THE PRESIDENTIAL OUTLOOK.

There seem to be a number of candidates for the United States Presidency, and the question most of all in the minds of newspapers and politicians is, who will be the nominee of the great political parties? The national convention will meet at Minneapolis and the indications are that President Harrison will be re-nominated. It is probable that he will be re-nominated, as there are a number of politicians who are quite willing to act as standard bearer of the grand old party. Until a few months ago the name of James G. Blaine, secretary of state, was on every tongue and there was a strong feeling throughout the republic that he should be tendered the nomination. He has, however, written a letter declining the honor. Notwithstanding his refusal there are a great many who think he is the only man able to lead the party to victory, and it would not be a matter of much surprise if he were yet in luck to allow his name to go before the convention. Governor McKinley, of Ohio, is also spoken of. He is the father of the McKinley bill and one of the strongest champions of protection in America. Among the high tariff party he will have a large following and will poll no mean vote in the convention. There are other candidates whose names will probably go before the convention, namely Robert T. Lincoln, late United States minister to England; General Alger, of Michigan, and Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed, of Maine.

The democratic convention meets at Chicago and if we may judge from the number of names mentioned in that connection, there is no scarcity of presidential timber in the democratic party. Ex-president Cleveland and Senator Hill, of New York, appear to be the principal contestants, and in the state conventions there is a bitter fight between the followers of these two gentlemen. Cleveland appears to be the favorite, but Hill is a fighter, and a politician who probably knows better how to manipulate a convention than any other man in the United States. This rivalry may possibly lead to the nomination of a compromise candidate and there are a number of names freely mentioned as possible candidates. Foremost among these are the names of Governor Boies, of Iowa, the first democratic governor of that state, Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, who last year converted a hostile republican majority of 70,000 in the quaker state into a minority, Senator Palmer, of Illinois, Senator Gorman, of Maryland, and Ex-governor Grey, of Indiana. Until the convention meets the country will be in a state of doubt. In the meantime there will be a considerable amount of wire pulling done in the interest of the various candidates.

CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND.

The bill to extend the modus vivendi passed in the Canadian House of Commons last week, the clause providing for the recognition of the licenses issued by the government of Newfoundland having been omitted. The present bad feeling between Canada and the ancient colony, arises out of the action of our government regarding what is known as the Bond-Blaine conventions. Previous to the year 1889, there existed a most friendly feeling between the two countries. Canada allowed Newfoundland products to be admitted free of duty, and in return Newfoundland allowed our vessels certain privileges along her shores. In 1889 the government of Newfoundland sought to enter into closer trade relations with the United States, at the expense of Canada. The Bond-Blaine agreement was entered into, by which American goods were placed upon a more favorable footing in the Newfoundland markets than were Canadian goods. Our government strongly urged the Imperial authorities to disallow the measure. The British government did refuse to ratify the agreement and immediately the ire of the Newfoundlanders was aroused against Canada, for what they termed its interference in their affairs. Their legislature proceeded to enact laws prohibiting the selling of bait to Canadian vessels, forbidding our fishing vessels to enter their ports and placing a large increased duty on Canadian imports.

Mr. George Fowler's grist mill shut down for the winter some time ago and his shingle machine is busy at work. Last week it sawed one hundred and six thousand.

Mr. James A. Fowler is home from Fredericton on a visit to his father. He intends leaving again this week to resume his duties as instructor in military corps. Jim is a fine young man; and when he next visits us we hope to see him with a fair partner of his own, and enjoying the humdrum of married life.

We are sorry to hear of our friends Mrs. J. Cameron and Miss J. Kelly being sick, and hope soon to hear of their recovery.

Miss E. K. Fowler who has been very ill for some time is now able to go around again.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. A. McKay is well and able to resume her work again.

ment for its unwise policy in this matter, but they were voted down and a dispatch was sent to Ottawa a few days ago, refusing to consider any proposition for a renewal of friendly intercourse between the two countries, until Canadian opposition to the Bond-Blaine treaty is withdrawn. It is regrettable that the unfriendly feeling between the two colonies should continue to exist; but Newfoundland is losing most by the quarrel, and as long as she continues to sulk, Canadians do not feel like extending to her many privileges.

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL.

The redistribution bill based on the last census returns was introduced in the House of Commons last week. New Brunswick has no cause to hail its appearance with delight for its provisions the representation of this province is reduced from sixteen to fourteen—a greater decrease than in any of the other provinces. The loss falls on the St. John river counties, the city and county of St. John losing one member and the county of Queens and Sunbury being united into one constituency. This gives to the North Shore counties a larger proportion of the provincial representation than they now have. The bill divides Prince Edward Island into five electoral districts, each district sending one member. In no province in the Dominion is the representation so fairly adjusted as on the Island, the largest constituency containing a population of about 23,000 and the smallest 21,000. Kings county which now sends two members will under the provisions of this bill send but one thus decreasing the number of members from the province by one. Nova Scotia will also lose a member, the counties of Queens and Shelburne being formed into one constituency. By the terms of the British North American Act the representation of the province of Quebec is fixed at sixty-five. This bill increases the representation of the cities of Montreal and Hochelaga from four to seven members. Ottawa also gains a member. To meet this increase the membership of the rural districts is decreased. Ontario and Manitoba are given an increased representation, and the number of members from British Columbia and the Northwest remains the same. It will be seen that all the loss falls on the maritime provinces, the representation of the western provinces being slightly increased. While we cannot look upon the bill with much satisfaction we must acknowledge that the measure provides for a just and fair representation according to the last census returns. So far as the maritime provinces are concerned the government certainly makes no attempt to strengthen itself by a gerrymander.

A LEAGUE AGAINST CANCER.

Several French physicians seeing how utterly futile the efforts of the medical fraternity have been in combating cancer have started a society of medical men whose express object will be to study the disease carefully and conscientiously and endeavor through their united efforts to discover some remedy for it. It would be a great benefit indeed to mankind should their efforts prove successful. Cancer appears to be far more common than it formerly was and it is very rarely that a case is cured. It is true there are instances in which cancers have been successfully removed but in the majority of cases the disease proves fatal. It is not long since a well known citizen of this county fell a victim to cancer. Twice it was removed by the surgeon's knife only to grow again larger than before. The services of the best physicians in Montreal, Philadelphia and New York failed to effect a cure and he finally succumbed to the disease. We mention this case because it occurred under the immediate observation of many of our readers. Such cases are however occurring daily, and physicians find themselves powerless to discover a remedy. Let us hope that the efforts of the members of this league may prove successful and that they may publish to the world some method of curing or alleviating this fearful malady.

Little Branch Notes.

April 26th.—Spring has made its appearance at last and all are busy at work preparing to sow their spring crops. Mr. James McDonald was at work ploughing yesterday. Snow has almost all disappeared, but the roads are in a horrid condition for travelling.

Mr. George Fowler's grist mill shut down for the winter some time ago and his shingle machine is busy at work. Last week it sawed one hundred and six thousand.

Mr. James A. Fowler is home from Fredericton on a visit to his father. He intends leaving again this week to resume his duties as instructor in military corps. Jim is a fine young man; and when he next visits us we hope to see him with a fair partner of his own, and enjoying the humdrum of married life.

We are sorry to hear of our friends Mrs. J. Cameron and Miss J. Kelly being sick, and hope soon to hear of their recovery.

Miss E. K. Fowler who has been very ill for some time is now able to go around again.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. A. McKay is well and able to resume her work again.

Charged with Forgery.

Alexander Maillet, of St. Anne, was arrested last Thursday, charged with uttering forged fishing bounty declarations, and was taken before Justice John T. Cate for a preliminary hearing. W. W. Wells, Q. C., of Moncton, who laid the charge, appeared to prosecute, Wm. D. Carter for the prisoner. The Justice held the evidence sufficient to put the accused on his trial, and accordingly committed him. Judge Landry happened to be in town, and an order to admit prisoner to bail was obtained. Maillet is now out on bail pursuant to the judge's order.

On Friday, Sylvain Babane, a justice of the peace, who has been living in St. Anne, was brought before Justice Cate, charged with forging the declarations presented by Maillet. It appears that in January 1891, Babane gave the certificate to Maillet, together with an order bearing the same names as were on the declarations. The names in both the declarations and the order are alleged to have been forged. Maillet presented the certificates and order to Fishery Overseer Magliore Girouard, of St. Mary, who in return gave him the checks for the different amounts named in the declarations. Maillet handed the checks over to Babane and they were afterwards cashed. Frank Maillet, whose name was on one of the alleged forgeries, swore that he never applied for a fishery bounty on any such declaration, and that his name had been forged. W. W. Wells appeared for the prosecution in this case also, and Geo. V. McInerney for Babane. Accused was committed for trial. Judge Landry left before Babane was committed and as yet no order for bail has been obtained.

County Court.

The case of George K. McLeod vs. Geo. G. Daigle was the only case tried at the April sittings of the County Court here. This was an action on an account. Defendant acknowledged the account but contended that McLeod had broken a contract he had with defendant for getting stone for the Richibucto mill and claimed damages for such breach as a set off to the action. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff for $52.47 the full amount claimed.

In James Killian vs. Bowen Smith the record was withdrawn.

The rule for a new trial in Thomas West et al vs. Henry O'Leary was discharged.

Counsel agreed to hand in to the Judge written arguments in Long vs. McKinnon.

In Hall vs. Maclaren a motion for judgment as in case of a non-suit His Honor made no order.

Ten years ago all our fine tobacco came from the United States. But month after month and year after year, the superior quality of the "Myrtle Navy" brand has been driving the American article out of the Canadian market. The "Myrtle Navy" is now to be found in every village in the Dominion, and is as familiar to the smokers upon the Atlantic and Pacific coasts as to those in the city in which it is manufactured.

"August Flower"

"I inherit some tendency to Dyspepsia from my mother. I suffered two years in this way; consulted a number of doctors. They did me no good. I then used Relieved in your August Flower and it was just two days when I felt great relief. I soon got so that I could sleep and eat, and I felt that I was well. That was three years ago, and I am still first-class. I am never without a bottle, and if I feel constipated the least particle a dose or two of August Flower does the work. The beauty of the medicine is, that you can stop the use of it without any bad effects on the system.

Constipation While I was sick I felt everything it seemed to me a man could feel. I was of all men most miserable. I can say, in conclusion, that I believe August Flower will cure anyone of indigestion, if taken Life of Misery with judgment. A. M. Weed, 229 Bellefontaine St., Indianapolis, Ind."

Notes from Rogersville.

Brook driving is rendered impossible on account of the scarcity of water.

Messrs. Murphy & Fournier's mills are going full blast.

Mr. Fournier is going to have his grist mill improved this summer.

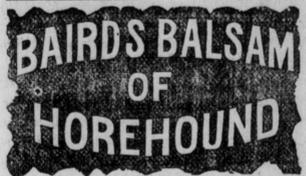

Mr. Aug. Richard, secretary of Rogersville and Acadieville Agricultural Society, has imported 80 bushels of wheat, white Fife, red Fife, white Russian, and Lost Nation, which he is distributing to members at cost. He has also corn, timothy, clover, barley and pease seed on hand for the members. Mr. Richard has also a door and sash factory which he operates himself.

Mr. Legere has also opened a carriage factory. He is a competent man for the trade. He is a first class carriage painter.

Dr. Pidgeon, of Dalhousie, is expected to come to Rogersville to practice his profession.

The man who called sarsaparilla a fraud had good reason; for he got hold of a worthless mixture at "reduced rates." He changed his opinion, however, when he began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It pays to be careful when buying medicines.

Hall's Hair Renewer enjoys the confidence and patronage of people all over the civilized world who use it to restore and keep their hair a natural color.
