Trotting-Bred Stallion KINGSTONE

"Kingstone" will be held for service of mares in the County of Kent during the present season, when hand bills will be posted giving the particulars of route, &c.
Although "Kingstone" has never had the benefit of any special training as a trotter, most of the experienced horsemen who have seen his movements pronounce his gait perfect and only requiring development; and, up to the present no reason has been forthcoming that shows that he is not one of the best in his class that has ever men have returned seeming well satisfied. been offered to the breeders of carriage horses in this county.

As he is the grandson of the great found er of the Hambletonian family of trotters $1000.00 for season service, the owner of "Kingstone" cannot think of degrading the noble family by offering his services at any scrub rate; they are therefore held at the rate of $10.00 for the season, or $5.00 for a single service. But, to encourage the production of something extra, the owner makes the following offer, viz :- When five or more mares in any one parish shall be booked to the service of "Kingstone," the parties doing so may choose a mare of exceptionally good quality which said mare can have the services of "Kingstone"

More Taxation.

In consequence of the new tax initiated by the local government and imposed by the legislature at its last session, the banks throughout the city and province are charging an extra fee of ten cents on all paper discounted, no matter what the amount. This fee, it is said, will just about compensate the banks for the tax they will have to pay. The insurance companies are also heavily taxed, and the Board of Fire Underwriters had a meeting a few days ago to consider what incaease in rates would be necessary to meet the Our friend, Mr. George McDonald, sr., additional expenses.
