A Good Local and General Paper.
The St. John Globe says: The Richibucto REVIEW circulates among the English speaking people of Kent county, in the upper part of Westmorland, and in part of Northumberland county, and it is a good local and general paper.

For the Past Three Years.
For the past three years E. B. Bigger, of Montreal, has been gathering anecdotes and facts relating to Sir John Macdonald, and the result is an anecdotal life of Sir John, which will be issued in a short time. Before going to press Mr. Bigger will be glad to receive any authentic anecdotes or reminiscences on the subject that have not yet appeared in print. Mr. Bigger's address is the Fraser Building, Montreal.

In the Year 1794.
In Boston there were, according to Samuel Adams Drake's "Old Landmarks of Boston," 18,000 inhabitants and 30 distilleries—one for every 600 inhabitants. Rum, fourpence a quart.
With a population to-day of 450,000, Boston has one saloon for every 500 of the same. This is not so very far from the ratio of 1794. The price of rum, however, has changed, so that fourpence would not buy even a drink up to the time of going to press.—Boston Globe.

The Kingston Driving Park.
The new company who have acquired possession of the Kent Driving Park, are making vigorous efforts and will have it in good condition for the coming races on the 8th July. The track will be put in good shape and the committee of management will spare no pains or expense to make the coming event a great success. It is the intention to conduct all races on this track in future in such a manner as will gain the confidence of the public and make this Park one of the institutions of the County. For particulars see announcement elsewhere.

Handkerchief Social.
The ladies of Mill Creek, Buctouche, intend holding a handkerchief social in the school house, on Tuesday evening, the 23rd. A committee has been appointed and judging from the unflinching interest manifested by them a good time may be expected. The social will be interspersed with songs, recitations, and speeches; and every effort will be put forth to make an enjoyable evening for the pleasure seekers. During the evening a handsome autograph quilt will be disposed of. The proceeds will go towards an established fund for the erection of a Presbyterian church in the vicinity.

Stories of the Land of Evangeline.
By Grace Dean McLeod. 12mo, $1.25. Boston: D. Lothrop Company.
The old days of Nova Scotia are full of life and color. Their story is picturesque—its incidents stirring, its lines full of fire, pathos and sentiment. Mrs. Catherwood and Miss Machar have already shown us the romantic side of the story of New France; in this dainty volume, its cover etched with the rocky outlines of Cape Blomidon, its narrative illustrated by Sandham's striking pictures, Miss McLeod has done the same for Evangeline's homeland—the land of Acadia. Here are tales of French patriotism and English daring, of Indian patience, loyalty and cunning, of Acadian love and life, of childish faith and childish pleasure in the midst of danger and death, of the sudden strength of loving women made brave by danger, of the endless feuds of the old colonial days, of Louisburg the impregnable, of Port Royal the strong, of Minas Basin, of Lake Rosignol the placid, of Grand Pré and the Bay of Fundy and the struggling new city of Halifax. To one who loves the story of the wandering Evangeline and whose interest has been awakened in the woes and worries, the hopes and fears of the "evicted" peasants of old Acadia this collection of thirteen dramatic and absorbing stories of the old land and its early people will be found fresh, entertaining and delightful reading.

Sir John A. Macdonald.
The issue of The Dominion Illustrated for the 29th inst. will be devoted almost exclusively to an account, with full illustration, of the event which is in all men's minds—the funeral of the dead premier, Sir John A. Macdonald. No such outburst of popular sorrow over the death of any man has ever been evoked in Canada, as that which pays tribute to the greatness of the deceased statesman. The Dominion Illustrated sent its own photographers and artist to Ottawa and Kingston, and the number to be issued on the 20th inst. will be a memorial worthy of the occasion, and one that throughout Canada will be preserved as a sad souvenir of the man whose death has left so great a void in the hearts of the people as well as in the public life of the country he has served so long and so devotedly.

SUGGETS.
—There are eight physicians and surgeons and thirteen lawyers in Sussex.
—Mr. Wm. J. Smith left on Tuesday for Charlottetown, P. E. I., by packet.
—A lobster thirty-two inches long was caught at Red Head, St. John, on Monday.
—The bark Veronica, Capt. McLean, arrived at St. John on Monday night with three cases of small pox on board. The vessel came from Montevideo.
—Mr. Charles Pollick, of Mill Creek, who lately returned home from the U. S. sick with a severe attack of inflammation of the lungs, still continues in a very delicate state of health.
—We respectfully draw Commissioner Hudson's attention to a bad hole in the sidewalk in front of MacLaren's drugstore. Some philanthropic citizen, in order to save the limbs of pedestrians has endeavored to patch it up, but the cure is as bad as the disease in this case.
—Mr. Crockett received official notice from Mr. Blair of his dismissal from the chief superintendency of education on Saturday last, with the reasons therefor, to take effect on the 1st prox. Mr. Crockett has sent his reply to Mr. Blair. Dr. Inch, of Sackville institutions, is to succeed Mr. Crockett.

—Mr. Bustard, of Salmon River, missed six of his sheep last fall, and five of them came out of the woods this spring having lived the whole winter in the woods. They were yarded about one mile back of the settlement and must have lived on moss and browse during the long winter.

—On St. John's day, the members of St. Andrew's Lodge, F. & A. M., will march in a body from their hall to St. Mary's Episcopal church, where the Rev. Mr. Hackenly, chaplain of the lodge, will address them, after which the members of the order will again form in line and proceed to the cemetery for the purpose of decorating the graves of deceased brethren. They will also visit the graveyard in Kingston for the same purpose.

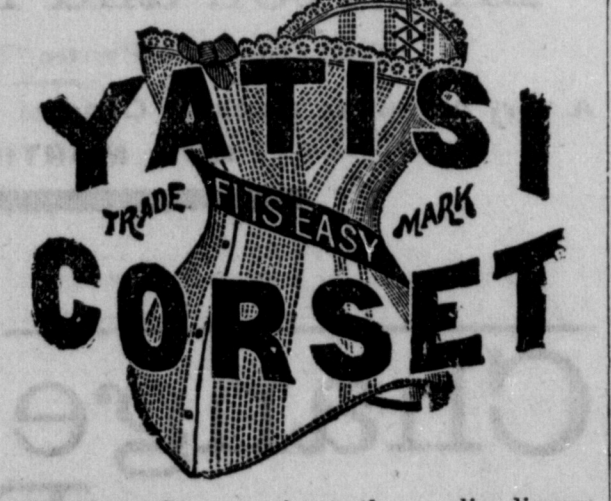

—The entertainment given by the scholars of the Presbyterian Sunday school, on Tuesday night, in the Temperance hall, was a great success—the building being filled to overflowing. Much credit is due to the committee of management; the ladies having taken great pains to instruct the scholars in their respective parts. The sum realized—fifty-two dollars—will be devoted to the purchase of new books for the S. S. library.

—The late Capt. Jorgenson's schooner "Scud," which was sold by public auction on Tuesday, was purchased by Capt. Funchion for $230.00.
—Mr. Samuel Cohn proposes leaving in a few days for Londonderry, Ireland. It is said that Mr. Cohn is crossing the "pond" to secure some wealth awaiting him on the other side.
—The telephone linemen, under the able supervision of Mr. Alex. McEchren, of Kouchibouguac, have all the posts set from that place to Jardineville, and will at once proceed to stretch the wires.
—Messrs. J. de W. Spurr, of St. John, and J. D. Whisman, of Boston, went north on the accommodation train on Friday, on their way to the fishing grounds on the Nepisiguit.
—Mr. Clifford Murphy, who formerly resided at South Branch, is home from the States visiting friends, after an absence of some five years. Dame Rumor says that he will take one of Kent's fair daughters with him on his return.
—Mr. Wm. D. Carter's little daughter had a narrow escape from drowning by falling through a hole in the wharf on Sunday. She was rescued, with some difficulty, by Engineer Smith on the tug Victor, which was moored nearby.
—A horse was driven at a furious rate up Queen street, on Tuesday evening, about dusk, scattering pedestrians right and left, several of whom narrowly escaped being run over. Our informant was unable to discover the driver's name.
—Probably the finest collection of postage stamps to be found in Maine or New Brunswick is that belonging to Mr. Edwin B. Todd. It numbers between 3000 and 4000, without counting duplicates, and contains many rare and valuable stamps.
—Courier.
—Eye sight renewed by buying spectacles from W. A. MacLaren, Richibucto drug store, who has in stock a fine line of the celebrated "Laurance glasses," and is selling out the stock to clear and is not asking Jew prices either. "Give us a call."
—During the recent fires about the railroad at Acadieville, Messrs John and Wesley Wallace had their houses, barns and contents completely destroyed. James Mooney lost his barn, and Jas. Desmond of Acadieville siding, lost two fine cows that were smothered by the dense smoke.
—Dr. Bourque returned home from Moncton on Tuesday, bringing with him a handsome young mare. The animal was brought over from P. E. Island about two weeks ago. The doctor has now one of the prettiest and finest driving animals in the County.
—Clara Wortman, the young girl who had been missing from her home in Salisbury since June 1st, was discovered on Friday last dressed in male attire and working as a farm hand on the farm of Mr. Byron McLeod, two miles from Sussex. The girl's family say that the cause of her strange course is from excessive novel reading.
—Mr. David Clark went to see Messrs Miller's camps, west of Acadieville, were in danger during the recent fires. When near the fire he observed it advancing so quickly that he turned to run back and was overtaken by a large moose which on seeing him took the woods. He next overtook a bear that was also running away from the fire. Neither of the animals were at all concerned about him, each being anxious to save themselves from the destroying element.
—The Chatham World very sensibly remarks: "Many of our exchanges are 'in mourning' for Sir John Macdonald. Our contemporaries mean well, but the effect is very disagreeable. A paper should not become a typographical scarecrow as a mark of grief. If an editor is not able to express his sorrow properly within the column rules, let him turn them by all means but not otherwise. It is a cheap mechanical way of paying tribute to the departed that ought to have long since gone out of fashion."

YATSI'S CORSET

The Yatsi Corset, owing to the peculiar diagonal elasticity of the cloth will fit the wearer perfectly the first time worn, no matter what her style of form is—either long or short waisted.

The Yatsi Corset does not stretch at the waist, requires no breaking in, fits comfortably the first time worn. As it gives to every motion of the wearer it will out-last any of the old style rigid Corsets.

The Yatsi Corset is made of the best materials, and being elastic, (without rubber or springs) is invaluable for invalids, as it cannot compress the vital parts of the body. They are recommended by the most celebrated physicians in all the leading cities.

The Yatsi Corset is the only one that the purchaser can wear ten days and then return and have the money refunded if not found to be the most perfect fitting, healthful and comfortable Corset ever worn.

Sent to any address on receipt of price, $1.25.
