LOCAL & GENERAL.

AT CALLENDAR'S .- We publish elsewhere in this issue an article under the above title copied from the American o'clock p. m. Field, published in New York and Chicago. It was written by Mr. M. A. Tirrell, and next Lord's day, (11th inst.) as follows, by is not overdrawn. The rest of the party the Rev. H. Hackenley:—Buctouche, consisted of the Storer boys-Ab. and Will-and Will Robertson, of Boston, ing, 14th inst., at Jardine's Settlement, brother of Geo. W. Robertson, of this 7.30.

KENT STUDENTS.—A number of young ladies left by the Kent Northern last week under the patriarchal care of J. D. Phinney, M. P. P., and although tears were shed at parting with their friends, they all appeared to be in good spirits when dinner was called at the Junction. The fair ones who were on their way to face the dreaded ordeal of the entrance examination, were Misses Ella Warman, Annie Foster, Ella McNairn, Mina Farrar and Olive Richards. We have no fear of our Kent girls failing to give a good account of themselves.

ASSAULT CASE. - A Dundas assault case in which Maxime Landry was complaintant and P. Robichaud, T. Landry, O. Landry and M. Landry were defendants, came up before magistrate Johnson at Cocagne yesterday. C. W. McAnn appeared for the prosecution and Geo. P. Thomas for the defence. It transpired that the trouble arose over the payment of some money to the school teacher in that district. It seems that the secretary of the district, who was one of the defendants, paid the money over without confalting the complainant, who is one of the trustees, and from this the trouble arore. The defendants claimed the secretary had been assaulted first by the plaintiff and that they had merely gone to his assistance. The case was dismissed. -Times.

A NARROW ESCAPE. - Miss Jennie Brown, of Mill Branch, had one day last week an experience that but few live to Leave Moncton tell about. All the family except herself | Arrive Buctouche being away from home she went out to Trains will run on above time every day of the aspirants to political honors, wish split up some shingles to make kindlings with which to cook her dinner. Not being an expert axewoman she missed the shingle and the axe sank into the ground. Buctouche 6.30 arriving Moncton 8.30.) likely get the English vote, seem inclined to make it purely a meeting of Acadians. A terrific report followed, the axe flew in one direction and Miss Jennie in another, while earth shingles and chips flew in all directions. Miss Brown found herself when she recovered consciousness | Will sell by Public Auction, for Mrs. John on the other side of the woodpile, laughing in an hysterical manner. Her arms SATURDAY, SEPT. 17th, were blown full of small perforations as if she had been pricked with a thousand needles; while her lower limbs presented the appearance of a smallpox patient just convalescent. A perforation through dress and corset penetrating into her side from which the blood was flowing freely | Carpets and Mats, Feather Beds and Bed was found by her friends when they re- ding, Dishes, Table Cutlery, Lamps, &c turned. The report was heard some half mile off. It would appear as if the explosive was dynamite, but how did it get into the ground? Miss Jennie is around again almost as brisk as ever.

Moral-Girls don't cook dinner unless there be a man around.

HYMENEAL. - We clip the following from the Lock Haven, (Pa.), Daily Democrat of August 29 :-

A wedding was solemnized at nine o'clock this morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, on West Water street, by Rev. Father Burke, when George McKenzie, of Nova Scotia, and Miss Maggie Walsh, of this city, were joined in wedlock. The bridesmaid was Miss Mamie E. Shaw, and the best man was Neil McDonald. The wedding was a quiet one, none being present but a very few intimate friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremonies the couple proceeded to the Custer House, Jay street, the proprietor of whom, Councillor Mc-Leod, is a brother-in-law of the bride, and where she has been making her home, where a wedding was served. After breakfast the newly made one left on a wedding tour, boarding day express for a 1892 -- SUMMER ARRANGEMENT -- 1892 trip to the cities in the east, on their way to visit the parents of the bride, who reside in New Brunswick. After the extended honeymoon the couple will locate in this city where they have so many friends. Mr. McKenzie is an industrious man who is always pleasant in manners and of sociable bearing He was also born under a lucky star, else he would not have been so fortunate in securing for a life partner a woman of many good qualities possessed by the now Mrs. McKenzie. We wish the couple the fullest measure of prosperity and contentment, peace and pleasure, and ignorance of all that is distasteful in domestic life. This wish is not from us alone, but joined in by the many friends of the couple.

One of those events which are always of interest took place at Grangeville on Monday, Sept. 5, when Mr. Beverly Duncan, of Canaan Station, (I. C. R.) and Miss Alice Plume, of Havelock, Kings Co., arrived at the residence of the Rev. Mr. had gathered to see them made "one." Something New, Never Used in the At 7.30 the ceremony took place. The bride was unattended; she looked most charming in a becoming costume of cinnamon-brown cheviot tastefully combined with cream satin and lace: She carried a handsome bouquet of rose-geraniums and cineraria. His old-time friend Mr. Lang Syne.") After spending a very pleasant evening the company broke up.
The happy couple will make a short tour before continuous and the most artistic made in the city.

NO INCREASE IN PRICE. O. S. Jones acted as best man (for "Auld before settling down to the sterner reali-ties of life. We wish them every happiness and blessing.
