Bathurst.

The farmers are blessing the clerk of the weather for the plentiful supply of rain this week. It has proved very beneficial to the crops, which have been suffering all spring, from the scarcity of moisture.

Mrs. W. H. Chisholm died on Friday morning after a brief illness. She leaves three small children, who will be under the guardianship of her brother in Guysboro, N. S.

The small attendance of parents and friends at the examinations in the senior and other departments of the grammar school, looks as if very little interest were taken in the matter of education. It must be very discouraging to both teachers and pupils, to rehearse well and carefully prepared programmes to audiences of one or two people. There was a better attendance at the Convent school examinations.

Mr. James Wilbur of Woodstock was visiting his brother Percy H. Wilbur, last week. It is quite a long time since Mr.
James favored this section with a visit and all his old friends were delighted to see him.

Mr. E. L. O'Brien, School Inspector, visited here last week.

Summer tourists are putting in an appearance. It is a notable fact, speaking well for the courteous proprietor, that nearly everyone who spends a few weeks at the Keary House, returns again to enjoy its hospitality. I have heard many flattering remarks, passed by travellers, upon the general management of the hotel, and all of them I know are well deserved.

I see that Mr. Frank P. Hickey of Amherst has taken unto himself a life partner. He travels for Messrs. Chapman Bros, and has made numbers of friends up here, who all join in best wishes for happiness to himself and his young bride.

It has often struck me, but never so forcibly as it did a few days ago, that Bathurst can show more rumsholes to the hundred yards, than any other town of its size on the north shore. Such a state of affairs may be highly conducive to the welfare and prosperity of the place, but I doubt it. It is little wonder that the working classes complain of poor times and scarcity of money. Times will grow poorer and cash scarcer, while they devoted their earnings to maintaining in elgant idleness, whose calling is the most despicable (even though legal) that I ever heard of. There is one thing that passes my comprehension quite, and that is how any one can reconcile religion and rum; though it seems to be done easily in this town.
PAUL VASHER.

Electric Wagons.

The next thing to look forward to is a vehicle which can be run successfully and economically by a strong battery. There have been rumors in the air during the last ten years which have led us to believe that the problem will soon be solved. The puzzle guessed, the secret discovered. As such rumors always float around on large pinions, flapping their wings close to our ears just before the right man appears with the patent for his machine in his pocket we have our weather eye open watching for the shadow of that longed for genius.

Edison could of course accomplish the task, but he has so many other electrical eggs to hatch that he is too busy to set on this one. It is said, however, that Mr.
Charles Reitz, of Indianapolis, has got the matter down to a pretty fine point, has only two or three interfering quirks and quib-bles to remove and then he will startle us all with the brilliant results of his research and experiment.

Optimists tell us that the time is close at hand when horses will be banished from our crowded streets. Every man will have his three or four wheeled waggon, with a lot of chain lightning bottled up under the seat, and scud down to his business at the rate of ten or fifteen miles an hour. The thing will always be sound in wind and limb, will never take the bit in its mouth and cut a swath through the frightened crowd, will never throw his hind heels over the dashboard, and never be groomed by the hostler. All these afflictions will become legends of the past, and the veterinary surgeon, like Othello, will find his occupation gone.

When your electricity gives out you will find a station at the corner, where you can buy fifty cents' worth of new lightning—not of the Jersey brand—and then start afresh. Touch a button and off you go; touch another and you come to a dead standstill.

The world is jogging along at a pretty good gate, and the universal brain is doing some fine work nowadays.—Ex.

On Monday evening a servant girl visited the Zoological Gardens in Frankfort-on-the-Main, and, unseen by anyone, took off her clothing and jumped into the bear's pit. Her mangled body was found in the pit next morning.

A clergyman in Detroit, who goes about his duties apparently in robust health, is said to suffer from a disease that deadens his sense of feeling, and a knife may be inserted in his flesh without causing him any discomfort.

The estate of the late M. P. Black, of Halifax, is appraised at nearly $750,000.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, of Montreal, fell from the upper gallery of her house on Sunday and was killed instantly.

urday, the 3rd day of October next, between the hours of eleven o'clock in the noon of that day.

All the right, title, and interest, property claim and demand, either at law or Richardson.

NEW BRUNSWICK, S. S.

To the Sheriff of the County of Kent, or any constable within the said County.

Greeting—
Whereas Benjamin S. Bailey, administrator of, all and singular, the goods, chattels, and credits of George R. Bailey, deceased, hath prayed that license may be granted to him to sell such part of the real estate of the said deceased as to the Court may seem meet and necessary for the payment of his debts, (the personal estate being insufficient for that purpose.) You are therefore required to cite the heirs and all parties interested in said estate to appear before me at a Court of Probate to be held at the office of the Judge of Probates, in Buctouche, within and for the said County of Kent, on Thursday, the 23rd day of July next, at one o'clock in the afternoon, to show cause why such license should not be granted.

Given under my hand and seal of the said Court this 23rd day of June, A. D.

'Kingstone!'

Should sufficient patronage be offered, the trotting bred stallion "Kingstone" will be held for the service of good roading mares at "The Cedars," Kingston, from each Saturday at noon till Monday noon during the season, and at other places at stated times where his services may be required, which places will be hereafter made known through circulars.

"Kingstone" is sired by "Rysdyke (653)" and he by the founder of the great Hamiltonian family, viz., "Rysdyke's Hamilton (10)". "Rysdyke" the sire of "Kings-tone" has six of his get in the 230 list, including "Clingstone" 214, nicknamed "The Demon" on account of his bull dog determination displayed in his several hard contested races. "Kingstone's" dam "Duchess of Kent" was by the imported thorough-bred "Aracan" and her eighteen years' service over all kinds of roads proved her a superior roadster.

Coupled with the right kind of mares the get of "Kingstone" should show a fair percentage of fast trotters, while all should be superior roadsters, having a sufficient amount of the stamina and fine bone of the thorough-bred, as he, "Kings-tone," is half thorough-bred, sire and dam being each half.

Service fee $10.00 for the season, or $5 for single service. Be it known to all who it may concern "Life is too short to be spent in going to mill or market behind an ox or mule team."
I. W. DOHERTY.

"The Cedars," Kingston,

PEDIGREE

Trotting Stallion MYSTERIOUS
STRANGER.

Foaled July, 1885, dappled brown and weighs 1175 lbs., stands 16 hands high.
Sired by the noted stallion King Bird Jr., (better known as a Cail's King Bird); he by the imported King Bird; he by Winthrop Bush Messenger. Dam of Stranger was the noted Christopher mare; she by Morning Star; he by Old Aladdin, an imported English thoroughbred. This horse's grand dam on both sides is Sala-din. A glance at the above pedigree will convince anyone that breeding from this horse will insure a trotter almost every time. John McMannus, of Memramcook, owns one of his get for which he refused the neat sum of two hundred dollars when one year old, being the only one of his get in New Brunswick.

WILLIAM CLARK,
Manager and owner.

Entire Horse
MERIDIAN.

Registered in 5th Volume Wallace's American Trotting Register.

This celebrated trotting stallion (weight 1180; color brown) was foaled in 1882.
Sire Satellite, by Robert Bonner, by Hambletonian, Abdallah, by Mambrino, son of Imported Messenger. Meridian's dam, Belle Bashaw, by Long Island Bashaw by Hawk Eye, by Long Island Black Hawk, by Andrew Jackson, by Young Bashaw, by imported Grand Bashaw. Will travel through the counties of Kent and Northumberland during the season of 1891.
Terms for season, $10.
