The Detroit Free Press has been informed that one of the queerest railroads on this continent is the Salisbury & Harvey, in New Brunswick.

A printed notice hung up in the cars cautions passengers that it is well to get out and walk on reaching a certain bridge, and it was long the custom to push the cars over this crazy structure before the mighty engine was trusted upon its rotting timbers.

By the discharge of a gun in the hands of some unknown person last Monday morning at Osborne Corner, Albert Co., about seven miles from Hillsboro, two boys were shot, one being a son of John Osborne, the other Henry Shaw, both of Osborne Corner.

The two boys were at school and during the morning intermission went into a piece of wood in the rear of the school house, where they received the shot, but by whom or how they cannot tell, as they did not see any one around.

The Shaw boy had one of his ears pierced by the shot, but with the Osborne boy the case is very serious, and may prove fatal.

The Supreme Court delivered judgment to-day on the writ of error in the Welton-Randall conspiracy case.

Justices Hannington and King did not hear the argument and took no part.

The Chief Justice and Justices Palmer, Fraser and Tuck had lengthy written judgments, the reading of which occupied from eleven until two o'clock.

Justices Tuck and Palmer went for reversing the judgment of the St. John County Court and quashing the conviction taking the ground that the companies alleged to have been defrauded—the Total Abstinence and Golden Rule Alliance—were doing business illegally in Canada and there could be no conspiracy to defraud an illegal transaction.

The Chief Justice and Justice Fraser took the opposite view on the point, but were in favor of a new trial, on the ground of improper admission and rejection of evidence and misdirection of the trial judge.

The court being thus divided, Justice Tuck withdrew his judgment, so that the judgment of the court is for a new trial.

When We Were Boys. When we were boys in the country mother used to give us water sweetened with molasses to ease our cough.

In these fortunate days the kids smack their lips over Hawker's Tolu and cough for more.

How much is arsenic a grain? "We never sell strychnine without a prescription from some physician we know," answered the clerk.

Then he went to the telephone, rang up three figures, said a few cabalistic words, and returned to the counter.

"You come along," said the policeman: "you can't kill yourself here, my man!"

"Why didn't you say so before," said the clerk, "and not go and put one to so much trouble? I thought you was a suicide, sure."
