TERRIBLE MAN-EATERS.

Tribes of South America who are even worse than the South Sea Islanders.

People seldom hear much about cannibals nowadays. The awful practices of these savages are surely disappearing with every generation, and sometimes the books of adventure which horrify and interest the young will become histories of lost races. Still there are more tribes of cannibals in existence than have been described in print, and many of them live in the continent south of us. Peru is the home of various wild Indian tribes, and they are to be found all along and about the northern Andes. Few explorers have penetrated into the heart of this country. The government of the United States has also lately sent a commissioner to Peru to secure curiosities, pictures, costumes and anything else of interest connected with these tribes to be exhibited at the exhibition next year. His mission has been highly successful and it is possible that a number of South American savages may be brought to Chicago to further increase the exhibits, if not attractions of the world's fair. Attractive none of these Indians can said to be, for none have got beyond the very rudiments of civilization. The most degraded of all are the Cashivas who live in the region of the mouth of the Zunicariaco and along the Pachita river. They are apparently confirmed cannibals. Dirty is no adjective to be used in describing them. They are as dirty as they can be and live, and their habits of life and taste for human flesh have left their marks in their figures and faces until they are intensely repulsive. The exceedingly thick lips, flat nose, puffed underlip and eye of the animal give them such a brutal expression that the explorer's first thought in meeting the Cashivas is flight. The women wear brown cloth waists at times and the men are clothed in varying layers of dirt. The Cashivas are too indolent to be warlike or predatory in their search for human game and do not hunt other races as do the more fierce man-eaters of the South Seas but the taste for human flesh is upon them. To obtain the necessities of life the Cashivas make only the efforts that cannot be avoided. They are not sportsmen, and when they want fish simply poison the water and gather the fish that rise to the surface. To kill birds and small game they use blow guns, as do other tribes of Indians in South America. These guns are sometimes twelve feet long and are made from the palm. The missiles are arrows also fashioned from the palm. The Cashivas wander from point to point in their territory, and although they have a certain home life, they are polygamous. Other of the Peruvian and Ecuador Indian tribes are not cannibals, or at least it has not been proved that they are. Some have, in fact, advanced certain distance towards civilization, the women in one or two tribes going so far as to wear their hair bandaged. It seems as though there was an extraordinary number of distinctive tribes in such a territory as that occupied by these upper South American savages. There are the Jivaros, of the Marañon river; the Cunivos, of the Ucayli; the Piras, of the Pachitea; the Lorenzos, of the Mayo; the Ahuashiris of the Tarma; an affluent of the Napo; the Zeparos, the Orejones, the Campos, the Quichuas and the Canelas. The Ahuashiris have one horrible custom. Their ideas of adornment are of the most primitive order. An unbecoming twisted cloth is tied around the heads of the males and females, the hair of the latter falling across their faces and carelessly parted so as not to interfere with their vision. Their principal dress is a string of dried heads tied round their neck, which are prepared by a peculiar process of baking. The entire faces and skulls of the enemies each man has killed are thus preserved, reduced to one-sixth their natural size. The Jivaros have more of the Indian traits than any other of the South American tribes. They are warlike and brave and fight the more cowardly tribes about them. Their dress is odd and striking, the plumage of birds being the chief article of adornment. Long feathers are attached to their ears, and are so placed as to fall across their breast. They also wear crowns and dress cloaks of brilliant feathers of immense commercial value. The Lorenzo Indians wear similar decorations of feathers. Both these tribes exchange wives, and when a wife wishes to dispose of her spouse she gives him all he can drink of a certain liquor, which has a powerful and deadening action on the brain. When the husband at last becomes an imbecile he is his wife's slave and she is free to marry whom she pleases. The Orejon or large-eared Indians have peculiar ideas of personal beauty. A deformity, or rather enlargement, of the ear is considered a mark of attractiveness, and no Orejon from childhood up ever appears without a disc of bone or stone inserted in the lobe of the ear. The disc is increased from time to time, and the ear is kept stretched until it reaches the proportions desired. Two tribes have the physiognomies of toughs, stripes across the cheeks, radiating from the corners of the mouth, give to their faces an extremely hard look. These stripes or bands are stained into the skin, and are made by the colored extracts of certain berries and barks. When one of the Indians has experimented with various colors which do not dye the skin, and determines which combination is the most beautiful, the extracts are painted on and the bands become permanent. The colors can be effaced by other liquids in case the owner of the face tires of the decoration and wishes to wear other colored bands. The Cashiva cannibals are more decorated or disfigured than any. A disease, probably due to their custom of eating human flesh, has afflicted the entire tribe. It breaks out on the face in sores, giving them all a mottled appearance and adding very much to their painful ugliness.

Catarrh, not Local, but Constitutional.

Dr. Dio Lewis, the eminent Boston physician, in a magazine article, says: "A radical error underlies nearly all medical treatment of catarrh. It is not a disease of the man's nose; it is a disease of the man, showing itself in the nose—a local exhibition of a constitutional trouble." Therefore, he argues, the use of snuff and other local applications is wrong, and while they seem to give temporary relief, they really do more harm than good. Other leading authorities agree with Dr. Lewis. Hence, the only proper method of cure for catarrh is by taking a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which reaching every part of the body through the blood, does eliminate all impurities and make the whole man healthier. It removes the cause of the trouble and restores the diseased membrane to proper condition. That this is the practical result is proven by thousands of people who have been cured of catarrh by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

AN OLD SOLDIER'S STORY.

After U. S. Medical Men Fail, Relief Comes from Canada.

The following letter tells the tale of one released from suffering and needs no comment:—

Michigan Soldiers' Home, Hospital Ward A, Grand Rapids, March, 27, 1892. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I have your letter of the 24th, asking me what benefit I received from the use of Pink Pills for Pale People and it gives me unbounded satisfaction to reply. Within ten days after I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, those terribly excruciating pains I had experienced in my limbs, heart, stomach, back and head, began to leave me, becoming less severe and less frequent and before I had taken all of the second box they were gone. All times since I have experienced aches, but but they are nothing compared to the pains I had formerly suffered. For months I could get no sleep or rest, only from the use of morphine, two, three and five times daily. Soon after I began taking the Pink Pills I discontinued the use of morphine and have taken it but once since, and I am now only taking my fourth box of the pills. Before I began taking Pink Pills I had no passage of the bowels except from the use of cathartics. Very soon after taking the pills my bowels moved regularly and naturally—constipation was entirely gone. Previous to commencing the use of Pink Pills my urine was milky in color and after standing resembled a jelly substance. Now it is clear and perfectly natural, and shows no sediment whatever. I had lost the use of my legs and could not bear the weight of my body on them. By the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and cold baths and rubbing with a crash towel—prescribed by them, my limbs have steadily gained in health and strength until I can now bear my full weight on them. I have been gaining slowly but surely ever since I began the use of the Pink Pills and am perfectly confident that I will be able to walk again and be comfortable, and this after doctoring for years with the best physicians and specialists who said my disease could not be cured but only relieved temporarily by the use of hypodermic injections of morphine. I would not do without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills under any circumstance, even though they cost ten times what they do, and I strongly recommend them to persons afflicted with locomotor ataxia, paralysis, kidney troubles, nervous diseases and impurities of the blood. I have recommended the Pink Pills to a number of my old comrades, and in every instance they have proved beneficial, can I therefore do less than warmly recommend them to all who read this letter?

Yours very gratefully,
E. P. HAWLEY.

Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration, and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors of the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cts. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Banana Peel on the Sidewalk.

The street car had passed, but to catch it he reckoned, So he ran like a deer and shouted and beckoned, Till he planted his heel On a smooth bit of peel— Then he saw a half million of stars in a second.

He was in too great a hurry; better have waited for another car. There are cases however, where haste is necessary. If you have night sweats, feverishness, weak, sore lungs and a hacking cough, do not lose an hour in obtaining a supply of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Delay in such cases is dangerous; it may be fatal. Before the disease has made too great progress, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a certain cure. In fact it's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money paid for it refunded.

Moulton River Notes.

The great festival of fairies, small boys and men, and love-lorn maidens, called "Hallowe'en," has passed and left no trace behind, excepting some logs on the road, and the semblance of a blash and a look of anxious expectation on the faces of some "ancient origins, ye Celt," old maids, who have tried to look into the future through the magic lens of a looking glass placed under her head on Hallowe'en.

The prayer meeting at Mr. Barns' was well attended last Thursday evening, all interested being there.

Partridges are very plentiful, and are being much hunted just now. Several sportsmen are seen each day—and sometimes late into the evening—still, few shots are fired, and no game appears to be taken being a closer relationship to partridges than that of wearing feathers in their hats.

Some friends contemplate having a party or two in the near future—two "parties," it is said, will be very much interested in one of these social events.

Martinsville, N. J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles since in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." REV. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jersey, M. E. Conference, April 25, '90. CARD!

To the Electors of the County of Kent:

GENTLEMEN:—At a meeting composed of delegates from school districts of the county—of all creeds and nationalities—held at Buctouche on the 14th of this month, I had the honor to be the chosen candidate to fill the seat vacant by the lamented death of Dr. Legere.

In accepting this choice and this honor, I make no illusions to myself on the obligations which result by it and on the duty imposed upon me.

So I come to-day to ask the support of electors friendly to the cause for which I am to-day in the field.

It is useless for me, gentlemen, to tell you that if elected—as I hope to be—it shall be my endeavor to advance the interests of the County of Kent, irrespective of creed and nationality.

In politics I am and have been a Liberal-Conservative.

I will favor the expansion of commerce and exchange with the United States, in as much as our neighbors will give us the return of what they will receive from us.

I am in favor of a free trade with the United States in regard to the products of the land, the sea and the forest, in accordance with the programme of the political party now in power at Ottawa; that is to say:—the abolition on each side of all duty on the articles of exportation produced by the farmer, the fisherman, and the lumberman.

I also pledge myself to favor, in a particular manner, the project of having a ferry between Prince Edward Island and Richibucto Cape, corresponding by rail with the Buctouche & Moncton Railway, south, and with the Kent Northern, north. This project—I think—can be realized in the probable case when the tunnel between Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine should be—for cause of excessive expense—finally abandoned.

Before polling day I will have the advantage to visit every parish of the county, and make with the electors a better acquaintance.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, Your obedient servant,
WASIL J. JOHNSON.
St. Louis de Kent, Oct. 31, 1892.
