DORCHESTER, October 7th, 1891. DEAR EDITOR :- I have addressed to every post office in the two counties of Westmorland and Kent, to be posted for public inspection, copies of preliminary lists, including lists of names to be added and to be removed, together with notices as to the time of holding courts of revision, and as to the time within which to give notice for the adding or striking off of names.

I take the liberty of inviting, through your columns, every one entitled to a vote to see that his name is on, and, if not on, to apply at once by a notice in form D., and a solemn declaration of the possession of the qualifications necessary to entitle to be registered. Let there be no delay. Forms can be had at all printing offices. Many names have been struck off which I believe can be restored by an application. My desire is to make as perfect a list as possible, and for that purpose the aid of all parties interested is invited.

Yours very truly, P. A. LANDRY. Revising Officer.

Harcourt Notes.

Your numerons readers, Mr. Editor, will notice that the name of our station has been changed from Weldford to Harcourt Station, owing to the mistakes that were occurring from time to time both in goods and mail matter being mis-sent to Weldford Station and other places of similar names, the people of this place and the railway authorities concluded it was the surest way to get over the difficulty.

Thos. Atkinson and L. J. Wathen were returned by acclammation as councillors for Harcount. There were four candidates nominated, namely, Thos. Atkinson, L. J. Wathen, Thos. Delaney, and W. W. Pride, Esq., but Messrs. Delaney and fast table. "See how it stands on its an election if ther ewere others nominated, as Mr. Pride purposes spending the winter in the States, and Mr. Delaney does not aspire to the municipality.

McCarthy Murder Recalled.

It was 14 years on Monday night last, Oct. 11th, since the late Timothy McCarthy lost his life at Shediac, and which resulted in the Osborne family being arrested on the charge of murder Since the trial a great many changes have taken place in legal circles. Mr. Tuck then Q. C., and prosecuting council for the Crown, has been made a Supreme Court Judge, and Mr. A. L. Palmer, Q. C., then leading Counsel for the Defence, has been made a judge in Equity. Mr. C. A Holstead, who was then a leading lawyer in Moncton and who helped the defence for the such an obedient egg is very simple. Let prisoners, is dead. #### Bi-Chloride of Gold.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 16-It is thought that the selection of a place for location of the Maine hospital for the cure of drunkenness will result in the choice of either Farmington, Phillips or Bridgton. The Farmington people are holding out inducements and expect to succeed in getting the institution located in their

The zeal of the people of Farmington is undoubtedly stimulated by a remarkable cure effected upon one of the most popular citizens of the place. This man had been addicted to the usc of intoxicating liquors from his youth. His father was said to be a millionaire, but what he left to his son was placed in trust on account of the son's unfortunate habits. This son has resided in Farmington many years, and has always been a gentlemanly and scholarly man except when under the influence of liquor. And his friends have always deplored the frequency of this latter condition. A few weeks ago this man and his wife left Farmington quietly and went to White Plains, N. Y., where there is a sanitarium for the cure of inebriates by the bi-chloride of gold treatment.

Fvery day the bi-chloride of gold was injected four times under the skin of the Farmington man, and every day the doctor in charge gave him half a pint of his favorite drink-which happened to be whiskey-with instructions to drink all he wanted. For ten days the Farmington man took the injections and the whiskey. On the eleventh day he discovered that he did not want the whiskey. Nor has he wanted any kind of liquor since. The treatment was continued several days longer, and then he and his wife returned to Maine, both of them thoroughly happy.

The gentleman has not made a great deal of conversation around Farmington about his cure, but to a number of his friends he has told the story. He does not wish to have his name paraded in the papers, but is perfectly willing to give his opinion of the cure to any who may be as unfortunate as he was and wish in good faith to learn about his experience.

An Obedient Egg.

"This is a queer egg you have given me, mother," said Woodruff at the break-Pride withdrew their nominations, as, it smaller end!" Everyone at the table appears, it was not their intention to run looked up in astonishment. Sure enough, performed a wonderful feat of athletic there the egg stood as Woodruff had said, and, what was more wonderful still, in perfect balance on the brim of a bowl.

The boy took it down, and lo! it assumed a slanting position on the edge of the table seemingly in the act of falling down, and yet not falling. All the girls almost screamed in their amazement.

Next Woodruff took the egg and put it in a different position again on its broad end, and finally clapped it, as it were, slanting on the head of a bottle of mineral water. The positions which an obedient egg may be made to assume are not all told here. It may be placed in any other position at the will of the person who handles it. It can stand on end, sideways, inclined to the right or to the left, half re-

Blamaceda Still Lives.

CINCINATTI, Oct. 19 .- Dr. Francis Rivers and Signor Charlos del Rio, late of the Military staff of President Blamaceda. of Chili, arrived here yesterday. Neither can speak a word of English. They had with them Mr. Bloct, of California, interpreter. Through him they said that Balmaceda was not dead, all reports of his suicide to the contrary notwithstrnding. and that they expect to meet him either in New York or Europe.

San Francisco has a boodle scandal of surprising magnitude and character. The thieves are the leaders of both policical arties in the city, and a long succession of exposures of their methods has culminated in the indictment of a syndicate organized to sell votes in the Legislature and Board of Supervisors and divide the proceeds. The people apparently have relied on Judge Wallace, of the Supreme Court, to free them from the yoke of the ring, and he is proceeding in the best way to bring the boodlers to justice, despite the suspicious conduct of his confreres. A panic has set in and there has been a partial decampment; one "Boss" Buckley and four of his lieutenants taking flight to Europe. But the other "bosses" have determined to fight the matter out, and they are moving to have the grand jury empanelled by Judge Wallace discharged and a new body appointed to their liking. The other members of the and the Call says it is for them to decide whether they can afford to take part against the pending uprising. After all, the United States is the home of the boodler. There his influence pervades, not only the electorates and legislatures, but the tribunals of civil and criminal justice also.

Thought it was a Partridge.

While partridge shooting with a companion near Lawrence Station on Tuesday a lad from St. Stephen, named Norman Nicholson, was accidentally shot in the leg. The two were separated for a time and Nicholson's companion seeing a movement in some bushes near him that, as he thought indicated a partridge, discharged his gun and shot Nicholson, who was the cause of the disturbance noticed, in the leg. Four partridge shot penetrated the fleshy part of the victim's limb, and the wound, though not dangerous, is very painful.-Courier.

Canadian Universities.

A large sheet on which will appear, artistically grouped, beautiful engravings of the universities of Canada will be one of the four magnificent supplements to be presented with the Christmas number of the Dominion Illustrated, now being prepared, regardless of pains and expense. This one supplement will alone make the number of great value, especially to send abroad, giving strangers a clear conception of the advantages for higher education which Canada possesses. This Christmas number will far surpass any thing of the kind ever issued in Canada.
