WONDER IN WELLAND!

A Representative Farmer
Speaks.

MR. C. C. HAUN.

The following remarkable facts are fully certified to as being undeniably correct in every particular. Mr. Haun is well known in the vicinity, having resided here over fifty years, and is highly respected as a man of the strictest honor, whose word is as good as his bond.

As will be seen from his letter, four physicians had attended him, and it was only after he had given up hope of cure that he decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters on the recommendation of a neighbor who had been cured of a similar disease by its use. Mr. Haun writes as follows:

DEAR SIR,—I think I have been one of the worst sufferers you have yet heard of, having been six years in the hands of four of our best doctors without obtaining permanent relief, but continually growing worse, until almost beyond hope of recovery, I tried your Bitters and got relief in a few days. Every organ of my body was deranged, the liver enlarged, hardened and torpid, the heart and digestive organs seriously deranged, a large abscess in my back, followed by paralysis of the right leg, in fact the lower half of my body was entirely useless. After using Burdock Blood Bitters for a few days the abscess burst, discharging fully five quarts of pus in two hours. I felt as if I had received a shock from a powerful battery. My recovery after this was steady and the cure permanent, seeing that for the four years since I have had as good health as ever I had. I still take an occasional bottle, not that I need it but because I wish to keep my system in perfect working order. I can think of no more remarkable case than what I have myself passed through, and no words can express my thankfulness for such perfect recovery.

C. C. HAUN,
Welland, P.O.

In this connection the following letter from T. Cummes, Esq., a leading druggist of Welland, Ont., speaks for itself.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been personally acquainted with Mr. C. C. Haun for the last 20 years, and have always found him a very reliable man. You may place the utmost confidence in anything he says with regard to your medicine. He has on many occasions within the last four years told me that it was marvellous the way the Burdock Blood Bitters had cured him, and that he now felt as able to do a day's work as he ever felt in his life. Although quite well he still takes some B. B. B. occasionally, as he says, to keep him in perfect health.

Yours truly,
THOMAS CUMMES,
Welland, Ont.

The steadily increasing sale of B. B. B., the length of time it has been before the people, and the fact that it cures to stay cured, attest the sterling merit of this monarch of medicines, the people's favorite blood purifier, tonic and regulator.

Harcourt Notes.

Band practice to-night.
Gordon Livingston delivers a lecture in the town hall to-night. Subject, "Odds and Ends." We expect to hear something amusing and instructive.

Mr. Dorothy has a number of men at work improving his grounds. Mr. H. Wathen is also fitting up his neat little flower garden, which through the summer and early autumn is one of the attractions of Wathena cottage.

The remains of the late Archibald Ferguson were laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery on Sabbath last. Rev. W. McLeod held a short service at the house and after the interment preached in the church a most solemn and impressive sermon. Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing widow and family. A son who is in Brandon and a daughter in Boston were unable to be home.

M. T. Glenn will take charge of the Central Hotel the first of June unless he succeeds in finding a purchaser before that date.

The Parsonage is being repaired and improved. Bay windows and a veranda are added. The work is being pushed forward rapidly and we understand it will be ready for occupancy early in July.

MURIEL.

STRONG AS SAMSON.

A French-Canadian Who Has Performed Some Marvellous Feats.

Louis Cyr was born in St. John's, Quebec, in 1863.

His grandfather on the maternal side weighed over twenty-three stone, while his mother's weight is only a trifle under nineteen stone. She is immensely strong and only a few years ago was able to pick up a barrel of flour and carry it up two flights of steps. So far as his mother's side goes, therefore, he comes from a sturdy stock.

His father's family were not quite so colossal, although fairly big men and women. His father, however, brings down the scale at sixteen stone.

It was only natural that young Cyr when at school was master of all the lads. At the age of fourteen there were very few men who could cope with him, and at an early age his muscular development was extraordinary.

His parents were living at Montreal when he left school, and the question was what should they make of the young Hercules? Well, ultimately it was decided that he should enter the police service.

He was about seventeen at the time, and his strength had increased in a marvellous manner. He soon showed what a valuable acquisition he was to the force. He was sent to do duty in the roughest and most disturbed district of Montreal. He made so many captures and quelled such a number of disturbances that he soon received substantial recognition from the authorities. He was paid double salary and used to do the work of three.

Naturally he was not very popular among the roughs. So they made up their minds to settle him. Accordingly six or seven picked men waited upon him one dark night with sticks and belts. He was frightfully cut and can show you the scars of the wounds he received about the forehead now.

It must have been a desperate fight, but in the end his pluck and superior strength were too much for the cowards. Three out of the six made their escape more or less hurt. One of the others he had picked up and dashed to the ground, rendering him senseless. The other two he nipped around the waist until they screamed with agony.

He was just making off with the two he had captured, when he compassionately thought of the poor injured fellow on the ground. He therefore changed over his prisoners to the left hand and holding them firmly by the collars, picked up the senseless man with his right arm and threw him over his shoulder.

It must have been a curious sight to see this marvellous man with his senseless burden and two captives going down the streets of Montreal on that dark night, the blood running from the wounds in his forehead and high blinding him. He dropped the wounded man in the hospital as he passed, and took his prisoners to the station. Cyr, however, was very badly cut and had to go to the hospital himself. This and many other episodes during his service with the police made him very popular, and after the event just described he was left unmolested.

He had been a custodian of the peace for nearly two years, when an incident happened which called attention to his immensity of strength.

One day he was on duty in one of the chief thoroughfares of the town, when a cart laden with bricks came to grief. The horse fell down and the shafts were broken. They succeeded in getting the horse free from the harness; but what was to be done with the cart? There it stood right in the line of traffic. It was suggested that it should be unloaded.

"Stand on one side," said the muscular young policeman. Divesting himself of his coat and handing his hat to somebody standing by, he crouched under the cart, pressing up with his great broad shoulders. The bricks, cart and all were lifted, foot by foot, until they were moved right on to the sidewalk.

The applause of the crowd collected was tremendous. Some gentlemen who witnessed this performance were so astonished that they had the whole lot weighed. The weight that he had lifted was found to be a little over 2,100 pounds.

That feat of strength determined his career. He left the police and at once entered into the show business.

The toughest customer he ever had to deal with in lifting to the shoulder was a Captain Burst. On one occasion when in New Brunswick Burst offered to bet him $200 that he would not lift the same weight on to his shoulder that he would. "Done," said Cyr, and the money was put up.

This feat was to take place at an exhibition, but on board one of the ships lying off where they were.

Now Burst was what you might call a "whopper." He stood 6 feet 7 inches, and unlike the generality of tall men was a broad-shouldered muscular individual.

So to the ship they repaired, with the stakeholder, referee and a few acquaintances.

Aboard the vessel was an anchor weighing exactly 800 pounds. Burst picked up this pretty little toy and placed it with apparently not much difficulty on his shoulder. It remained there for a minute during which time the wonderment and applause was great. The anchor was then taken from his shoulder by six men and replaced on deck.

Then came Cyr's turn, and the betting was two to one against him. He had never attempted such a feat before. Yet, nothing daunted, he grasped the anchor, and after a desperate struggle managed to get it on his shoulder. It was a near thing, however, and nothing like so easily done as by his opponent. Never mind, he got it there.

"Now," said Cyr to the captain, "just you get up and straddle across my shoulders."

After some persuasion he was induced to do this, and Cyr, to the blank astonishment of the crowd, especially his opponent, walked around the deck. This astonished Burst that he shook him by the hand and said, "Well, now, you're the first man I've ever given best on that feat."

By steady practice with dumb bells and proper training Cyr's muscular powers gradually increased to the enormous dimensions of to-day.

The records broken by him lately were the 27½ lb. dumb bell lift, beating his previous record of 265 lbs.; and that of elevating a bar bell weighing 301 lbs.

The bell was raised from the floor to the chest with one motion, and then slowly pressed to arm's length above the head. It is far ahead of anything ever shown by any other athlete. Then with a sweep from the ground, he raised to arm's stretch above his head a dumb bell weighing 174½ lbs. The right hand only was used. The same feat was successfully tried with the left hand, making two more world's records.

After a rest he will return to England, where he has an engagement for another season. He says when this engagement expires he will retire to private life, which no doubt he can well afford to do as he will be paid $600 and upward per week.

Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry and Hypophosphites is the surest and best cure for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis and asthma. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.

A farmer in Manchester, Me., is reflecting sorrowfully upon the maxim that "Honesty is the best policy." Several years ago, in order to avoid paying some debts, he conveyed his farm, worth $4,000, to his wife. The wife died recently, and, according to law, the property goes to her three children, the widower's right of dower excepted. The children refuse to reconvey the farm to their father.

THE HAMBLETONIAN STALLION MERIDIAN

Will travel for service in Kent County, during the season of 1892 as follows: Leaving Kingston on Monday morning, May 2nd, he will go to Mill Branch and stand at McWilliams' Mill on Tuesday, then to Weldford on Wednesday and back to Bass River. Leave Bass River on Thursday and go to Molus River, down the Northwest to St. Louis and Kouchibouguac, remaining at Kouchibouguac during Friday forenoon, then back through Richibucto to Kingston, where he will remain until the following Tuesday.

Leaving Kingston on Tuesday morning, May 10, he will go through Chockpish, thence by Shore Road to Buctouche, standing there on Wednesday. Thursday morning he will go up Buctouche River, to Mill Creek. Friday morning he will go to South Branch, thence through Galway to Kingston. Making the above circuits each alternate week during season.

PEDIGREE.—Meridian, registered in the 5th volume of Wallace's American Trotting Register, bred by Powell Bros., of Shadeland, Crawford Co., Pennsylvania, is by Satellite by Robert Bonner, by Hambletonian, by Abalah, by Membrino, son of Imported Messenger. Dam, Belle Bashaw, by Long Island Bashaw, by Hawk Eye, by Long Island Black Hawk, by Andrew Jackson, by Young Bashaw, by Imported Grand Bashaw.

Terms, $8.00 for season.
ANTHONY MCNAIRN, Groom.

THE REGISTERED Trotting-Bred Stallion KINGSTONE.

"Kingstone" will be held for service of mares in the County of Kent during the present season, when hand bills will be posted giving the particulars of route, &c.

Although "Kingstone" has never had the benefit of any special training as a trotter, most of the experienced horsemen who have seen his movements pronounce his gait perfect and only requiring development; and, up to the present no reason has been forthcoming that shows that he is not one of the best in his class that has ever been offered to the breeders of carriage horses in this county.

As he is the grandson of the great founder of the Hambletonian family of trotters and roadsters, some of whom command $1000.00 for season service, the owner of "Kingstone" cannot think of degrading the noble family by offering his services at any scrub rate; they are therefore held at the rate of $10.00 for the season, or $5.00 for a single service. But, to encourage the production of something extra, the owner makes the following offer, viz.—When five or more mares in any one parish shall be booked to the service of "Kingstone," the parties doing so may choose a mare of exceptionally good quality which said mare can have the services of "Kingstone" free of charge.

Hambletonian 10, (the founder of the Hambletonian family) produced—among others—129 sons who sired 2,300 trotters, and of the number "Rysdyk" 653, (the sire of "Kingstone") stands credited the 29th on the list, leading 99 of his brothers, including "Robert Bonner," 270, (the grandsire of "Meridian") as "Robert Bonner claims the low figure of 2 to his credit, while "Rysdyk" has 7. Also be it remembered that "Robert Bonner" commenced his life five years before "Rysdyk," which is a big lead in horse life.

"Kingstone" is sired by "Rysdyk," 653, and he by "Hambletonian," 10, often called "Rysdyk's Hambletonian." Horsemen know further breeding. "Kingstone's" dam, "Duchess of Kent," was by the imported thoroughbred "Aracan," bred by Lord Exeter, and imported in Nova Scotia by Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. W. A. Henry, by "Ambrose," dam "Ava," by "Lanercost," second dam "Mecca," by "Sultan," third dam "Miss Cantley," by "Stamford," fourth dam, "Sister Silver," by "Mercury," fifth dam by "Herod," sixth dam, "Young Hal," by "Skim," seventh dam, "Hag," by "Crab," eighth dam, "Old Ebony," by "Children," ninth dam, "Old Ebony," by "Basto," tenth dam, "Massey's Mare," by his "Black Barb."

As "Kingstone" is perfectly sound, having neither string-halt or other disease, congenital or otherwise, colts from his loins and sound, healthy mares should be equally sound and reasonably expects a fair share of patronage for him.
