

LOCAL & GENERAL.

ABANDONED AT SEA.—The Norwegian barque Isabel, Captain Larsen, from Richibucto to Great Britain, laden with a cargo of deals, was abandoned waterlogged in lat. 48 lon. 35. This vessel loaded at Kingston for Mr. Edward Walker, some time ago. Her crew was taken off by the Russian schooner Zeriba, which left this port a few days after.

ACCIDENT.—A telegram received by Mr. Wm. Brown of this place last Friday, brought the information that his son Edward, while working on an elevated railway in the city of Chicago, had fallen to the ground, breaking his arm and suffering serious internal injury. On Saturday the sad news of the young man's death was received by his parents. Deceased was 28 years of age. For many years he worked on the Kent Northern Railway, and his many friends here will hear with regret of his sad death. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents. The remains will arrive by Saturday's train, and will be interred in the Richibucto burying ground.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The adjourned case of Richard et al versus Main occupied the attention of the circuit court here until Monday afternoon. The matter in dispute was the location of the division lines between the farms of the two parties. It appears a number of different lines have been run by different crown land surveyors, and Surveyors Stevenson, Douglas and Hanington, and Mr. T. G. Loggie, of the Crown Land Department, Fredericton, were called to the stand as witnesses. His Honor directed the jury that the oldest recognized line bounding the oldest grant should be regarded as the true division line. The jury found in favor of plaintiff and assessed damages at $5.00. E. Girouard, attorney, and R. Hutchinson, Q. C., and J. D. Phinney, Q. C., counsel for plaintiff; C. J. Sayre, attorney, and counsel for defendant. There being no further business the court adjourned sine die.

HYMENEAL.—A very interesting and formal event took place at the residence of Mr. George McIntyre, section foreman of the C. E. R., Blackville, on Wednesday the second inst., when his daughter Maggie N. was united in marriage to Mr. William McConnell, of Black River. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Mr. Bailey, (Church of England) of Millerton. The young bride looked exceedingly beautiful in a dress of cream serge, with cream ribbon trimmings. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Janie McIntyre, of Boston, while the groom was ably supported by Mr. W. J. McLaggan. The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock, in the presence of a large number of guests. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful set of furs, and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet set with pearls. The bride was the recipient of many presents of which the following is a list: Silver knives and forks, by G. Daigneau Boston, Mass; fruit dish, by Miss R. Astle; gold pin and brooch, by Mr. R. McLaggan; parlor clock, by Mr. Wm. J. McLaggan; cushion, by Miss Thompson (Richibucto); bed spread, by Mrs. Wm. McLaggan; pair vases, by Miss Alice Underhill; china cup and saucer, by Miss Long, (Richibucto); fruit dishes, by Miss Ella Walsh; glass set, by Miss Clara Harris; china cups and saucers, by Mr. Mathew Coughlan; silver pickle dish, by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dunn; cake plate and fruit dish, by James Whitmore, Jr.; cut glass pitcher and cup, by Mrs. Connaughton, (Richibucto); silver butter dish, by the Misses Grady; parlor lamp, by Mr. Chas. McDougall; silver napkin ring, by Mr. N. Ivory; silver spoons, by Mrs. Geo. McIntyre; parlor lamp, by Miss Lottie Underhill; jewel case, by Miss Lizzie McConnell; work basket and breakfast set, by Miss Grace Robertson; butter dish, by Miss Annie Ferguson; cake plate, by Mrs. Robt. Berry; cream pitcher, by Mrs. John Burke; butter dish, by Miss Eva Connors; album, by Mr. Peter Coughlan; pair slippers, by Mr. Geo. McIntyre; pillow shams, by Miss Alice Loggie, (Chatham); mantle drapery and silk scarf, by Mrs. Thos. Robinson; cake plate, by Miss Annie Underwood.

SHIPS BUILT OF ALUMINUM. Fifty years ago the introduction of iron as a building material created a revolution in the science and art of ship-building. It is now certain that in the near future an even more important revolution will be created by the introduction of aluminum. At present there are in existence but five small craft constructed of this metal. Three are petroleum yachts, which were built this year at Zurich. One is a Swedish lifeboat. The fifth is a yacht which is now completing for sea in this country. Until two or three years ago the high price of aluminum entirely barred the way to its general usefulness, but the metal has since become much cheaper, and to the shipbuilder it offers so many striking advantages that, even at the comparatively high price which is still charged for it, it is sure of general adoption. In strength and toughness it rivals steel, in non-liability to corrosion it is almost as good as gold, and in lightness it stands altogether alone. Nor is this all. The hull of an old iron ship, when sold to be broken up, goes for nearly nothing. The hull of an old aluminum ship would, it is estimated, if disposed of as worn-out metal, fetch nearly two-thirds of its original cost. This is a consideration which capitalists and investors are not likely to lose sight of. To the naval constructor aluminum comes, of course, of precisely the material of which he is mostly in need. His great problem of late years has been to reduce to the lowest possible dimensions what may be called the inevitable weights of vessels. It is computed that by using aluminum instead of steel he may, without sacrifice of strength, reduce the weight of a ship's hull by fully one-half.

Sowing Wild Oats. Nothing reveals the low ebb of conventional humanity in a more startling manner than the complacency with which society views the debasement of young men. "Oh, they are sowing their wild oats; they will soon settle down and become excellent husbands,"—how often dogs one hear this or a similar remark, equally unworthy of any man or woman who values life or comprehends the grandeur of true manhood. A man who has sowed his wild oats is unworthy to stand at the head of a home or to be joined for life to a pure-souled wife. He brings to the altar of marriage the dregs of his being. The holy flame of purity gone forever; the cinders of spent vitality; the coarseness born of contact with vice; the soul dwarfed by dissipation; the spirit dwarfed and maimed; the mind weakened; the constitution sapped of its reserve strength—this is what he brings to the altar of his home. And from a man so marked by sin, what can we expect? Children that are shriveled in soul, inheriting evil propensities, marked by sin before their eyes see the light of the world. A boy who has sowed his wild oats has sacrificed his noblest self, and is unworthy the love of any high-minded, pure and noble souled girl. Our moral standards must be elevated. Noble minded men and women must unite in the work of social regeneration. They must be earnest, brave and persistent. They must unmask iniquity and assail conventional immorality fearlessly, keeping to splendid end ever before them, the elevation of the moral standard, the salvation of the rising generation. This great end is worthy of every sacrifice.—American Spectator.

—Thanksgiving day. —La grippe has reappeared in New York city. —Brunswick House, Rogersville, for sale—see advertisement. —Some sneak thief stole Mr. W. W. Short's Thanksgiving turkey. —Goods re-dyed to look like new at Ungur's Dye Works, St. John. —Mr. William Curwin is building a new house near his mother's on the Point Road. —A quantity of correspondence and other interesting matter unavoidably crowded out of this issue. —Messrs. J. J. Worman and Wm. McEachrane, threshed on Friday last at Mr. Wm. McBeath's barn, 165 bushels oats in 150 minutes. —Of the forty-two delegates present at the Buctouche convention, Monday, twenty-six were from the parish of Wellington, where there are only sixteen school districts. Mr. C. J. Sayre posed as a delegate from Richibucto. When and where did Mr. Sayre get authority from the Liberals of Richibucto to represent them at the convention? We are of the opinion that his credentials were not very closely examined.
