

Abram Among the Spirits.

Saul, king of Israel, saw a ghost,
Raised by the "witch" of Endor,
And Tam O'Shanter saw a host,
One night when on a bender.
Doubtless Tam was full of whiskey,
And may have been deceived,
But the bible tells about King Saul,
And so must be believed.
But just as true as either
Is the story I will write,
Of spirits I did see and hear
One dark and stormy night.

Down through the rainfall, and McAlmon's grove,
Through darkest darkness, black clouds above,
Among bears and ghosts, all on the move
On such a night,
It was a time to test and prove My courage quite.

Sober and steady, I'd not been drinking,
On my future prospects I was thinking,
In case a ghost or fear came clinking
In fierce array.
So lonely, not even a June bug blinking,
Along the way.

On, on, abreast the minister's field,
In darkness black my form concealed,
My courage to the point I'd steel'd
To face the devil.
I'd said a little prayer to shield
Me from all evil.

Kent driving park just to the right,
Its towering walls loomed black in sight,
Through the open door a flashing light Came full in view.
My chattering teeth proclaimed my fright,
I cried out, too.

My cry the stillness seemed to seize,
And echoed loudly through the trees,
I fell upon my trembling knees,
My heart pounding sore,
While o'er the ditch, by slow degrees,
I crept to the door.

On down the track, that still was dark,
My straining eyes a light did mark,
Spreading, increasing, devouring dark Fast on its way.
As quick as thought Kent driving park
Was light as day.

Like inspiration, with courage I was filled, My strength returned, my throbbing heart was still,
Like a knight of old, all armed and skilled,
I'd court attack.

As by supernatural power willed,
Marched down the track.
A towering spirit did meet me,
And did with kindest friendship greet me,
With earnest pleading did entreat me
To join their band.

And among mighty spirits with honor did seat me
In the judge's stand.
In turn each spirit was presented,
Wisdom first as represented,

Truth and Fairplay next consented To kindly greet me.
Their hearty hand shake proved they meant it,
And were glad to meet me.

Then one beside me thus did say,
Man's wisdom lasts for but a day,
A passing thought, a fading ray
Of spirit light.
Like passing sunbeams on the way,
All gone at night.

But spirits on the eternal stage
Increase their wisdom in every age,
No selfish human passions rage
Within the breast.
Unbiased truth and wisdom gage
Their thoughts expressed.

Then called the spirit, come up near,
Ye former spirits ruling here
And five spirits trembling did appear Before the stand.
Unfavored in form, trembling with fear,
An evil band.

Then did Justice stern rehearse Their evil doings on this course, Declared their conduct as bad or worse Than evil man,
To Kent driving park they had been a curse
Since it began.

Ah, Jealousy and Unfairplay,
Ah, Envy, cursed, you've had your day, Ah, Selfishness, sure to betray Whenever tried.
Ah, smooth Deceit, no tongue could say How oft you've lied.

From this henceforth we spirits four Will guard this park and races o'er
And fill the judges full with lore
And racing laws,
Give each horse fairplay and no more,
No favored cause.

No more calling judges fools,
No more cursing drivers' souls,
No more underhanded pools,
Or dishonest striving,
An honest race, by honest rules
And honest driving.

Now, spirits of evil, I bid you go,
And, in your wanderings to and fro,
I warn you never more to show
Your plotting here,
Or, by the power of justice, know, You'll find us near.

July the eighth is drawing nigh,
When trotters over this track will fly,
And will raise its reputation high
For honest fairplay.
And the people again and again will cry
For another race day.

Election Card!
To the Electors of the County of Kent, GENTLEMEN:—
O. J. LeBlanc, M. P. P., having accepted a nomination for the late election for the Commons, his seat in the House of Assembly has thereby become vacant and you will soon be again called upon to elect a member to represent you at Fredericton.

The large vote (1203) which I received at the election in January, 1890, (when I was comparatively unknown in some sections of the County) with the solicitations and encouragements I have lately had from a very large number of you, induce me to again offer you my services. I have since that election continued to represent my own parish (St. Marys) at the Municipal Board, and have been honoured with an unanimous election as Warden of the Council, I have therefore become more intimately acquainted with the business and people of the County, and have confidence that I can faithfully serve your interests in the higher position to which I aspire.

If honored with a majority of your votes my chief aim will be to advance the interests of my native County, and for this purpose I will be prepared to favor all legislation, no matter by whom introduced which in my judgment may tend in the direction.

Your local wants with reference to roads and bridges shall not be overlooked by me, and I will do my utmost to secure for Kent a fair share of public money.

I therefore solicit the active support of all who so generously assisted me in my former contest, as well as all others who are now willing to trust the representation of the County in my hands.

I will endeavor to make a thorough cavass of the County, and trust to have the pleasure of explaining my views to a large number of the electors.

Again soliciting your votes and support
I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
