Charles Wesley Wickett, aged 11 years, upwards, a Protestant boy, son of Humphrey Wickett of Green Point, testified to Mr. Fowler that he had attended Miss E. A. Devreaux's school the past two months along with his two younger sisters. Prayers were said in French, but the catechism was not taught. The scholars knelt and crossed themselves, but the Protestant children did not cross themselves. The first couple of days he went to school he crossed himself, but stopped it by his father's command.

To Mr. Lawlor—No one ever taught him to cross himself.

James Doucet, aged 14, brother of a previous witness, corroborated portions of his brother's testimony as to Catholic prayers being said and the catechism taught in school hours.

To Mr. Landry—On one occasion Miss Boudreau told him he must either kneel properly at prayers or else go home. He went for a year. Prayers were said all that time. Both children and teacher would say in French, "St. Mary, pray for us," the teacher first and the scholars afterwards.

To Mr. White—Always knelt down at prayers. Had been going a year and a half when Miss Boudreau told him to kneel properly or go home.

To Mr. Skinner—Did not know that praying to Mary marked a difference between Catholic and Protestant prayers. Miss Mary Alexander, taught at Kinsale, district No. 8 in this county, continuously since November, 1889. The majority of the ratepayers are Irish Catholics; there is one Protestant school trustee. In '88 she applied to Patrick Maloney, Ebenezer Hicks and John Alexander for re-engagement. Two of these trustees were Protestants. In '82, when she applied to be continued, the trustees, of whom two were Daniel Driscoll and John Cullinan, refused on the ground that they preferred a Roman Catholic, because their children had no religious instruction while she was there. In 1888, when she applied, her brother asked her to get Patrick Maloney's consent first, else the Roman Catholics would say the two Protestant trustees took the matter in their own hands. Mr. Maloney refused to employ her because she was a Protestant and he wanted a Catholic. Mr. Hicks said the same. She secured an engagement there in November, 1889. Some time in the spring of 1890, Mr. Driscoll asked about the school. Witness said the children did not attend well, and asked him the reason why. He replied he supposed it might be due to not teaching the catechism, and asked her if she would teach it. She said if the people wanted it she would do so. Shortly after that Mr. Carter, a Roman Catholic trustee, visited her at her home, and asked her if she would teach the catechism, as some of the people were kicking about it not being done. She said she would. Nothing was said of the hours by the trustees. She said it after four and continued to do so till quite recently. Never taught it before nine in the morning. She had seen in 1884 children sitting with their catechisms before them between 2 and 3 p. m., but did not see the teacher teaching them. When witness entered, the teacher, Miss Meahan of Bathurst, who was teaching in Normal school, told the pupils to put away their catechisms and take up reading. The first school witness got after coming from Normal school in 1884 was at Caraque, in which school she saw a French teacher, Aguetis Alberte, teaching the catechism regularly within school hours. No Protestants were in that department. They had prayers, too, and witness taught the Catholic catechism in Kinsale in English. She attended a school in Kinsale taught by Miss McLeary, who taught the Roman Catholic catechism during school hours and Catholic prayers in English. Did not see her use the prayer beads. The children used to kneel and cross themselves. Thought this was in 78 or 79. She had a brother Herbert, who went to school in Kinsale some years ago.

Mr. White objected to going back to what was done many years ago.

JUNE 5.—At a meeting of the members and adherents of the Presbyterian church here last Wednesday Rev. W. Herdman was called to the chair, and after reading the notice of meeting he explained that the blinds, windows, &c., required to be repaired and that there should be a special collection on Sunday the 4th inst.

The collection, we are pleased to state, last Sunday is the largest collected in the church for several years.

Miss Lizzie Potter has nobly come forward and promised to oversee the cleaning of the church for twelve months free of charge. The collection amounted to $28.00.

Mr. James Beattie, one of our oldest inhabitants, passed away suddenly last Thursday morning. Mr. Beattie complained of being unwell on Wednesday, and, notwithstanding, he did not think medical aid necessary. Doctor Ferguson was called in, but Mr. Beattie died a few hours afterwards. The funeral, one of the largest seen in this village, took place on Friday, when the Freemasons, including a number of brethren from Richibucto, paid the last respect to their deceased brother. Rev. Mr. Herdman engaged in prayer and brother Robert Phinney, W. M., read the Masonic funeral service.

DEATH OF MR. JAMES BEATTIE.—The members of Lodge St. Andrews, No. 16, F. & A. M., drove to Kouchibouguac Friday to attend the funeral of the late James Beattie. The death of Mr. Beattie, which occurred at the residence of Mr. Wm. Graham, Kouchibouguac, removes one of the oldest inhabitants of that section, and SKODA DISCOVERY CO.: GENTS.—We cannot be too grateful, for the benefit our little babe derived, from the use of SKODA'S REMEDIES. When less than 9 months old, his face broke out with a Terrible Eczema. The itching and burning caused him to scratch so much that his cheeks became raw, and bled considerably. He suffered extremely. We gave him 3 drop doses of the DISCOVERY internally, used the SOAP and OINTMENT externally, and in a few weeks he was perfectly cured, and is to-day a rugged, healthy boy.

Respectfully,
MR. & MRS. H. B. CUNNINGHAM,

MAY 20.—The weather is remarkably fine and the farmers are making rapid progress farming. One of our wealthy farmers has completed his crop. He was in a hurry, as the time is short for him to make preparations to take to himself a life partner.

Lumber business is quiet, as a large portion of the lumber is stuck in the stream for want of water to float it out.

The Mill Creek bridge which has been undergoing very thorough repairs, will be passable for teams in a few days.

Rev. Louis Jack has filled the pulpit very satisfactorily since the departure of Rev. Geo. Findley, who was called to other fields, after a very successful winter's work. His untiring devotion to his Christian duties endeared him to the congregation. We wish him every success in his new field.

Rev. Mr. Watson who was with us last summer, and who made so many warm friends, is to be with us this summer commencing the first Sabbath of June. All who wish a treat had better avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this young talented preacher.

We are pleased to learn that the trustees have engaged Mr. Moseley Wathen for another term. He has proved himself a very efficient teacher since he was engaged in this school. He is also teacher of the senior class in our Sabbath school.

For Sale at SHORT'S DRUG STORE STALLION GOLDLEAF.

The Stallion Goldleaf will stand in Richibucto and Kingston during the first part of the season, viz:—In Richibucto on Friday and Saturday of each week, in St. Louis on Mondays and Tuesdays and in Baetouche on Wednesdays and Thursdays, for the service of mares at the fee of $5.00 for single service, and $8.00 for the season.

Goldleaf is the son of Rysdyk, 653, Sire of Clingstone, 2.14, Victor, 2.21, Geo. M. Rysdyk, 2.25, Mand A., 2.26, Bertrac, 2.27, Dam, Oakleaf, by Sunshine, (thoroughbred.) He is bay in color, with two hind ankles white. He stands 16 hands high and weighs 1100 pounds. He is perfectly sound, and has an excellent set of feet and legs, with plenty of bone and substance, good back and loins, well muscled and springy ribbed, splendid head and neck, well put on, oblique shoulders, and deep chest, and a fine main and tail. His finish style and action are perfect, and though never handled for speed, he shows a natural and frictionless gait, and will go fast if developed. He can now show a 2.40 clip. He has good stiff action, and opens up wide when he moves.

Goldleaf is bred for speed, his veins being rich in the famous Hambletonian blood flanked by the very best strains of imported thoroughbred. He took first prize at the Sackville, N. B., Exhibition in 1886 and 1888. (He was not shown in 1887.) He is 12 years old on June 20th, 1892, and for so young a horse is a remarkably successful one.

Goldleaf's colts are claiming attention wherever shown, and carry off honors in the face of the weightiest competition. Mr. H. A. Whitney, Mechanical Superintendent of the Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, has two fillies sired by Goldleaf, aged four and five years respectively, full sisters and well matched, that were driven in double harness on the streets the past winter, and pronounced by all to be a very handsome team. Warden J. B. Foster, of the Dorchester Penitentiary, has a five-year old that took first prize at the Sackville Exhibition. Many more of his get might be mentioned, but suffice it to say that the best guarantee that his stock are appreciated is the fact that trotting and carriage horse breeders have patronized him three years consecutively. Breeders may rest assured that they can make no mistake by stinting their best mares to this handsome and finely bred young stallion.

The season will commence on May 1st, and end on July 31st.
