

Kouchibouguac.

Mr. Cliff Atkinson is having another verandah built to his already nobby residence.

Miss Mazerolle, our popular teacher, spent Sunday at her home in St. Louis.

John Wallace, of Acadville, has arrived here from a long hunting expedition. Those wishing to learn the secrets of trapping would do well to consult him.

The Mackey has been loaded at Cliff's wharf with juniper knees for the United States market. Her cabin is being fitted up in first class style by the well known architect, John Hill, Esq.

A young man from this vicinity who has been in college some months studying for an M. D., is, we hear about to return; his coming home is said to be connected with one of those happy events, which is to take place at no distant date, in which two souls are made happy and two hearts beat as one.

Mr. Jas. Grierson was here last week en route for the beach, where he will represent the interests of W. S. Loggie this summer.

Squire Lynch, of St. Margarets, was in town this week.

Our B. B. club have improved their grounds and their skill also. If they progress in the future as in the past they will soon be at the front with the best teams in the northern counties.

The pulpit in the Presbyterian church is now filled by Rev. Mr. Campbell, who preached an eloquent sermon on Sunday last to a large and attentive congregation.

A Baby in the Trunk.

James Ransom, clerk in Ehret's brewery, New York, moved to a cottage north of Harlem River. The household belongings were littered about the new home. The Ransoms were going to sit down upon the lids of their trunks and partake of a cold supper, when Ransom exclaimed suddenly "Where's the baby?"

First Mohammedan Marriage.

The first Mohammedan marriage ever celebrated in England took place a fortnight ago at the Moslem Institute in Liverpool. The bride was Miss Charlotte Fitch, eldest daughter of Mr. Charles Fitch, J. P., of London, and the bridegroom was a Mohammedan barrister, practicing in London.

The great event of Saturday at Montreal was the arrival of a special train bringing the "Empress of India" passengers from Vancouver, making the entire run of 2,906 miles in 92 hours with a delay of three hours in the Rockies owing to a mud-slide.

Next year, it is expected, so actively is the work progressing, pilgrims may go from Jaffa to Jerusalem by railway.

The great soldier, Field Marshal Count Von Moltke, died at Berlin on the 24th, aged over 90 years. Since 1822, he has been in the Prussian army.

Bathurst.

A very enjoyable time was spent at the Division hall of the S. of T. on last Thursday, when a farewell supper was given to Mr. J. M. McGinley, one of the members, who intends leaving very soon for Philadelphia. The members of the lodge and the invited guests were all assembled at half past eight o'clock, when brother M. J. Draper made a neat and appropriate little speech, stating the occasion of the reunion, speaking of the departing brother in terms of the warmest praise and expressing the hope that at no very distant day, when success and prosperity had crowned his efforts in his new home, he would return to visit his old friends here, who were gathered together to wish him "Godspeed."

In taking a walk around town a few days ago, I could not help remarking the dilapidated condition of the sidewalks. Surely "the powers that rule" in this wee corner of Her Majesty's broad dominions, might take advantage of the reduced price of lumber and invest in something more substantial than refuse plank as material for sidewalks, otherwise some unenviable possessors of sprained ankles or broken limbs may be presenting to the municipality their compliments and bills for damages sustained through tumbling into holes in Bathurst sidewalks.

Another thing I remarked in the course of my rambles, is that the new bridges show unmistakable signs of a disposition to investigate the harbor on its own account. Whether its leaning propensities are due to a want of balance or to the too great attractive power of the liquor dispensing establishment at the corner, I am not prepared to say, but I have little doubt that after the first big tide, we will find, a part anyway, of the bridge non est.

Mr. Harrie Melanson left last Wednesday for Ottawa where he is to take a position as Clerk in the House of Commons. Mr. Henry White has returned from his European tour and keeps the boys entertained with an account of his travels. News is a scarce article here, as yet but the picnic season will soon begin and I hope then to be able to send some interesting correspondence.

The Extravagance of Roman Women.

We read of Sarah Bernhardt bringing with her on her present visit to this country forty-five trunks with no fewer than a hundred gowns. That seems to us a wardrobe of extraordinary wastefulness and luxury. Yet it would have seemed a meagre and shabby outfit to the great Roman ladies of the first century of our era. We are told on trustworthy authority that the dresses alone of Lollia Paulina, the rival of Agrippina, were valued at $1,600,000. Pliny relates that he saw her at a plain citizen's bridal supper, littered covered with pearls and emeralds worth forty million sesterces, equivalent in our money to $1,560,000.

A Singular Canal.

The most remarkable canal in the world is the one between Worsley and St. Helen's in the north of England. It is sixteen miles long and underground from end to end. In Lancashire the coal mines are very extensive, half the country being undermined, and many years ago the Duke of Bridgewater's managers thought they could save money by transporting the coal underground instead of on the surface. So the canal was constructed and the mines connected and drained at the same time.

To the Editor of The Review.

Sir:—Thomas Joseph, Chief of Big Cove, has made use of our names contrary to our will, without calling a meeting of the council as directed by law. We hereby object to this, and ask him to rectify his error, or we will have the fine of two hundred dollars imposed. There are 28 men in our band whose names have been used without their consent.

The Tunnel Project.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I. May 1.—The following cable message in reference to the tunnel under the Strait of Northumberland has been received here:

London, April 30.—Sir Douglas Fox is forwarding a very full report. The tunnel in 12 feet for electro motor will cost five millions and 18 feet taking American rolling stock, $11,000,000. It would be chiefly built of Island brick. Its feasibility and practicability is fully established. Sixteen feet $10,000,000. (signed) Howland.

FOR FURTHER PARTICULARS APPLY TO F. S. PETERS, Peters' Mills, Kent County, N. B. Election Card!

To the Electors of the County of Kent, GENTLEMEN:— O. J. LeBlanc, M. P. P., having accepted a nomination for the late election for the Commons, his seat in the House of Assembly has thereby become vacant and you will soon be again called upon to elect a member to represent you at Fredericton. The large vote (1203) which I received at the election in January, 1890, (when I was comparatively unknown in some sections of the County) with the solicitations and encouragements I have lately had from a very large number of you, induce me to again offer you my services. I have since that election continued to represent my own parish (St. Marys) at the Municipal Board, and have been honoured with an unanimous election as Warden of the Council, I have therefore become more intimately acquainted with the business and people of the County, and have confidence that I can faithfully serve your interests in the higher position to which I aspire. If honoured with a majority of your votes my chief aim will be to advance the interests of my native County, and for this purpose I will be prepared to favor all legislation, no matter by whom introduced which in my judgment may tend in the direction. Your local wants with reference to roads and bridges shall not be overlooked by me, and I will do my utmost to secure for Kent a fair share of public money. I therefore solicit the active support of all who so generously assisted me in my former contest, as well as all others who are now willing to trust the representation of the County in my hands. I will endeavor to make a thorough canvass of the County, and trust to have the pleasure of explaining my views to a large number of the electors. Again soliciting your votes and support I am, gentlemen, Your obedient servant, JOHN B. GOGAIN. St. Mary's March 10, 1891.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF KENT, GENTLEMEN:— O. J. LeBlanc, M. P. P., having accepted a nomination for the late election for the Commons, his seat in the House of Assembly has thereby become vacant and you will soon be again called upon to elect a member to represent you at Fredericton. The large vote (1203) which I received at the election in January, 1890, (when I was comparatively unknown in some sections of the County) with the solicitations and encouragements I have lately had from a very large number of you, induce me to again offer you my services. I have since that election continued to represent my own parish (St. Marys) at the Municipal Board, and have been honoured with an unanimous election as Warden of the Council, I have therefore become more intimately acquainted with the business and people of the County, and have confidence that I can faithfully serve your interests in the higher position to which I aspire. If honoured with a majority of your votes my chief aim will be to advance the interests of my native County, and for this purpose I will be prepared to favor all legislation, no matter by whom introduced which in my judgment may tend in the direction. Your local wants with reference to roads and bridges shall not be overlooked by me, and I will do my utmost to secure for Kent a fair share of public money. I therefore solicit the active support of all who so generously assisted me in my former contest, as well as all others who are now willing to trust the representation of the County in my hands. I will endeavor to make a thorough canvass of the County, and trust to have the pleasure of explaining my views to a large number of the electors. Again soliciting your votes and support I am, gentlemen, Your obedient servant, JOHN B. GOGAIN. St. Mary's March 10, 1891.
