An Early Season.
The present season is one of the earliest for many years. Despite the cold weather vegetation has advanced very rapidly, and the farmers are pleased at the outlook. Grass is two inches higher than at this time last year. Nearly all trees are out in full leaf and seeding has about been completed. With the surety of the lumber getting out to market, all lines of business put on a better appearance, and a more cheerful spirit pervades all classes.—Gleaner.

Waste Paper.
M. S. Hall, Fredericton, supplied forty reams of paper to the Legislature for the last session. Moses made quite a haul out of it, but what in the name of tophet did they want of that quantity. Did they require it? Not by a large majority. Forty reams! A ream for each member! We don't ream-member of any such reckless extravagance in the past. If every other part of the stationery bill was in like proportion, they will have enough to supply their sisters and their cousins and their aunts until next session. Did they steal pens at the same rate? If so, they should be ink-carcerated in the penitentiary for life. Let the quire sing write-away, "Then you'll ream-member me."—Grips.

A Splendid Canadian Journal.
The Dominion Illustrated not only maintains but steadily improves upon the high standard of literary and artistic excellence which has especially marked that splendid Canadian journal since its enlargement at the beginning of this year to 24 pages weekly. The handsome engravings produced each week are well selected, and in addition to general views there are always some relating to current matters of general interest. A group of bright and gifted writers are regular contributors to its literary contents, and its pages reflect the best thoughts of clever men and women. Such a journal deserves the gratifying support which it receives at the hands of the reading public. The enterprising publishers, the Sabiston Litho. & Pub. Co., Montreal, make it their constant aim to improve both the matter and appearance of the journal, and their success is certainly gratifying and most creditable.

Kouchibouguac.
Trade seems to be brisk just now and our merchants appear to be piling up dollars sky high.

Mat Holland, of St. Margarets, brother of the noted heavy weight pugilist was in town last week.

Engineer Hill has moved from Richibucto to the stone house on Cunard street lately vacated by Mr. A. B. Weldon.

Our street commissioner should take a tumble to himself and have the sidewalks repaired at once. I heard a young lady utter a mild rebuke as she accidentally put her dainty foot in a hole while taking her evening constitutional.

There is a surplus of canine stock in this community. The Richibucto dog-poisoner is cordially invited to open a branch of his business here, and if he progresses as well as he did on a former occasion, a number of our citizens will tender him a vote of thanks.

John Hill, Sr., contractor and builder, is superintending the erection of a house for the Adagwasook fishing club. The building will be 30x60 ft. with 18 ft. post and French roof; the ell, which will be 20x40 ft. will be the same height as the main building. The interior will be finished in the latest style and fitted with modern improvements, and if the work on the exterior is done in the way Mr. Hill finished other buildings, it will certainly be magnificent.

Ladies who admire seafaring men are often heard singing thus:
O! Michael is out on the ocean,
My Michael is out on the sea,
My darling is out on the ocean,
O, bring back my Michael to me.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Raymond spent Sunday in Kingston.

REHAPSODIST.

A Novel Sentence!
A novel sentence was recently pronounced by a justice at Huntington, Pa. A wife had kissed "another man;" her husband had chastised her with corporal punishment and the justice gave a verdict "that the wife retire to her usual place of abode and lock the doors so that no strangers can be admitted for the period of six days; that the husband for the same length of time board with his next door neighbor and sleep in the barn, and that each party pay half the costs and stand committed until the sentence is complied with." Of the efficiency of such an original judgment there cannot be much doubt, although a question might be raised on the constitutional ground of its being cruel and unusual punishment—at least for the next door neighbor.—Philadelphia Record.

A fatal accident occurred at Cocagne Cape on Sunday. As two men named Legere and Breaux were returning in a sail boat from lobster traps set off two or three miles from the shore, the boat filled with water and the waves swept both men into the sea. Breaux is a young man and son-in-law of Omang Legere an elderly man. When going over the side Breaux caught a rope and held on also succeeded in catching hold of the old man. He was unable with the additional weight to regain the boat, but hung on to the rope. Persons in another boat seeing the accident, after a time came to the rescue, but both men were insensible from the cold, and as it took an hour to beat to the shore, the old man never recovered consciousness, but the younger came to after a time and will be all right in a few days.
