysterious case. An unknown man was found by a newspaper man ringing the night bell at Dr.

Ellis's office, 586 Main street. The man said: "I am shot and must have a doctor." Two policemen came along and enquired the man's name. He refused to tell, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kelly were in and they told him if he didn't tell they could give him no assistance.

The man was apparently suffering great pain, but he said, "All right, I'll die here on the sidewalk then."

Dr. Ellis took off the man's blood-soaked vest, and the blood spurted from a bullet wound in the breast. The ambulance took the stranger to the City hospital. At the Miss Mary Fraser and Miss Janie Mc- hospital he gave his name as James Martin. He said he was born in India, and was 35 Mr. Robt. Whitty who has been danger- | years old. He said he had been playing poker with a party of strangers, and was shot during a quarrel. He refused to give any information about the place where the game was played. Examination showed that he had two wounds, one two inches to the right of the nipple on the left breast, and extending down and back to a point just over the thigh. A gold watch and $200 in money were found in his clothing. The wounded man is about 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighing about 150 pounds. He wore a black hat and a black cutaway coat, vest and trousers of different cloth, and a brown checked gingham shirt. His shoes were heavy, and bore marks of having been

Look at Your Fingers.

Fingers which are smooth denote a tendency to act upon instinct, impulse or intuition, rather than by reason, calculation or deduction. Knotty fingers denote a tendency to order and arrangement. People with short fingers are quicker, more impulsive, act more on the spur of the moment than people with long fingers. If the fingers are very short it signifies cruelty and want of tact .- Philadelphia Record.

As a safeguard it beats the average courts. In this connection we beg to say that our attention is directed by recent events in this county to the necessity for the establishment of a central Juvenile Reformatory for the province." This is also desired by all as it appears harsh to send boys to the penitentiary for crimes and nothing e se can be done as there is no other place to put them. > A Deadwood correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean says: The other day I witnessed the work of a miner in the coal mines at Cambria, the great coal centre of the Black Hills. In one of the rooms leading off the main entry this man was loading coal, about which performance there was nothing out of the ordinary, save that the man had but one arm, the other had been taken off at the shoulder, and with the remaining member he earned, on an average, $3.50 per day. Think of the number of men who are too useless to fill their mouths with both hands and then look at this Cambria miner who, with a single arm and hand, supports himself and family.
