New Facts About the Dakotas

Is the title of the latest illustrated pamphlet issued by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul R'y, regarding those growing states, whose wonderful crops the past season have attracted the attention of the whole country. It is full of facts of special interest for all not satisfied with their present location. Send to A. J. Taylor, Canadian Passenger Agent, No. 4 Palmer House Block, Toronto, Ont., for a copy free of charge.

Breaking Their Oath of Office.

A Moncton Times reader writes that it is a notorious fact that some telegraph operators divulge the contents of private messages. This was the case of an operator in Kent Co. last week, when the contents of a private telegram were "blabbed" over the village for all the old maids and gossips to prattle about, even before said message was delivered, and this done in the face of the fact that operators are sworn to secrecy. Those guilty of violating their oath of office should be instantly dismissed.

Justice Court.

The case of James McDougall vs. Philip Woods was held before Justice Caie last Friday. Defendant attended Mr. W. A. McLaren's sale a short time ago and there bought some articles. When the bill was presented he refused to pay it alleging that McLaren was indebted to him and he intended to set off one claim against the other. Mr. McDougall as auctioneer then sued him for the price of the goods. The Justice held that the auctioneer's claim could not be superior to that of the owner and accordingly gave judgment for Defendant.

A Fish Story.

Whales are very numerous in Grand Manan waters this winter. Mr. Cronk, of Split Head, went out fishing one day last week, and a very large one came swimming straight for him. He had nothing to defend himself with, but the whale came so close that he had to do something. So he dropped a large quid of tobacco from his mouth into his hand and threw it at the whale. The quid struck the animal in the left eye, apparently causing him much pain, and, as luck would have it, directed his course from Mr. Cronk's boat. He lashed the sea into foam for some time and at last sank. Mr. Cronk was very thankful at his deliverance, and thinks there is some good in the quid after all.—St. Croix Courier.

The New York Steamship Company.

New York, Feb. 19.—The affairs of the New York Steamship Co., were wound up yesterday by the Sheriff's sale of all the available property, consisting of office furniture and supplies, to satisfy a judgment brought by H. H. Warner, president of the company, for money advanced. The New York Steamship Co. was organized about two years ago by Nathaniel L. Newcombe, to run freight and passenger steamers between New York and ports in Maine and New Brunswick. It was capitalized for $250,000. The company put but one vessel on. It has run no steamer at all since last October. Some of the original stockholders intend to combine and put another company in operation probably under the same name.

The Adams House, Chatham.

This well known hotel is pleasantly situated in the centre of the town, and is certainly one of the largest, most handsomely furnished, and best managed hotels in the lower provinces. It is heated by two large furnaces, and illuminated throughout by electricity (including the sample rooms) has telephone connection that extends to Newcastle, Nelson, Black Brook, and other points on the Miramichi, and has electric bells. The livery stable in connection furnishes teams to all passenger trains, and first-class teams can be had at short notice. The telegraph office, post office, custom house and express office are within a few minutes walk from the hotel. Mr. Flanagan, the proprietor, has deservedly earned the reputation he has got, for no hotel in northern New Brunswick is as well equipped as the Adams House.

Since Last September

I have not spent one day without intense suffering until I obtained a bottle of Scott's Cure for Rheumatism. I have used part of my second bottle, and consider it the greatest cure for Rheumatism ever discovered. I would recommend anyone to try it who suffers as I did—I was unable to work, or even walk, and now enjoy better health than I have for years.

Yours truly,
E. B. GREEN,
City Road, St. John.

A Wonderful Change.

GENTLEMEN:—For twenty years I suffered with rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B. B. B. I can eat heartily any food, and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine, and has made a wonderful change in my health.

A Chatham Fortune for a Rich Englishman.

Mrs. James Millar, relict of the late James Millar, died here on the 15th, at the advanced age of 86 years. Her husband was known as Northumberland's Grammar School teacher for nearly a quarter of a century, entering on that duty in 1840. He was an Elder in St. Andrew's Kirk for one-third of a century, and was also a zealous Sabbath School teacher during that time. He had no family and he accumulated wealth. He died in 1865. Since that time his widow has lived in Chatham and enjoyed in her own way the benefits of their early savings. By the will made in the sixties, a sister's son of this lady, named Kettle, is the heir to all the property. No real estate was owned by them. The personal estate is valued at $12,000. No legacies were found in the will. It was always expected that a few thousands of the investments made by his lady since her husband's death would be left to some charitable institution to perpetuate her memory, but the facts are otherwise. The man who is the recipient of this property, is already wealthy, having made his pile at the Cape of Good Hope, in diamond speculating. Mrs. Millar's funeral was largely attended. The pall bearers were Messrs. D. Ferguson, John Brown, Wm. Wyse, A. Fraser, Hugh Marquis and Wm. Johnston.—World.
