YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

27 YEARS IN THE PARISH OF RICHIBUCTO, HARNESS AND COLLAR MAKING.

My eye is not yet dim nor my strength abated.
I use the best of Stock.
My work has been tested and not found wanting.

I am very busy.
I request the owners of horses to keep me busy.

Considering the quality
I verily believe my Harness the cheapest in the market.

I warrant my collars.
They are durable, easy and safe.

THE "B. LAURANCE"
SPECTACLES
AND EYEGLASSES.

Ground scientifically from clear and pure Pebble, or optical glass especially manufactured for the purpose, they are without exception best adapted to restore the ravages of age, and to retain perfect vision; they are especially recommended by the most eminent of the Faculty.
Every pair fitted on scientific principles and guaranteed to give perfect vision where no actual disease of the eye exists, or can be exchanged free of charge within twelve months.

ALL SORTS.

A lawyer engaged a new boy recently, and as he had suffered to some extent from the depredations of his former lad, he determined to try the new boy's honesty at once. He, therefore, placed a five-pound note under a weight on his desk, and walked out without a word. Upon his return an hour later, the note was gone, and half-a-crown occupied its place.

"Boy, when I went out I left £5 under this weight."

"Yes sir; you had not been out five minutes when a man came in with a bill against you for £4 17s. 6d. I think the change is right."

"You paid a bill?"

"Yes, sir; there it is, all receipted. The man said it had slipped your mind for the last four years, and so—"

That boy got the sack on the spot.

A man who didn't care two shakes of a lamb's tail about the newspapers rode fourteen miles through a heavy snowstorm to get a copy of a weekly that spoke of him as a "prominent citizen."

Naturally enough the spot most dear to cattle is their fodderland.

In Assyria and Babylonia it is a remarkable thing that from the beginning of things—so far as we can judge from the monuments—the sign for God was a star; and although the information is perhaps not so precise as in the case of Egypt, yet no doubt in Babylonia the worship stage existed in equal activity.

The author had just gotten his MSS. back from the publishers when he remarked, "This business isn't remarkable for large profits, but it certainly shows quick returns."

Something was said in a Missouri weekly paper about Shakespeare, and John Shakespeare, farmer, called on the editor, and pounded him almost to death, declaring that he had not much education or wealth, but proposed that his name should go down to posterity untarnished.

The agent for a patented coffin says in his circular, "Undertakers who have used it pronounce it a perfect success, and we ask you to try it, free of charge, and judge for yourself."

Few people appear to be aware, notes the 'Liverpool Mercury,' that a tooth can be extracted, cleaned, and restored to its socket, and become again a useful and natural instrument. One Liverpool dentist, at least, is in the habit of doing such a thing; and it appears to surprise most people. A gentleman in a large shipping office had a tooth taken out, cleaned, and restored some years ago, and it is at the present time a good serviceable tooth. This suggests the question as to the possibility of extracting old teeth and inserting new ones! It would be a boon to many, and is worth considering by clever dentists.

There is an easy, simple way to tell if a diamond is genuine. Make a small dot on a piece of paper with a lead pencil, and look at it through the diamond. If it shows but a single dot the diamond is genuine. If it shows more than one, or the mark appears scattered, it is false, no matter what it cost.

There are about 12,000 shops for the sale of milk in London.

Seven million people are engaged in vine cultivation in France.

A Chinese bank note, 3,000 years old, is preserved at St. Petersburg.

Sudden deaths are eight times more prevalent among men than women.

The Arctic raspberry is the smallest known fruit plant.

At the factory at Castleton, United States, there are manufactured between two and three tons of post cards a day all the year round. The largest order ever filled for one city was 4,000,000 cards, or about twelve tons of paper, for New York. There are 450,000,000 post cards manufactured annually, and their use is increasing daily.

According to figures given, the Maori race has diminished by about one half since 1840, when an English colony was established in New Zealand.

If everyone had to do his own fighting instead of getting it done for him, the world would be one great peace society.

A man tied one end of a rope round his waist and lassoed a cow with the other. He thought he had the cow, but at the end of the first half mile he began to suspect that the cow had him.

Dr. Gunther says there are seven thousand species of fish now known to men of science. When a man sits on a river bank half a day watching a cork idly floating on the stream, and comes home with a sun-burned nose and not a single specimen of these seven thousand species, he is inclined to think that Dr. Gunther resembles a patent medicine advertisement.

A negro preacher addressed his flock with great earnestness on the subject of miracles as follows: "My beloved friends, de greatest of all miracles was 'bout de loaves and de fishes. Dere was five thousand loaves and two thousand fishes, and de twelve 'pistles had to eat dem all. De miracle is dey didn't bust!"

To keep the beard from turning gray, and thus prevent the appearance of age, use Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers, the best dye made.

THE WORLD OVER.

An alarming epidemic of the grip is sweeping over parts of Newfoundland. Hundreds of people are affected. The doctors are unable to attend the victims, and in some cases the doctors themselves are very sick. The mortality at Burin, Placentia and Fortune Bay is extraordinary. There is mourning in almost every household.

The air ship which 10,000 people paid 50 cents apiece to see on the wing in Omaha Sunday, proved to be nothing but sawdust. After the "professor" from Chicago had gathered his dollars at the entrance to the fair-grounds he "flew," but not according to the route announced in the advertisement. Then the people raged.

May 29.—Wm Henry Smith, to-day introduced in the British House of Commons a bill prepared by the government, prohibiting British subjects from catching seals in the Behring sea for a certain period. The duration of the time during which seals cannot be captured, is not, however, given in the bill.

There is nothing like choosing the proper place to display the courtesies of life. Good taste should prevail both when we laugh and when we fight. Even if we are going to shoot we ought to oil the ball, that it may get inside without knocking. Johnson and Sprinkles, of Indiana, were adepts in these little matters. They were riding together in a buggy, elbow to elbow. After a while they quarrelled. Their blood boiled, and presto! a duel was on the carpet. Did they fight at the regulation twelve paces? Not a bit of it. They had the circus right there in the buggy. Each was the happy possessor of a self-cocking pistol and a magazine of bullets. So they let fly at each other. It was no boy's play but a clear case for the coroner. Johnson was found with a hole in his heart and Sprinkles later on with two holes in his lungs. The pistols were uninjured.

Mr. Parnell certainly will marry Mrs. O'Shea in July. Those best informed declare that the tenacity with which Mr. Parnell clung to his position as leader of the Irish Nationalists, and the desperation with which he fought the battle with his political opponents, has been largely due to the influence of the lady in question. Should she win the probate suit now pending regarding the disposal of the legacies under the will of her aunt, Mrs. Wood she will become the possessor of £100,000 ($500,000). It is also rumored that after the marriage and prorogation of parliament, Mr. Parnell and his bride will visit America.

In our cultured and refined age we look back upon the brutalities of earlier days with pitiful scorn. We wonder how the wickedness of various forms of despotism was not seen so glaringly as speedily to check them. There are forms of brutality in our own day which will be looked upon in after years with similar wonder. One of these is the legalized brow-beating of witnesses in court. Almost any amount of ruffianism may in the name of justice and with the countenance of the tribunals be used against the sensitive nerves of witnesses. What is apparently an instance of this is the case of a woman complaining in a New York court against a railway company for damage suffered by her by an accident. The questioning of the company's lawyer, whose business it was to prevent similar appeals to the courts, drove her crazy in the Court House.—Exchange.

The Rome correspondent of the Times in an article on the financial and political situation in the Italian Kingdom, declares that constitutionalism is becoming gradually reduced to a degraded condition and that the Italian provinces and communes are preying upon the state and slowly driving it into a state of bankruptcy. Sentiments of patriotism and devotion, he says, are giving way to impulses of miserable ambition and to indifference to the national vitality.

Boils, carbuncles, and eruptions of all kinds are nature's efforts to throw off poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—Advt.

The vocal organs are strengthened by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Clergymen, lawyers, singers, actors, and public speakers find this preparation the most effective remedy for irritation and weakness of the throat and lungs, and for all affections of the vocal organs.—Advt.

Who Are the Greatest Readers?

Which class of our population is most addicted to reading? Some interesting light is thrown on this question by the latest report of the Birmingham Free Libraries Committee. Among other tables therein given is one showing the occupation of the borrowers admitted during 1889. Here are some of the figures:—Scholars and students, 1,392; clerks and book-keepers, 1,138; errand and office boys, 301; teachers, 293; shop assistants, 290; jewellers, 216; compositors and printers, 192; milliners and dressmakers, 109. Almost at the bottom of the list come journalists, 6; news agents, 2. Is this because they have libraries of their own, or because the people who write in the newspapers lose their taste for reading books?—Pall Mall Gazette.

For The Toilet

No better preparation can be had than Ayer's Hair Vigor. All who use it speak of its merits in the highest terms and place it, as a dressing, far beyond anything else of the kind. It imparts to the hair a beautiful silken lustre and a fine fragrance, prevents baldness, and restores gray hair to its original color and texture.

"For five years I was troubled with a disease of the scalp, which caused the hair to become harsh and dry and to fall out in such large quantities as to threaten complete baldness. Ayer's Hair Vigor being strongly recommended to me, I began to apply this preparation, and before the first bottle was used the hair ceased falling out and the scalp was restored to its former healthy condition."—Francisco Acevedo, Sinaloa, Mexico.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor and have received more satisfaction from it than from any other hair dressing I ever tried."—C. E. Wooster, Westover, Md.

"I use Ayer's Hair Vigor constantly, and find it excellent."—T. C. O'Brien, Fort Keogh, Montana.
