A Bad Cold

If not speedily relieved, may lead to serious issues. Where there is difficulty of breathing, expectation, or soreness of the throat and bronchial tubes, with a constantly irritating cough, the very best remedy is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It removes the phlegm, soothes irritation, stops coughing, and induces repose. As an emergency medicine, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral should be in every household.

"There is nothing better for coughs than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I use no other preparation."—Annie S. Butler, 169 Fond St., Providence, R. I.
"I suffered severely from bronchitis; but was

CURED BY

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It saved my life."—Geo. B. Hunter, Goose River, N. B.
"About a year ago I took the worst cold that ever a man had, followed by a terrible cough. The best medical aid was of no avail. At last I began to spit blood, when it was supposed to be all over with me. Every remedy failed, till a neighbor recommended Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took half a teaspoonful of this medicine, three times a day, regularly, and very soon began to improve. My cough left me, my sleep was undisturbed, my appetite returned, my emaciated limbs gained flesh and strength, and to-day, thanks to the Pectoral, I am a well man."—H. A. Bean, 28 Winter St., Lawrence, Mass.

One of the Sensible Sort.

She can peel and boil potatoes. Make a salad of tomatoes. But she doesn't know a Latin noun from Greek: And so well she cooks a chicken That your appetite 'twould quicken. But she cannot tell what's new from antique. She knows how to set a table And make order out of Babel. Once at making puer I caught her. A real expert must have taught her. But she cannot tell true eloquence from rant. She has quite a firm conviction. She ought only to read fiction. And she doesn't care for science, not a bit; She likes a plot that thickens, And she's very fond of Dickens. From Copperfield to Martin Chuzzlewit. She can make her hats and dresses, Till a fellow fair confesses That there's not another maiden half so sweet; She's immersed in home completely. Where she keeps all things so neatly. But from Browning not a line can she repeat, (Thank goodness.) Well, in fact, she's just a maiden. That whatever she's arrayed in Makes her look just like the heroine of a play: 'Twould be foolish to have tarried. So to-morrow we'll be married. And I'm certain I shall ne'er regret the day.

Spontaneous Combustion.

Dr. Kedzie, professor of chemistry in the Michigan State Agricultural College at Lansing, in a recent address before the Michigan Association of Fire Underwriters, said: "Vegetable oils and especially spirits of turpentine, tend to take oxygen rapidly from the air, and thus generate heat. The large extent of surface exposed to the air promotes this oxidation, and the rags, being poor conductors of heat, retain the heat produced by oxidation, and hence arises the danger of spontaneous combustion. The danger is increased if the rags are moist. Similar instances of spontaneous combustion are seen in haymows, when the hay has been put up damp. The danger is greater when the rags are soiled by vegetable oils, for example, linseed and cotton seed oil, and especially spirits of turpentine used in making varnish.

"One day, while returning from Lansing, I saw Mr. Lapman rush out of his planing mill with a box of smoking sawdust in his hands, which burst into flames when thrown upon the road. A painter had rubbed the paint from his hands with the sawdust in the box, and departed unconscious of danger. Within fifteen minutes the oil of this paint thus spread over a large surface of sawdust was smoking and just ready to break into flame.

"The danger from spontaneous combustion is increased where a quantity of greased rags are left in a pile so loosely placed as to allow a free access of air, yet so compact as to keep in the heat caused by oxidation. The mineral oils are much less liable to spontaneous combustion than vegetable oils."

Nature Has Provided

A remedy for every ache and pain, and science through ceaseless activity and experiment is constantly wresting the secrets of her domain. A new and wonderful discovery has recently been made by means of which tens of thousands will be freed from pain. Nerviline, or nerve pain cure, represents in very concentrated form the most potent pain relieving substitutes known to medical science, and strange to say, it is composed of substances solely vegetable in origin. Polson's Nerviline is the most prompt, certain, and pleasant pain remedy in the world. Try Nerviline for toothache, neuralgia, cramps, &c., always safe and efficient.

Pearls of Truth.

The man who works for God always gets his pay in advance.

To-morrow is the day on which idle men work and fools reform.

It is very easy to find reasons why other people should be patient.

A man's worst difficulties begin when he is able to do as he likes.

The man who does wrong suffers but those who love him suffer more.

Error will slip through a crack while truth will get stuck in a doorway.

The saddest failings in life come from not putting forth the power to succeed.

Those who come to you to talk about others are the ones who go to others to talk about you.

No one but a successful man can truly pose as a cynic. He alone knows of how little value what men desire is.

James I. of England.

Dickens says of James I. of England:

"Our cousin of Scotland was ugly, awkward and shuffling, both in mind and body. It is well known that he was a great warrior. He was more changeable than the wind or waves. He was James the First of England, and Sixth of Scotland. He heard of a celebrated preacher who was singularly happy in his choice of texts for occasions as they occurred. James had a great desire to hear him, and appointed him to preach before him, that he might put his abilities to the test. The preacher, with the utmost gravity, gave out his text in the following words, "James the first and sixth" in the latter part of the verse, "for he wavereth." James who was aware of his great defect said, "He is at me already." The preacher kept to his text, and in eloquent language condemned an unstable disposition, heedless of the presence of the King and his courtiers.

To rise in the morning with a bad taste in the mouth and no appetite, indicates that the stomach needs strengthening. For this purpose, there is nothing better than an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills taken at bed time.

ALL SORTS.

A Hacking Cough disturbs rest.—Use Baird's Balsam of Horehound.

Investigate most worthless men closely, and you will find that they either sing, or play some game particularly well.

For stiffness and strains, rub with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, and then band in flannel.

When women get together one of the main subjects of conversation is wonder if some other woman knows the way her husband is acting.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is not accidental but is the result of careful study and experiment by educated pharmacists.

It is observed that in antique statues the second toe is longer than the first, or great toe, but men of the present time the reverse is the case.

Premature baldness may be prevented and the hair made to grow on heads already bald, by the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

The redevelopment of lost limbs is declared by an English naturalist to be not unusual among insects, in which it may take place either during the larval or pupal stage.

Are you debilitated from want of nourishment? K. D. C. will cause your food to nourish you by restoring your stomach to healthy action.

It is said that in all the forests of the earth there are no two leaves exactly the same. It is also said that amid all people of the earth there are no two faces precisely alike.

Michigan has taken steps to break the prevailing practice of using wagon wheels with narrow tires by enacting a law that all farmers who use wheels with broad tires shall be entitled to a remission of one-half their road tax.

Sallow and leaden-hued complexions soon give place to the loveliest pink-and-white, when the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is persisted in, and cosmetics entirely abandoned. Nothing can counterfeit the rosy glow of perfect health, which blesses those who use this medicine.

It is asserted that the rags brought to the Toronto crematory to be destroyed and the covering of mattresses from the beds of diphtheria and scarlet and typhoid fever patients are not destroyed, but are collected by the employees at the crematory and sold to the junk stores for about six dollars per load and the money divided among the workmen.

Healthy digestion is one of the most important functions of the human economy. K. D. C. restores the stomach to healthy action, and promotes healthy digestion.

John A. Botsum of Akron, O., is at Salt Lake, en route to Denver and his home, finishing a walk clear around the world, which he began March 1, 1891. He has footed it through southern Europe and Asia and says the worst country he ever struck was the sage brush desert between Reno, Nev., and Ogden, Utah.

Every year during the past decade, physicians have headed the list of suicides. It is not so much the amount of labor that wears out the human machine as the lack of continuous rest, and this the physician lacks. In view of this fact it is not surprising that medical men are short lived, nor is it wonderful that under the great mental exertion they are often subjected to the mind gives way and suicide is resorted to.

Shall a man take off his hat to a maid servant who is employed in his household and, if not what shall he do when he chances to meet her? This matter has been gravely discussed in the London Spectator, and it has occurred to somebody to suggest, that the man need not do anything until the exercising woman's universal prerogative, has signified that she is graciously pleased to recognize him in public.

The base burner stove, the telephone and other improvements of a like kind have worked a domestic and social revolution within the last few years. Among these improvements it is not unfair to include the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The great majority of men smoke tobacco; have done so for centuries past and will continue to do so. It is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best quality of the article. That is what they are supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." All smokers who have used it know that its flavor cannot be surpassed, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have to exercise in its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

Johnny Blair was the village vocalist and preceptor. He was great on sol-fa, and conducted a class every winter. At the break-up of the class Johnnie was presented with a walking-stick, and, having adjourned with some of the older members of the class to a public-house after the presentation had taken place, Johnnie imbibed too freely, and took a short cut across a park to his house. He stumbled over a cow reclining, and the warmth of the animal making Johnnie believe that he was snug in bed, he closed his eyes and gave himself up to the luxury of the situation. The cow seemed uneasy at the proximity of John, began to snuff about him, and at length ventured to try a rather prolonged "Moo!" At this unmusical sound Johnnie awoke, his ears all on the alert, and, raising his head from the grass, he shouted out, "Send your doh, man, Jock—sound your doh."

EXCELLENCE.

RHEUMATISM.—Mr. WM. HOWES, 68 Red Lion St., High Holborn, W. C., London, Eng., states he had rheumatism 20 years; suffered intensely from swelling of hands, feet and joints. He used St. Jacobs Oil with marvelous results. Before the second bottle was exhausted the pain left him. He is cured.

NEURALGIA.—Mrs. JOHN MCLEAN, Barrie Island, Ont., March 4, 1889, says: "I suffered severely with neuralgia for nine years and have been greatly benefited by the use of St. Jacobs Oil."

SCIATICA.—Grenada, Kans., U. S. A., Aug. 8, 1888. "I suffered eight years with sciatica; used five bottles of St. Jacobs Oil and was permanently cured."

STRAIN.—Mr. M. PRICE, 14 Tabernacle Square, E. C., London, Eng., says: "I strained my wrist and the severe pain yielded like magic to St. Jacobs Oil."

LAMEBACK.—Mrs. J. RINGLAND, Kincaid St., Brockville, Ont., writes: "I was confined to bed by severe lumbago. A part of a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil enabled me to go about in a day."
