A Scare.
The people of Richibucto were startled last Saturday morning by a report that a vessel direct from Santos, Brazil, and with yellow fever on board, had arrived at this port and was moored at Wark's wharf. It was learned, on enquiry, that the vessel was the "Saca." She sailed from Santos and arrived here after a voyage of fifty days. At Santos, one of the crew died of yellow fever, but there has been no sign of the disease since. One of the sailors was sick, and immediately on the arrival of the vessel he sent for a doctor. This is supposed to have given rise to the rumor which so alarmed the town.

Three More Arrivals.

Assault and Battery.
A case of assault and battery preferred by Florrie Robichaud against Augustus Richard was heard by Stipendiary Richardson last Saturday. The matter arose out of a dispute over a line fence. The stipendiary expressed the opinion that complainant had done much to provoke the assault, and fined Richard one dollar and costs. Mr. Sayre appeared for the complainant and Mr. McInerney for the defendant.
