THE BUCTOUCHE CALAMITY.

Probably no town in this province has ever suffered so severely as did the village of Buctouche by the fire which occurred there last week. The old part of the town was almost entirely destroyed, the store and dwelling of John C. Ross, Esq., being the only buildings left standing. The new part of the town, built since the completion of the Buctouche & Moncton Railway, suffered less severely, though the greater portion of it was also swept away. The damage will amount to at least $100,000, of which only about $30,000 was covered by insurance. That the fire was the work of incendiaries there seems to be no doubt. For some time past Buctouche has been the scene of lawlessness. Last winter two school buildings were burned down, and although a reward was offered by the government for the apprehension of the incendiaries, no one seemed to take an interest in bringing the offenders to justice. The lawless acts following the seizure of the smuggled liquor there some time ago are too fresh in the minds of the public to require detailing. The perpetrators of these offences showed plainly that they were capable of going to any length, even to the taking of human life, if necessary, to carry out their criminal object. No attempt has ever been made to have the offenders apprehended and punished, though it is said that it would not have been a difficult matter to locate them. Then again the administration of justice in the parish was not calculated to inspire respect for the law or the authorities. Not very long ago THE REVIEW took occasion to criticize the method of procedure adopted in two criminal prosecutions held in Buctouche. In these cases the offences charged were of the most serious nature, yet the proceedings from beginning to end were most farcical, and in each case the accused was let clear without the formality of a hearing or discharge. The people of Buctouche have stood quietly by and allowed this state of affairs to continue, until the roughs of the town began to look upon a criminal prosecution as only a sham, and have acted accordingly. To show the state of lawlessness which exists there, we need only refer to the attempt made since the fire by a gang of roughs to rescue two of their companions from the hands of the law by shooting the horses that were conveying them to the county goal. This will no doubt have the effect of waking the citizens of the village up to the fact that they must have their laws properly administered if they wish to live in safety. The blow has indeed been a most severe one. Many who went to bed last Wednesday evening in a comfortable home awoke to find themselves and their families homeless and destitute. It is to be hoped that the charity which has always been bestowed so liberally on sufferers from fire will not be withheld from the victims of the Buctouche conflagration.

His Honor Judge Hanington in charging the grand jury at the present circuit court very properly called attention to the suspicions entertained on all sides that the fire was the work of an incendiary, and expressed the hope that the proper authorities would at once take steps to secure a thorough investigation of the circumstances, and the discovery of the parties guilty of this outrage, as well as of the cowardly and brutal assault on Tidewater Keswick, and the attempt to interfere with the enforcement of the revenue laws. It is to be hoped that His Honor's remarks will have effect in the proper quarter.

DEATH OF CHIEF JUSTICE RITCHIE.

Sir William Johnston Ritchie, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, died at 9:30 o'clock on Sunday morning at his home in Ottawa. Although a fortnight ago he had been regarded by his medical attendants as dangerously ill, it had since been reported that his condition was somewhat improved, and, notwithstanding his advanced age, those who knew how strong and sound his physical constitution originally was, looked quite confidently for his recovery. By his death has been removed from the arena of public life in Canada one of the most conspicuous and really eminent men who have ever taken part in the political affairs of any portion of the Dominion, and one of the brightest lights which have shed lustre upon the bench in its courts of justice.

HON. T. W. ANGLIN.

The report reaches us, on good authority, that Hon. T. W. Anglin, ex-M. P. formerly of St. John, but for several years resident in Toronto, has been in communication with a number of clergymen and others in this county with a view of securing their support as a candidate for the representation of Kent in the House of Commons. The particular ground upon which he presses his claim, is not that he is familiar with the local interests and requirements of the constituency, and can be of service to the county in parliament, but that he will lend his powerful aid in the settlement of the Manitoba school difficulty, satisfactorily to the minority in that province. Whether he proposes to run as a Liberal or a Conservative we are not informed, but we presume it will be as a Liberal and that he will expect the support of that party. We would be very much surprised to learn, however, if any number of electors of either party would be willing to accept Mr. Anglin on this or any other platform. Our school question in this province is happily settled, and we can afford to let the people of Manitoba settle theirs without importing it into our election contests here. We are pleased therefore to learn that so far none of the parties who have been communicated with has given the honorable gentleman any encouragement. While we readily recognize Mr. Anglin's ability and grasp of public questions, we cannot suppose any one, clerical or lay, with the slightest knowledge of this county would for a moment seriously entertain the proposition that he should be a candidate for the representation of Kent. If he wants to "settle" the Manitoba school difficulty, he should seek a Manitoba constituency. Kent has other interests for her representatives to care for.

The Buctouche Fire.

The burned district includes the whole of the old village with the exception of the Ross store and dwellings and barns owned by E. J. L. LeBlanc and B. H. Foley. At the west end of the village across the Richibucto road, Mr. Irving's place is standing. In the village proper there are about a dozen buildings standing, being the new part built around the railway station, including Haragan's Hotel, the Methodist church barber shop, and several dwellings. Besides buildings, the river bridge was burned clear to the span. Several hundred feet of wharf was burned and on it 40,000 feet of lumber belonging to Mr. B. H. Foley and 16 cords of hemlock bark belonging to Mr. Coates. A Norwegian bark lost sails, etc., before she could be swung clear of the wharf. The fire started at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and had burned itself out at sunrise. In four hours a thriving village was reduced to ashes. In less than ten minutes from the sounding of the alarm ten houses were all ablaze. The house where the fire originated is situated in the northwest portion of the town, and as it was fanned by a heavy northwest breeze the flames spread with great rapidity, many of the inhabitants having scarcely time to save enough garments to dress themselves.

One of the heaviest losers is Mr. B. H. Foley. Mr. Foley and his son were at their mill some miles from Buctouche and scarcely anything was saved. C. Burke saved most of the goods in his store, but lost piano and other furniture from his dwelling. John Gratton had just received a car of flour. The box car, which belonged to the I. C. R., was burned on the B. & M. Ry. trestle, but Mr. Gratton got most of the flour to a place of safety. The greatest confusion prevailed during the progress of the fire. Notwithstanding the presence of Sheriff Wheten and the efforts of other well-disposed persons, the liquor stores were sacked and many persons became intoxicated, while others resorted to theft. Three Monctonians witnessed the fire, Messrs. G. F. Atkinson, Fred. Robicheau and James Flanagan. Residents of Buctouche do not hesitate to say that the fire was incendiary.

About 200 people were turned out of doors. Some who were insured already talk of rebuilding but others who have lost everything are in a very bad way, and certainly deserve assistance. Buctouche has been very unfortunate in respect of fires, having had several within the past few years. The hotel site occupied by Mr. Roberts has now been burned three times within a few years. Times.

The insurance is known to be as follows: Miss Ross D. Bourque (millinery and dry goods), $900 in the Western and $300 in the Manchester. Anthony Gratton, store, $2,000 on building and 600 on stock in the Fire Insurance Association, and $500 in the Citizens. A. D. Cormier, store, $3,500 in the North British and Mercantile, Manchester, and Eastern companies; the stock is insured for $1,200 in the Fire Insurance Association and $500 in the Atlas. D. P. Gallant's drug store was insured for $1,000 in the Western. John A. Irving's new store was insured for $1,000 in the Fire Insurance Association; the stock was insured for $3,000 in the Alliance. A. P. Comeau's hotel was insured for $200 in the Manchester. Ruth McCullough (hotel) had $400 in the Eastern and $1,200 in the Manchester. E. J. LeBlanc (store and dwelling) had a total insurance of $2,250 equally divided between the North British, Manchester and Alliance companies. The Bay View hotel is said to be insured for $2,000, half of which is in the North British. Cummings Burke has $1,200 on his dwelling in the North British and Mercantile and $200 on his warehouse in the same company. B. H. Foley had $1,100 in the Western on his store and stock, and $1,800 in the same company on his dwelling, furniture and barn. Half of this is insured. George Irving has a small amount on his office.

The Quebec, Keystone, Commercial Union and other companies are also interested to some extent.—Sun.

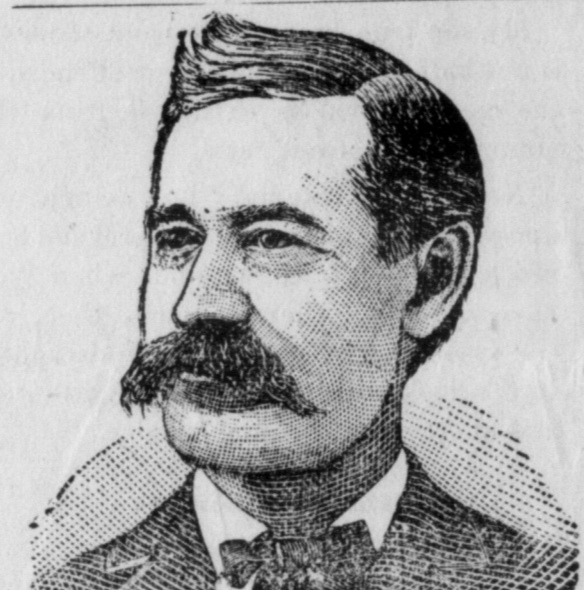

The thrift and economy of the French is a matter of comment. They will live and thrive on what wasteful Americans throw away. The rapidity with which France recuperated after a war with Germany is a matter of history. There are now among the French working classes six million depositors in savings banks the total sum being about $512,000,000.

'August Flower'

"I have been afflicted with biliousness, and constipation for fifteen years; first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried but to no purpose. At last a friend recommended August Flower. I took it according to directions and its effects were wonderful, relieving me of those disagreeable stomach pains which I had been troubled with so long. Words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold your August Flower—it has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Such a medicine is a benediction to humanity, and its good qualities and wonderful merits should be made known to everyone suffering with dyspepsia or biliousness." CARD!

To the Electors of the County of Kent: GENTLEMEN:—At the request of a large number of the electors of the County of Kent, I will be a candidate at the election which must soon be held to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Dr. Legere. The county has, since confederation, been continuously represented by merchants, lawyers, and doctors—professional men—while it seems to me, the farmers, forming a large majority of the electors, should embrace the opportunity which now offers to have their interests—the most important for the welfare of the whole county—represented by one of their number. One of the oldest farmers in Kent, I know that the agricultural interests of the county justly demand, and my twelve years experience in the local legislature, should have made me fairly acquainted with the needs and requirements of all our industries. I have always been a supporter of the government now in power at Ottawa, and, as a Conservative, take my stand on the well known principles of the Conservative party. I am prepared at any time to submit to the choice of a properly organized convention. I am, gentlemen, Your obedient servant, URBAIN JOHNSON. St. Louis, 15th September, 1892.
