RICHIBUCTO, N. B., DEC. 2, 1892.

A WORD TO THE MONITEUR.

Our esteemed contemporary the Moniteur Acadian issues a frantic appeal to the Acadian electors of Kent to "get together." It declares that one of the two Acadian candidates must retire in favor of the other, otherwise it fears the County will be lost to the Acadians. The Moniteur though professing to be a strong supporter of the present Dominion government is quite willing to support Mr. LeBlanc the nominee of a Liberal convention, simply because he is an Acadian. The Acadian electors of Kent who know the true position of political affairs in this county will pay little attention to appeals of this nature. It is just as well for the Moniteur to understand that the English speaking Conservatives of Kent are not opposed to Mr. Johnson because he is an Acadian. Their votes in the past ought to satisfy even the Moniteur that the question of French or English has very little to do with their position now. We wish the Moniteur to understand further that the English speaking Conservatives are not alone in their opposition to Mr. Johnson. A large proportion of the Acadian Conservative vote of the county will be cast for McInerney on the 6th. The English of the county would have been quite willing to support an Acadian had an acceptable man and one possessing the necessary qualifications been selected.

Hon. Mr. Costigan was present at nomination Tuesday, but took no part whatever in the proceedings. The government will not pronounce in favor of either of the Conservative candidates, but will leave their friends in the county to adjust their own differences. Mr. Costigan left after the proceedings for Ottawa.

Sir John S. D. Thompson is the new premier of Canada.

Vote for McInerney next Tuesday.

Buctouche.

Mr. Editor:—This is Sunday and judging from the number of politicians in town something important must be going on in political circles. Might it be that the wire pullers of the Moniteur Acadian are trying to back down Basil to take up Oliver J. LeBlanc as the Conservative-Liberal moderate candidate, or back Oliver down to take Basil as the standard bearer of the Moniteur Acadian's party. At any rate we don't know. But this we do know that it matters little how they patch up the party, now that Buctouche will give McInerney a vote that will open the eyes of some of his opponents. The people of Buctouche have soured on the Senator and his politics and will enjoy richly defeating any candidate to whom he may take up. A great number of Mr. LeBlanc's past friends have withdrawn their confidence from him. They don't need glasses to see that he is "self first, county next." I think the people of the county have decided to give McInerney a big vote this time and entrust in his hands their destinies for the remainder of their term.

Yours sincerely
 INDEPENDANT VOTER.

Live Lobsters Across the Country.

Col. Henry S. Osgood, of the American Express Company, Portland, Maine, received recently by express, from Chlopek Bros., Portland, Oregon, three salmon weighing sixteen pounds each. The fish left on their continental journey in the evening of the 11th, and reached their Maine destination on the night of the 17th. The fish came through in fine condition, and were partaken of with relish by members of the press, and other citizens of Portland. Col. Osgood, in acknowledging the safe arrival of the salmon, notified the agent of the Pacific Express Company at Portland, O., that Portland, Me., could reciprocate with fresh halibut and lobsters, and Col. Osgood at once had the order filled.

The lobsters were so packed that they will be kept moist and cool by water from melting ice, the ice being in a separate compartment from the lobsters, and the agents being instructed at intervals to re-ice. In this way, lobsters are shipped alive from Maine all through the West, and doubtless they will go in safety across the continent. The shipping of live lobsters by express has been developed by Col. Osgood until it has assumed proportions of magnitude, in fact, much greater than is generally realized. It is unusual for these lobster shipments to be less than five tons a day, and they have gone as high as twenty-five tons. Shipments have previously been made to so distant a point as Salt Lake City, Utah, but this is the first time that live lobsters have been sent from

HOW TO VOTE.

The following is the form of the ballot to be used in the election next Tuesday, and the electors of Kent should take care to place the cross after the name of McInerney, who is best able to look after the interests of the county in the Commons.

Election of the Electoral District of Kent.

JOHNSON.
 1. Basil Joseph Johnson, of Saint Louis, in the County of Kent, Merchant.

LEBLANC.
 II. Oliver Joseph LeBlanc, of Saint Mary, in the County of Kent, Farmer.

McINERNEY.
 III. George Valentine McInerney, of Richibucto, in the County of Kent, Barrister-at-law. X

"The elector, on receiving the ballot-paper, shall forthwith proceed into one of the compartments of the polling station, and there mark his ballot paper, making a cross with a pencil on any part of the ballot-paper within the division containing the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, and shall then fold up such ballot-paper, so the initials on the back can be seen without opening it, and hand it to the deputy returning officer, who shall, without unfolding it, ascertain, by examining the initials, and the number upon the counterfoil, that it is the same he furnished to the elector, and shall first detach and destroy the counterfoil, and in the presence of the elector, place the ballot-paper in the ballot-box.—Ballot Act, sec. 45.

No voter should make any mark on the ballot-paper save one cross on any part of the ballot-paper within the division containing the candidate's name for whom he intends to vote. If the voter writes his name or initials, or any marks except the X, he makes his ballot worthless. A simple cross for your candidate will assist in electing him. Any other mark or writing will contribute to his defeat.

"Let the English return to their vomit, that is their business, but for the Acadians let them stand by the national flag. The Acadian cause in this case is above all others."

Such is the language used by a correspondent to the Moniteur Acadian of the 29th. We are glad to say that these are not the sentiments of the majority of the Acadians. To them the Acadian cause is not above all others in this contest. They will not say that they have not been fairly used by the English in this or in previous contests. Mr. Girouard, Mr. Landry and Dr. Legere received a fair proportion of the English vote of the county against an English-speaking candidate, and it is safe to say, that, but for that English support, they would never have occupied seats in the Commons. Had Mr. Gogain been nominated, he would have been supported as loyally by the English as was Girouard, Landry or Legere. Mr. Johnson will not receive that support, and, unless we are very much mistaken, he will receive only a small proportion of the Acadian Conservative vote of the county.

Hon. Mr. Costigan was present at nomination Tuesday, but took no part whatever in the proceedings. The government will not pronounce in favor of either of the Conservative candidates, but will leave their friends in the county to adjust their own differences. Mr. Costigan left after the proceedings for Ottawa.

MAINE ENTIRELY ACROSS THE CONTINENT.—Agricultural Journal.

Supposed Changes on the Moon.

Everybody who has ever looked at the moon with a telescope knows that it is a wonderful world of extinct volcanoes. We have upon the earth no craters to be compared with the giants of the moon, some of which are fifty and sixty miles in diameter. The moon's volcanoes are extinct, we say, and yet Professor W. H. Pickering raises the question whether, after all, the volcanic activity of the moon is entirely dead.

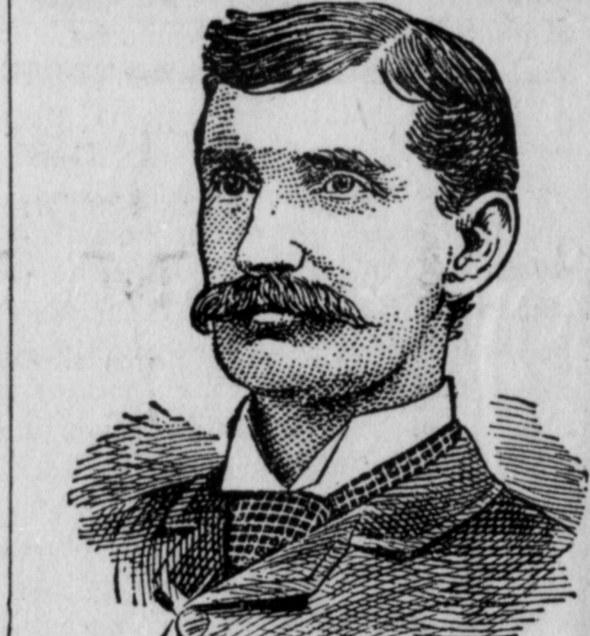

In the magnificently clear air at Arequipa, in Peru, Professor Pickering and his assistants are able to study the moon with very high magnifying powers, and they have noticed apparent variations in some of its smaller volcanic features which have given rise to the doubt just expressed.

It is not meant that these observers have seen changes actually taking place upon the moon, but that they have discovered small craters, apparently unnoticed by other astronomers, and have been unable to find other craters which previous observers have described and mapped. They also noticed apparent alterations in the size and appearance of some small lunar craters.

If no changes have really occurred, then it would appear that the early observers must have been somewhat careless in making their charts and describing what they saw; but this latter supposition is improbable.

It should be said that the supposed changes do not effect the giant craters of the moon, but only comparatively inconspicuous ones, and that there is such a variety of effects arising from the continually varying angles at which the slopes of the lunar mountains are presented to the sun and to us that it is exceedingly difficult to decide, in any particular instance, whether a change of appearance is real or deceptive.

Now that their attention has been specially drawn to the subject, it is probable that our astronomers, from their lofty perch in the Peruvian mountains will be able to announce important discoveries concerning that strange globe which once every month circles around the earth, and which is generally supposed to be a dead and abandoned world.

Mr. Milo Gilson,

A stalwart teamster in the employ of the Glens Falls, N. Y., Lumber Company, says that both he and his wife highly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. She failed to gain strength after a severe illness, felt miserable, could not sleep, and had no appetite. When she took Hood's Sarsaparilla she began to pick up and was soon all right. His own experience was that in the spring he was all run down, had weakness and distress in the stomach. Hood's Sarsaparilla brought him round all right, and he is now better and heavier than for years past. Thousands, yes almost Millions of People, testify to the wonderful value of Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling or weakness of mind, nerves or body. It is the helping hand which restores full health and strength. Mr. John J. Scully, President of the Seamen's Union, 256 Catherine Street, Detroit, Michigan, voluntarily writes as follows: "C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:"

"Gentlemen: I feel in duty bound to tell of the benefit I derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have been troubled with nervous dyspepsia, was tired and languid, with no ambition to work; my sleep was irregular. So I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. From the very first it seemed to be just the thing for me. The nervous dyspepsia has now entirely gone, my appetite is excellent, I can eat heartily without distress afterwards; I sleep well, and can now go about my work without that tired feeling so frequent before I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken six bottles and recommend it as the King of Medicines." J. J. SCULLY.

JOHN A. KIMBALL.

Neuralgia of the Heart! Chronic Dyspepsia! Awful Constipation! Rheumatism!

CURED BY GRODER'S SYRUP

SAINT JOHN, N. B., October 11, 1892.

To THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO., LTD., Gentlemen: I, John A. Kimball, of the City of St. John, in the Province of New Brunswick, shoemaker, do solemnly declare that:

I cannot speak in too high praise of the wonders that Groder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup has worked in my case. It is an act of justice as well as a duty for me to tell the public through you just what your remedy has done for me. I am 45 years of age. My life during the past 23 years has NEVER BEEN FREE FROM SUFFERING UNTIL NOW. Since I began to take GRODER'S SYRUP; I feel I have entirely disappeared. My distress from SEVERE CONSTIPATION has been an unending torture for the past ten years, but your remedy is fast restoring healthy action of the stomach THAT and bowels. Rheumatism of long-standing has ceased to trouble me. I am no longer a gloomy, melancholy dyspeptic. There is NO ACHE or pain in any part of my body. My food digests readily and causes me no distress whatever. Your medicine is the first of the hundreds I have tried that has given me any relief. I am ready to answer any inquiry concerning this statement, for I firmly believe in Groder's Syrup and desire other sufferers to obtain help as I have. It will cure them as it has cured me. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the "Act respecting extra-judicial oaths."

Done and declared at the City of St. John, in the Province of New Brunswick, this 11th day of October, A. D. 1892.

JOHN A. KIMBALL.
